

135 GRADUATE AT WASHINGTON HIGH

"Choose Always Way That Seems Best" Is Message of B. F. Irvine.

VICTOR DAUTOFF MEDALIST

Youth Gets Prize for Proficiency in German; Miss Marjorie Stearns Wins Oregon University Scholarship Valued at $250.

"Choose always the way that seems best, the right way, no matter how difficult it may be, and soon it will by association become the easiest." This was the message brought by B. F. Irvine in his address at the commencement exercises of Washington High School last night at the school auditorium.

In presenting to Victor Dautoff the medal given by the Federated German Speaking Societies for excellence in the German language, L. E. Schmidt, teacher of the language, said that the system employed at police headquarters in handling this case was very lax, as the coroner was unable to secure any evidence or desired information from the records or otherwise.

STRONG PLAY AT ORPHEUM

"Up From the Depths" Tells Story of Wrong Righted.

Paul Powell has made a splendid picture from the story, "Up From the Depths," which was written by Robert Hood and Charles Battell Loomis, and is being shown at the Orpheum until Sunday. Courtney Fooks plays the unscrupulous gambler, David, while Gladys Brockwell is cast as Daire Vincent, the unsophisticated girl he persuades to elope with him.

PEOPLES SHOWS MELODRAMA

"The Gambler's Advocate" Portrays Luxury and Poverty.

A charming picture of rare composition is "The Gambler's Advocate," at the Peoples' Theater, starring Hazel Dawn as Clarissa, around whom the plot is cleverly woven. James Kirkwood, whose last appearance on the screen was opposite Mary Pickford, in "Behind the Scenes," plays the role of Gambler who forces and wins.

GAME OFFICIALS NAMED

CARL SHOEMAKER, R. E. CLANTON AND H. L. KELLY CHOSEN.

C. F. Stone, I. N. Fleischner and Marion Jack to Investigate Suggestion That State Own Game Farms.

SALEM, Or., June 24.—(Special).—

At a meeting here today the State Fish and Game Commission appointed Carl Shoemaker, editor of the Oregonian, R. E. Clanton, editor of the Register, and H. L. Kelly, editor of the Oregonian, as its members.

The resignation of A. H. Lea as State Game Warden was accepted by Mr. Lea, who was appointed at recent meeting of the board, declined the place, friends announcing that he did not wish to relinquish his present position which pays a higher salary than that of game warden.

The meeting was behind closed doors and little information was given out by the commissioners at its close. However, it is known that Henry O'Malley, superintendent of Government fish hatcheries in this territory, was nominated for the superintendency of hatcheries. It was announced that Mr. O'Malley would not consider an offer unless there was a large increase in the salary, and Mr. Clanton, being recommended by virtually all owners of canneries and sportsmen, has had the support of a majority of the members of the commission for several days.

NEW PICTURES SHOWN

"GLASS HOUSES" AT NATIONAL TEACHES DANGER OF GOSSIP.

"Up From the Depths" Pleases Patrons at Orpheum—"The Gambler's Advocate" On at Peoples.

Besides the musical feature at the National an unusual four-reel picture "Glass Houses," is being shown. This drama is a strong play with a moral, as it shows the danger and price of gossip. The wife is jealous of her husband and her chum's husband is suspicious of his wife. By gradual increases in unfounded gossip, even the innocent little stenographer is involved in a hideous scandal.

The husband traces his wife to the beach, where he finds her talking to her friend's husband whom she has accidentally met. In a fit of insane jealousy he shoots his supposed rival, who tumbles to the edge of the rocks then lurches and plunges into the water, where he drowns. The play ends with the murderer in prison and all and directed.

POLICE ARE CRITICISED

Coroner's Jury Holds Methods in Accident Case Lax.

The police bureau was criticized by a coroner's jury last night for an alleged failure to supply Coroner Dammasch with data concerning the death of George Burns, a peddler, who was knocked down by a city automobile at Southeast and Corbett streets the night of June 10 and who died in St. Vincent's Hospital with a fractured skull on June 22. Coroner Dammasch had asserted that his deputies were unable to secure the name of the machine's driver from the police.

Emond Bert, driver of the automobile which knocked down Mr. Burns, was exonerated from blame by the jury. Louis Regula was in the automobile with Mr. Bert when the accident occurred. Both are employed in the municipal garage. They testified that they had taken Mr. Burns to the police station after the accident, and had given their names and addresses to the police.

Mr. Bert testified that Mr. Burns stepped out from behind a telephone post in front of the machine and was knocked down before the automobile could be stopped. The two agreed that their autom-
