SKIT AT PANTAGES BUILT AROUND PORTLAND WOMAN.

One Portland woman watched the opening performance of Howard McKent Barnes' remarkable play "The Little Shepherd of Bargain Row" in that office, which gladdened her.

Miss Padden plays with such success as the featured attraction at "Pantages" this evening.

Mr. Barnes met the girl in the East two seasons ago when she was employed as stenographer in a large business office.

The cheery disposition of the girl, her kindness to others, her mode of bringing warning people to real friendship amused Mr. Barnes to appreciate the value of the girl as the spirit for a stage story and "The Little Shepherd of Bargain Row" was the result.

Cupid played his hand and the stenographer is no longer radiating brightness in that office. She is the mistress of a home here in Portland and her husband is well known in business.

BUSINESS MEN DONATE TO FUND TO SEND MAN TO CHINA.

Mr. Todnem Among Speakers Who Tell of Importance of Associations Like Portland's Aiding New Work.

Fifty business men in 30 minutes yesterday contributed $800 at a luncheon in the Y. M. C. A. to the expense of Laurence Todnem, whom the Portland association is sending as a secretary to China.

W. A. Ladd, president of the association, presided; H. W. Stone, general secretary; R. E. Randall, religious secretary; Mr. Ladd and Mr. Todnem were among the speakers.

The prospects of international work in China and other foreign fields were discussed with a review of the work that the secretaries have accomplished in the last year, the new buildings erected, the young associations started and the prospects of the force now in the field for next year.

Speakers brought out that the Y. M. C. A. is progressing rapidly in its work in the Orient and that the international committee now plans to establish an association in every provincial capital of China. These new associations, it was mentioned, are being established rapidly through the empire and have the support of large masses of the population.

A number of trained men to handle the new work that the Y. M. C. A. is doing and the necessity of every large association like that of Portland to contribute men and money to the work in the foreign field was emphasized by several of the speakers.

Mr. and Mrs. Todnem will leave San Francisco July 3 for the Orient. Mr. Todnem will spend a year on the coast, studying the language, when he probably will be sent to an interior post. He has been a Portland secretary and recently was religious work director at Tacoma.

CONDITIONAL DECREE MADE

Supreme Court Orders Mr. Housman to Return Part of Award.

SALEM, Or., June 22.—(Special).—If J. H. Housman, of Portland, accepts the ruling of the Supreme Court today in his suit against J. H. Peterson, also of that city, he will require $600 as damages for wounds received in a fistfight as the result of a bet over the taming of a dog.

The higher tribunal, in an opinion by Justice Benson, conditionally affirms the decree of Circuit Judge Davis' court awarding to Housman $675 damages. The condition says that because of the question of the correctness of the court's instructions as to damages for medical attention, the $75 award for that service be remitted.

If that sum is remitted in 10 days the decree will stand as to the balance of the money, otherwise the decree will be reversed.

Housman sued for $2500 damages. Other opinions today were as follows: School District No. 3, Baker County, vs. J. H. Nether, appellant; appealed from Baker County; to quiet title to property; affirmed.

Milwaukee Mechanics' Insurance Company, appellant; vs. A. Ramsey et al.; appealed from Tillamook County; suit on insurance policy; affirmed.

Stacy vs. Fannie O'Donnell, appellant; appealed from Coos County; appellant charged with violating law prohibiting sale of liquor on Sunday; affirmed.

State vs. John M. McPherson et al., appellant; appealed from Crook County; larceny charged; affirmed.

Petitions for re-hearing were denied in Evans vs. Marvin, Nelson vs. Portland Gas & Coke Company and Dale vs. Marvin. Official opinion adhered to in Wolfers vs. Bechill.

Boost Club Wants Park Music. The regular meeting of the South-east Portland Boost Club will be held in the Library Hall at Milwaukee and Powell streets Friday evening at 8 o'clock. W. A. Hembler, secretary, announced the meeting was called to take up the movement to obtain music for Brooklyn Park.

Cornell Street Case Decided.

SALEM, Or., June 22.—(Special).—In an opinion by Justice Harris, the Supreme Court today affirmed a decree of the Multnomah Circuit Court favorable to the city in the case of W. L. Robertson et al. against Portland. The plaintiffs sought to restrain the city from paving Cornell street and levying special assessments for the improvement of streets. They contended that under the new charter there is no provision for levying special assessments or authorizing the improvement of streets. The court held that provisions of the old charter had been re-enacted through ordinance. "Instead of containing appropriate language permitting the legal voters or the Council to pass ordinances involved in this discussion the charter has, by the force of its own terms, enacted the ordinance," says the opinion.

Attorney Is Disbarred. SALEM, Or., June 22.—(Special).—The Supreme Court today entered an order disbarring A. M. Brunswick, of Portland, who is serving a penitentiary sentence for embezzling $62.85 belonging to a client, F. A. Conzolino. Brunswick did not contest the disbarment proceedings.

California Potatoes Sent Back. This is the first instance this year of infected potatoes from California being shipped into this state, though many carloads were condemned and burned during previous seasons.
