

SOCIETY NEWS

MRS. HAZEL BLUMAUER LITT was hostess yesterday at a smart luncheon at which she entertained a few friends in the Hotel Benson. Field flowers centered the table and corsage bouquets marked each place. Covers were laid for Miss Ruth Zelle, of San Francisco; Miss Evelyn Carey, Miss Violet Erskine, Miss Alisa Macmaster, Miss Katherine Hart, Miss Shanna Cumming, Miss Lesley Smith, Miss Elou Milla, Miss Barbara MacKenzie and Miss Jean Mackenzie.

The entertainment committee of the Final Frith Club, assisted by the women members of the club, will give a shirt-waist dancing party on Wednesday night in Final Frith Hall, Thirteenth and Mill streets.

Mrs. C. C. Merton, accompanied by her daughters, Lucile and Ethelwynne, left last week for Gearhart, where she will join her son, Clarence, who left a few days ago to open up the family cottage. They expect to remain at Gearhart till the middle of September.

A few days before her marriage to Dr. E. B. Wheat, Miss Hazel Cote was the charming inspiration for a dainty vanity shower given by Miss Sibyl Elliott. Cards were the diversions of the evening, honors falling to Miss Cote. The decorative scheme of the rooms was carried out in yellow, the table being especially artistic in coropias. The invited guests were: Miss Hazel Cote, Mrs. J. Pembroke Gault, Mrs. William S. Wade, Mrs. Sydney J. Benedict, Mrs. William G. Thrall, Mrs. Maude Giles, Mrs. Edward W. Thrall, Mrs. R. Perry Hackett, and the Misses Jane Elliott, Elizabeth Elliott, Emma Haug, Mary Mackin, Gladys Moore, Mary Hieb, Henrietta Fatland, Anna Peterson, Irene Pembroke and Anne Leon.

Miss Blanche Morrison, formerly of Walla Walla, and Cecil Westerberg were married at their future home on Saturday. After July 15 Mr. and Mrs. Westerberg will be at home to their friends at 1463 East Davis street.

Miss Marjorie Hall entertained last night at a dancing party at the John H. Hall residence on Lovejoy street. Miss Beatrice McIntosh was the honored guest. About 30 members of the younger smart set shared the pleasures of the evening.

At a beautiful church wedding last night in St. John's Episcopal Church, Miss Lillian Emaline Strahlman and John K. Eichenlaub were married. Rev. John D. Rice officiating. A large reception was held later at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Strahlman.

A pretty church wedding, the outcome of a college romance, was solemnized Sunday at 5 o'clock, when Miss Helen Corey Holbrook became the bride of Dr. Edmund Smith Conklin, head of the department of psychology of the University of Oregon. It was while Miss Holbrook was a student there that she met and was a pupil of Dr. Conklin. While psychology was being studied Cupid was busy with his arrows and the engagement of the couple was the result.

Yesterday's ceremony was solemnized in the First Congregational Church, with the Rev. C. C. Barick, of Central Methodist Episcopal Church officiating in the presence of several hundred friends. Preceding the bride and her father there entered in a party Miss Jessie Purdy, Miss Myrtle May Muir, Miss Zillah Huddleston, Miss Jessie Nottingham, Miss L. Mansella Fuller and the bride's mother, Mrs. Frank B. Holbrook. Miss Alice H. Damon, of Concord, Mass., followed with Addison Bennett. The bride entered to the strains of the wedding march played by Lucien Becker. She wore a smart blue cloth tailored suit embroidered in silver thread. Her hat was a becoming model to correspond with her bouquet of white and red diamond roses. Mrs. Holbrook wore a handsome black taffeta.

The ushers for the occasion were: Harold J. Warner, Robert McGowan, Gavin Dwyer, J. Clark Burgard, of Portland, and Adelbert Stannard, of Salem, all former students of Dr. Conklin. A reception and supper were held in the Westminster apartments. After a wedding trip, Dr. and Mrs. Conklin will be at home to their friends. The bride is a graduate of Allen Preparatory School. She attended St. Helen's Hall for two years and was graduated from the University of Oregon, where she made a brilliant record. She is a Kappa Kappa Gamma.

Dr. Conklin is a graduate of Clarke University. He is a member of an old established family of New Britain, Conn. Both the professor and his bride have many friends here. Mrs. Conklin resided in Portland until recently, when the Holbrooks bought a country place near Goble, where they have been established.

