Gilmore Dobies defends the action of his putty manager, Younger, in abrogating Washington's football contract with Oregon "because the contract says for a date to be mutually agreed upon, and we do not now agree to play Oregon November 6."

Strangely, Manager Younger accepted this date at the Spokane schedule meeting last Fall and let the matter drift along all Winter without a mur-mur of objection. Younger, in fact, conferred with Manager Tiffany, of Oregon, as late as May 29 at the con-Oregon, as late as May 29 at the conference track meet at Corvailis, and said not one word about the date's not being satisfactory. Washington unquestionably intended to play the game until California came along last week and offered a contract for week and offered a contract for two game until California came along last week and offered a contract for two games.

Washington seems to be falling into the habits of a certain nation which characterized its treaties as "mere scraps of paper." Yet if there be any of that intangible substance, known as sportsmanship, in the wide, wide world one might naturally expect to find it in college athletics.

If we were asked for the explanation, same would be simple and straight to the point—a salmon streak up and down the back of one Gilmore Doble, adjacent to the spinal column and about as wide as the Alaskan inland passage.

For the first time in years Doble stands a 50-50 chance of getting unnercifully larruped by both the Oregon Aggies and Oregon.

Instead of showing his gameness, Doble is making a run for it. First he ducked the Oregon Aggies last Fall at achedule time and refused to book a game on any date offered under the same terms of the game last Fall at Albany. With Oregon he had a binding two-year contract. This he is now trying to dodge on the filmsy technicality that the date, November 6, is not agreeable to him. And yet technicality that the date, November 6, is not agreeable to him. And yet this date was set several months ago and not one whisper was heard from him all Winter while the colleges were cret. That Elliott is only temporary manager seems certain and the rumor that Del Howard is stated to boss the Oaks next season refuses to down.

Rowdy Elliott is a corking good little catcher, a great hitter, with lots of pepper and personality, and, if he possesses the executive ability, might put the Oaks back in the race. Elliott is a far better choice than Ness because Ness, while a clean, hard-working chap, has about as much personality as a Toke Point cyster. Elliott, on the other hand, is just such another character as Happy Hogan, if there can be a ringer for the inimitable Hap. He has Hap's quick wit and love of the dramatic, is of the same happy-go-lucky disposition, and not at all the "Rowdy" he was painted by the Southern League press agents when he came West two or three years age.

One thing is certain, however, Elliott or no other manager will ever That Elliott is only temporary

One thing is certain, however, Elliott or no other manager will ever make good at Oakland unless Frank J. Leavitt, president of the club, keeps his finger out of the ple.

> Best Hogs Sell at $7.75, Dime Under Former Quotation-Lambs Bring $7.

There was a moderate amount of business at the stockyards yesterday, with a good run for the day. The undertone of the market was inclined to be easy.

In the cattle division, sales were chiefly of odd lots. The best steers offered brought $6.50, and the quality of butcher stock was similar.

Monpier Takes Up Boxing Again.

Vincent Monpier, star 135-pound boxer for the Multnomah Club last season, again will enter the padded ring as an amateur under the club's colors this fall. 'Monty' announced during the Winter that he had retired from the fistic game, but as he has graduated from Jefferson High School, which was his parents' wish, he again intends to take up the manly art.

"Hop growing requires a degree of permanence; it is much easier destrayed than re-established. For this reason hop authorltles recommend the planting of beets, po tatoes, etc., between the hop rows and not the pulling up of the hop stalks. How far this advice has been heeded it is impossible to say. In the Spall district near Nurem-berg a considerable area of hop land is reported to be used exclusively for potatoes and grain. Last year's crop did not pay the expenses of its production and gathering. My own observation has not shown me that intermediate crops are being sown on hop fields. fields nor that hop growing in the vicinity of Nuremberg, except perhaps in some plantings in Spalt, is being reduced. New Moxico—Apple crop small, estimated at 200 cars, which is one-half of last year's crop.

California (Pajaro Valley)—Apple crop es-at 200 cars, which is one-hair of last year crop.

California (Pajaro Valley)—Apple crop estimated at 75 per cent of 1914 crop.

Cannds—Estimates for Nova Scotia indicate a crop of 2,000,000 barrels apples as compared with 800,000 for 1914. However, fruit is reported being backward somewhat by frosts, Conditions in Ontario and Quebec reported to be favorable. British Columbia on June 15 reported that the crop will run slightly less than last year, the estimated production for the coming season being from 1100 to 1200 cars.
