Support of President in International Crisis Is Convincingly Demonstrated.

POLITICAL PARTIES UNITED

All Business Houses and Thousands of Residences Display National Colors and Organizations Hold Patriotic Meetings.

Portland showed its hand yesterday on the international situation. It came out strong with convincing evidence that its citizens are a unit behind President Wilson in whatever course he deems advisable in the present crisis. Portland will be loyal, whether it is peace or war.

The day was officially known as "Wilson day." It had nothing to do with politics. Republicans, Progressives and people of all other political convictions joined with the Democrats in victions joined with the Democrats in the demonstration. It was a demonstration in behalf of patriotism and loyalty to the Stars and Stripes.

Virtually every building in the city had decorations of flags. Some had flags and streamers suspended from windows. Others had special flag decorations and pictures of President Wilson on the lower floors; all had flags flying from flagpoles.

Residences Decorated, Too. Thousands of residences were deco-rated. Some had a single flag, while others were decorated with streamers and pictures of President Wilson, as well as flags. Thousands of citizens wore small American flags. Many au-tomobiles and wagons were decorated

The first feature of the celebration outside the decorations was the firing of a Presidential salute of 21 guns from of a Presidential saiute of 21 guns from the cruiser Boston at noon. Handled by a squad of the Oregon Naval Militia, the six-pound guns on the cruiser roared their salute at high noon, the racket echoing through the city. The salute was fired with military precision, just as though President Wilson were in the city.

The motion-picture theaters all observed the day by exhibiting patriotic pictures along with their regular films. Nearly every theater, displayed a flag or some patriotic scene. In several theaters special films showing President Wilson were run.

At noon the Progressive Business Men's Club held a luncheon at the Multnomah Hotel, at which a Wilson day programme was carried out. Short addresses were a feature of the pro-

Machine Collides With Motor Car

When his motorcycle collided with an automobile driven by A. F. Wheeler, Kirk Putnam, aged 29, of 371½ East Burnside street, sustained a fracture at the base of the skull and a broken nose at 12:50 P. M. yesterday. His condi-tion was reported at St. Vincent's Hos-pital to be sarlows tion was reported at St. Vincent's Hospital to be serious.

The accident happened at Union avenue and Monroe street. Wheeler, who lives at 551 Rodney avenue, was driving south on Union avenue. In his machine were Mrs. Wheeler, Dr. and Mrs. Humphreys, of Seattle, and Dr. M. A. Robison, of New York City. As he reached Monroe street he turned eastward. Putnam was speeding north on Union avenue on his motorcycle, and, as the automobile was turning, collided with it. A bent axle on the automobile and a scrapped motorcycle testified to the speed at which the motorcyclist was going. The automobile was not going fast, according to witnesses, as it was turning the corner. The col-

Puinam was flung to the curbing, striking on his head. The Ambulance Service Company rushed him to St. Vincent's Hospital and Dr. E. A. Sommer was called. The physician found a pos-sible concussion of the brain, as well as the fracture. Putnam is a member of the Pliedrivers', Bridge and Dock Carpenters' Union.

Back-to-the-Home" Slogan of Juvenile Court Judge.

CO-OPERATION IS SOUGHT

Understanding Between Parents and Teachers Desired and Attempt Will Be Made to Win Interest by Kindness.

"Back to the home" is the slogan of he new Juvenile Court Judge. Plans to make the Juvenile Court more efficient and to encourage a wider and systematized co-operation between the court and the schools were formulated yesterday at a meeting held in Library Hali. Superintendent Alderman

The first speaker was Judge Cleeton, who declared that he would appoint each school principal in the city an officer in the Juvenile Court. After many opinions had been ex-pressed, a committee to work out com-plete plans for co-operative work was

G. E. Jamison, Principals' Association, and A. R. Draper, Portland Educational Association. This committee will meet next Monday at 4 o'clock in Judge Cleeton's office.

Judge Cleeton Tells Plans.

Judge Cleeton explained how, with the help of the parent-teacher organizations, the work could be carried on so that the back-to-the-home movement would soon be well under way and the spirit of friendliness could prevail in all the efforts of the court, the teachers and all interested to lessen the number of cases of delinquency and trushed.

A scaled verdict was brought in yeserday by the jury which has been rearing the retrial in the damage suit Council of Jewish Women, who has had experience in Juvenile Court work. of A. C. Barclay against the O.-W. R. & N. Co. It will be opened this morn-

Judge McGinn, in charging the jury, said that the defendant company had admitted negligence. A trainwreck followed. The suit is based on injuries alleged to have been received by Mr.
Barclay in this wreck, October 29, 1913,
The railroad company denied that ciation will provide a system of home work and tasks for the children to keep them busy and out of mischief. Awards for good work will be made in the Fall, when an exhibition will be held.

The railroad company denied that Barclay had received the injuries in the wreck. The court charged the jury that it was their duty to determine the truth of this contention.

On the original trial Mr. Barclay received a verdlet for $15,000 damages.

On the original trial Mr. Barclay re-ceived a verdict for $15,000 damages. The railroad secured a new trial by bringing in new evidence alleging that was suffering from a congenital disability.

The introduction of this evidence