Mrs. Lillian Morgan entertained at a luncheon on May day at the Morgan residence, 722 Schuyler street, in honor of Mrs. E. MacLean, Jr., of Vancouver, B. C. Mrs. Morgan is a sister of Mrs. Thomas Conlon, of the Wickliffe apartments. The Morgan home was tastefully decorated in pink and lavender for the occasion and covers were laid for 10.

Several other luncheons will be given this week for the Vancouver visitor. Miss Abbie Wright left on Saturday for Berkeley, Cal., where she will attend Summer school. She is the guest of her sister, Mrs. Hattie Wright Stevens. Miss May Stevens, a niece of Miss Wright, known here, was graduated from the University of California in May, and has been appointed a member of the faculty of that university in the department of good health.

Miss Hazel Hoyt was one of the pretty June brides whose wedding took place on Thursday of last week, when she was united in marriage to F. C. Dugan, a former resident of Pendleton. The ceremony was solemnized in the attractive new bungalow of the young couple at Riley station. Miss Bessie Evans was maid of honor and Clarence Ulrich attended the bridegroom. Rev. A. Lewis, of Oak Grove, read the service. The bride wore a beautiful gown of embroidered chiffon over silk and carried a shower of bride roses. Miss Evans was attired in a modish gown of Dresden taffeta with touches of pale blue and pink in the trimming. She carried pink roses. Assisting in serving in the dining-room for the ceremony were Mrs. Claude Hale, Mrs. A. Saylor Wynkoop, Mrs. Elizabeth Hiatt and Miss Mae Hoyt. The decorations were most attractive. The dining-room was all in white and green, with a bow of orange blossoms and ferns arranged for the service. The dining-room was adorned with masses of pink and white flowers. The bridegroom was gracefully arranged. The bridegroom is well known in business circles and his bride is popular in her set. She was one of the maids of honor at Queen Thelma's court in the 1914 Rose Festival.

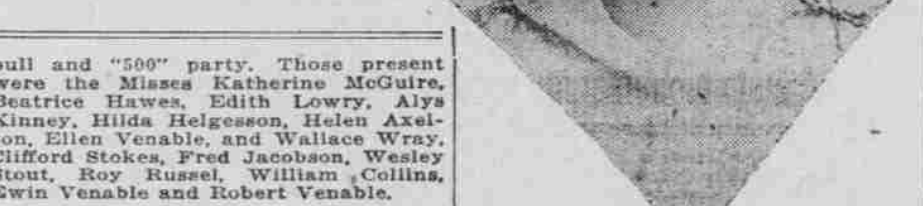

Mrs. G. Vaughan and daughter, Martha, of Rosnoke, Va., were the guests of Mrs. E. T. Hedlund last week, en route to California for the Summer. Mrs. Hedlund and little son left Saturday for Newport.

The girls of the "Bah Hek" cottage, at Long Beach, entertained a number of friends Tuesday evening at a candy pull and "500" party. Those present were the Misses Katherine McGuire, Beatrice Hawes, Edith Lowry, Alys Kinney, Hilda Helgeson, Helen Alexander, Ellen Venable, and Wallace Wray. Clifford Stokes, Fred Jacobson, Wesley Stout, Roy Russell, William Collins, Edwin Venable and Robert Venable.

Miss Merle Young became the bride of Charles Edgar Shearer at the home of the bride's aunt, Mrs. T. E. Maher, 21 East Salmon street, on Friday. Rev. C. O. McCulloch officiating. The bride was charming in a girlish frock of white net. Her veil was wreathed with orange blossoms and she carried an arm bouquet of bride roses. Miss Lucy Shearer acted as bridesmaid and Edwin Allen was best man.

The decorations were beautiful, a profusion of pink Rambler roses and ferns being used throughout the rooms. The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jonas Young, was a popular teacher in the public schools.

The young couple will spend several months in California, where Mr. Shearer has business interests.

En route from Pasadena, where they have spent the winter, Misses Loretta and Helen Stack are visiting their sister, Mrs. Walter M. Daly. They will remain here for a month before returning to their home in Escanaba, Mich.

Miss Florence Offer and Miss Hazel Offer, of Seattle, have been visiting Mrs. A. Rothschild for the month of June. They have been extensively entertained.

