Attorney Nash Is Accused by Opponent in Suit Against J. K. Lumber Company.

Sthlement Creates Sensation Frial Which Has Been Marked by Belligerent Demonstrations-Denial Is Made.

A sensation was created in Judge Kavannugh's court yesterday during the hearing of the suit of Parker Stenthe hearing of the suit of Parker Sten-nick, trustee in bankruptcy for E. H. Dodge properties, against F. A. Kribs, William N. Jones and the J. K. Lumber Company. Attorney Thomas Mannix said that Attorney William S. Nash, representing the defendants, had of-fered Mr. Dodge $25,000 in J. K. Lum-ber Company bonds to give testimony fewarship to their clients. Stennick is favorable to their clients. Stennick is suling to recover $614,000, which Mr. Kribs and Mr. Jones are alleged to have Obtained by fraud in a timber deal.

Out of court, Mr. Nash last night gave a signed statement in which he says: "The statement made in Judge Kavanaugh's court yesterday by Attorney Thomas Mannix, that I had offered Mr. Dodge $25,000 in bonds of the J. K. Lumber Company to give testimony favorable to the defendants, is false.
"It was made by Mr. Mannix for sensational purposes and is entirely without foundation in fact." Proof Declared Obtained.

Mr. Mannix made the following statement out of court: "I am absolutely prepared to prove by two witnesses that Mr. Nash made such a proposal to Mr. Dodge in the latter's office. He showed Mr. Dodge a telegram in the handwriting of Mr. Kribs which would handwriting of Mr. Kribs which would be sent to San Francisco parties in the event the proposition was accepted, in order to arrange the bond transfer."

Mr. Mannix also said that Mr. Nash first tried to get Mr. Dodge out for an automobile ride to discuss the matter. Acting on Mr. Mannix' advice, Mr. Dodge declined. The visit of Mr. Nash to Mr. Dodge's office followed. This occurred, he said, about two or three weeks ago. He added that he will prove this charge when Mr. Dodge goes on the stand.

Involving as it does more than $100.00 the case was hitterly contest.
