HAMPTON QUARTET. The coming of the Hampton Singers to the Heilig Theater this week has aroused unusual interest in the big school at Hampton Roads, Va. The chorus of mixed voices, trained at Hampton, is known from Coast to Coast as one of the best of its kind in America. The tour the Hampton Singers are making this Summer is no less unique in a way than that of the preceding Summer. They are the only singers of their kind invited to sing at the Panama-Pacific Exposition, where they have a two months' engagement in the Palace of Education. They are presenting a programme of the old plantation melodies and folklore music of the South, and will sing the old songs loved so well and heard so seldom. In addition, Hampton's latest feature film of Southern life is shown.