Mr. and Mrs. John H. Hall have returned from a visit to Walla Walla. Mr. Hall went on business. Mrs. Hall was entertained by friends at several social gatherings.

The Misses Jessie and Ruby Prosser left last night for a two months' trip throughout the East. They will be entertained by relatives and friends in Michigan.

Mrs. P. K. Taylor, of Shreveport, La., is the guest of her sister, Mrs. A. McLeod. Later she will make a trip through California, visiting San Francisco and San Diego.

A pretty wedding of the month was that of Miss Frances Catherine Langford, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Langford, of Dry Lake, Or., to Charles C. Lilly, which was solemnized on Wednesday in the Third Baptist Church, the Rev. W. J. Beavan officiating. Miss Mabel Downs sang an appropriate solo. The altar was decorated in white and pink blossoms. The bride was attractive in white mesh with Chantilly lace. Her veil was held in place by a wreath of orange blossoms and lilies of the valley. She carried a handsome shower of bride roses. Miss Estelle Mae Hall was maid of honor and Miss Mabel Gulovson bridesmaid. Both were gowned in pink and carried pink showers of bouquets.

Hugh Pruett and Willard L. Hayes attended the bridegroom. A reception was held after the ceremony, the guests being entertained at the bride's home, 1239 Kerby street. The rooms were elaborately decorated and the receiving party included the bride and bridegroom, Mrs. Langford, Mrs. Langford and George Langford. Assisting in the dining-room were the Misses Ellinore, Stella and Amy Gulovson. During the evening delightful music was provided by Miss Mae Downs, C. J. Hare, Mrs. Gertrude Sharpe, George Downs and Dr. W. Claude Adams.

WOMEN'S CLUBS

By EDITH KNIGHT HOLMES

MISS GRACE DE GRAFF, who spoke before the Portland Women's Club last Friday at the annual open meeting, will be the guest of honor at a luncheon to be given by the Oregon Federation on Saturday at the Hotel Benson. At the recent meeting of the Portland Women's Club Mrs. G. J. Frankel, the president, received a handsome bouquet from Mrs. Harry Chipman, chairman of the social committee, as a tribute of appreciation for Mrs. Frankel's splendid work. Mrs. Frankel named the following committee chairmen:

Calendar, Mrs. A. King Wilson; chautauqua, Mrs. Elizabeth Pettinger; civics, Mrs. J. M. Reeves; departments, Mrs. G. J. Frankel; education, Mrs. M. Blumauer; hall, Mrs. Anton Giesch; membership, Mrs. J. Francis Drake; Mrs. M. M. Puffing; philanthropy, Mrs. Robert Schmidt; press, Mrs. E. T. Taggart; legislature, Mrs. H. A. Moore; public health, Dr. Mary Louise Evans; publicity, Mrs. Frederick Taggart; resolutions, Mrs. F. C. Whitten; school beautifying, Mrs. G. O. Jefferson; visiting, Mrs. Jordan T. Brumfield.

The Past Matrons' Club of Sellwood Chapter, Order of the Eastern Star, was entertained by their first worthy matron, Mrs. Julia Opdyke, at her suburban home, near Taggart station, recently. A picnic lunch was arranged in the near-by woods. Those present were: Miss Julia Opdyke, Mrs. Neva Stone, Mrs. Harvey Fiske, Mrs. Burt Distro, Mrs. Beecher Higgins, Mrs. Charles Johnson and Miss Arlene Distro. The club will meet the third Tuesday of each month at the home of Mrs. Charles Johnson.

The joint picnic given by the New England and Massachusetts societies at the Oaks last Thursday was enjoyed by about 100 former residents of the New England states. Through the kindness of John P. Cordray, manager of the Oaks park, tables were ordered placed in the pavilion, under cover, for the picnic. Mrs. J. E. Robbins and Mrs. Dan Kellaher surprised the and pronounces it "the world's greatest piano"

It is to those who take music as a serious art that the Mason & Hamlin piano appeals. It represents a determined effort to fulfill every demand of the artist. If by putting a greater expenditure into it, it could be made a finer piano from the artist's standpoint, its makers would unhesitatingly do so, and increase its price accordingly. With them, price is the last consideration—not the first.

It is impossible to convey in words any idea of that most vital part of any musical instrument—its tone. Hence we do not ask you to look at the Mason & Hamlin Pianos—we ask you to HEAR them. They may be purchased on easy terms when so desired.
