Sidelights and Satire

Gilmore Dobie defends the cancellation of the rootball game between Washington and Oregon on the ground that November 6 is too early. Some-time in July of the following year would suit the Seattle coach better, because his feet could be thawed out

Washington refuses to play the strong Oregon Aggies because the Aggies demand the same terms given Washington for the game last Fall played down here. Washington will not play Washington State because the latter demands that Washington go across the mountains for once in five years, instead of making Washington State play in Seattle. Washington will not play Idaho for the same reason; and now Washington will not play Oregon because Oregon will not either cancel its games with Multromph Ciub and with the with Multnomah Club and with the Oregon Aggies, or the only other alter-native, will not play Washington the week prior to the critical game with the Aggies.

What's wrong with the November 6 anyway? Half of the big games of the East and Middle West are played by that time. Washington has met the Oregon Aggles as early as October 30 in years past, and never one word of complaint. summing up all the evidence presented, it is as plain as Mount Hood on a sunny day that what Coach Dobie needs is a hot water bottle applied to that portion of the anatomy farthest removed from the swelling. Thousands Cheer Westerners.

From the time Stroke Maurer, of Stanford, drove his blade into the water Stanford was a factor in the struggle and as the prow of the carridge and shell crept up on the faltering Cornell oarsmen in the terrific drive at the finish thousands were shrieking and cheering the far-Western crew on. Syracuse, which had been fighting with Cornell for the lead, was unable to stand the terrific pace of the last mile. When the Stanford coxswain called for a last desperate effort from his giant crew, the cardinal boat swept easily by their Salt City rivals, but Coach Courtney's oarsmen were made of sterner stuff and though wobbling and exhausted had just enough strength to hold their lead until the finish line was passed.

VOU feel better, get more solid tobacco comfort from a small chew of "Right-Cut" than you ever did from a great big chew of the old kind.

It is cut a new way-so the taste comes even. After you use a pouch you will understand why men who use "Right-Cut" began telling their friends it is the only real tobacco chew.

Take a very small chew—less than one-quarter the old size. It will be more satisfying than a mouthful of ordinary tobacco. Just nibble on it until you find the strength chew that suits you. Tuck it away. Then let it rest. See how easily and evenly the real to the strength of the streng tobacco taste comes, how it satisfies without grinding, how much less you have to spit, how few chews you take to be tobacco satisfied. That's why it is The Real Tobacca Chew. That's why it costs less in the end. It is a ready chew, cut fine and short shred so that you won't have to grind on it with your teeth. Grinding on ordinary candied tobacco makes you spit too much.

The taste of pure, rich tobacco does no need to be covered up with molasses and orice. Notice how the salt brings out the rich tobacco taste in "Right-Cut." One small chew takes the place of two big chews of the old kind. WEYMAN-BRUTON COMPANY
