HOSE who find the Waverley Country Club so delightful during the warm weather will be much in evidence there during the coming month. The usual Saturday night dances will be held throughout July. Monday next, July 5, there will be music during the afternoon. Tea will be served on the lawn back of the clubhouse and ladder golf will be played for trophies. This will be the club's day for the observance of the Fourth and a special dinner will be served. It is expected that several dinner parties will be held and that a large number of guests will remain for dancing. A number of the younger society maids and matrons will go to the club for an informal tea today.

This Saturday there will be a tennis tournament at 4 o'clock and D. Norris is chairman of the committee.

Mrs. Fletcher Linn will entertain with an informal tea tomorrow afternoon in honor of Miss Constance Bros, of Indianapolis.

Miss Bross, a Dana Hall girl, having graduated this year, and is both charming and talented as a writer of verse.

Miss Bross is the daughter of Ernest Bros, formerly managing editor of the Oregonian, now editor of the Indianapolis Star.

Portland friends of Mr. and Mrs. Melville Eastham, of Boston, will be delighted to welcome the couple to the city. They will arrive this morning and will be the guests of Mrs. Clara E. Foley, Mr. Eastham's mother, at her home on Kearney street. Mrs. Eastham was Miss Jessie Chase, formerly of this city.

A pretty church wedding of yesterday was that of Miss Harriet Milton Clinton, youngest daughter of Mrs. Ella J. Clinton, of Philadelphia. The young bride, who graduated a few days ago from Washington University, was attended by her two sisters, Misses Dorotha and Eleanor Clinton, and four of her intimate friends, the Misses Henrietta C. Felling, Gertrude Stone, Harriet Woodward and Mary Inman, all of whom wore dainty white organdie frocks and carried Dorothy Perkins roses.

The bride was gowned in white pussywillow taffeta, elaborated with hand-made lace. Her bouquet was of white jessamine and sweet peas, tied with chiffon ribbon bows. Rev. W. B. Hinson, pastor of the church, officiated by Rev. W. O. Forbes, of Seattle, officiated at the ceremony. Allen Dymon was best man and several hundred guests who attended were ushered by Joseph Barber, Linnton Davis, Osmon Royal, Alfred and Parker Jamison, Mrs. Warren Thomas, and the wedding march. The wedding took place at noon and in the afternoon a reception was held at the residence of the bride at East Davis street. Mrs. Clinton, gowned in a becoming blue costume, received with the bridal party. The home was decorated attractively with roses and ferns. Nearly all the members of the bride's fellow graduates attended to shower their good wishes. Telegrams and handsome gifts arrived in great numbers.

Later in the day, Mr. and Mrs. Fowler left for Chicago, where they will visit relatives and then will proceed for a tour of the Atlantic States and the South.

Music holds a favored place in the social calendar of the week. Last night a fashionable and appreciative audience attended Miss Constance Piper's recital at Carnegie hall. The musical society and society were well represented.

An event of universal interest to Portland people last night was the Kathleen Lawler concert at the Heilig Theater at 8:30 o'clock. The singer's successes abroad and in New York have been phenomenal in the five years that she has been working in Paris and New York. The concert is being given under the patronage of some of the prominent society matrons, including Mrs. Henry E. Jones, Mrs. Holt C. Wilson, Mrs. B. F. Irvine, Mrs. W. B. Ayer, Mrs. Helen Ladd Corbett, Mrs. L. A. Lewis, Miss Mary S. Failing and a host of others, all foremost among patrons of art and of the social life.

Among those who have taken boxes are: Mrs. W. B. Ayer, Mrs. B. F. Irvine, Mrs. Helen Ladd Corbett, Miss Failing and Adolpho Wolf.

A charming wedding took place Monday night at Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Hunt, when their daughter Myrtle became the bride of Robert C. McMillan.

The house was decorated attractively with flowers, a pink and white color scheme being used throughout. The ceremony was performed in a bower of sweet peas and roses artistically arranged in one corner of the large living-room. The spacious verandas were carpeted and furnished for the occasion.

The bride was lovely in a dress of white net over ivory. She wore a veil of tulle with orange blossoms and carried a bouquet of bride's roses and lilies of the valley.

The maid of honor, Miss Marie Benesky, was gowned beautifully in pink messaline and carried a bouquet of Cecil Bruner roses. Mrs. McMillan, brother of the bridegroom, was best man. The ring was carried by Katiebell Hunt, the fairy-like 2½-year-old niece of the bride.

Immediately preceding the ceremony Mrs. J. W. Sevier, Jr., sang "O Promise Me." The wedding march from "Lohengrin" was played by Mrs. J. W. Willis. She also played a soft accompaniment while the marriage service was being read by Rev. William H. Hodge. After the congratulations, a buffet luncheon was served. The rest of the evening was passed in viewing the many presents, which told of the esteem in which the young people are held by their friends. The wedding was made the occasion of a reunion of the families of the bride and bridegroom, every member of both families being present. Mr. and Mrs. McMillan left immediately for a honeymoon trip in Alaska. They will make their home in Portland.

Mr. McMillan is well known in business circles on the Pacific Coast. He is a traveling salesman for the George Lawrence Company.

Mrs. A. E. Hutchinson and son, Frank Hutchinson, will leave Portland to make their home in Salt Lake. Prior to establishing herself in her new abode, Mrs. Hutchinson will visit in Northern California.

Mrs. Harrison Gray Platt will entertain on Thursday for Mrs. William Estabrook Jones, of Boston.

A meeting of the Women's Society of the White Temple is called for today at 2 o'clock in the church parlor. A large attendance is requested.

Miss Lotta Ferry, one of the faculty members of Lincoln High School, left on Monday for California. She will visit the fair in San Francisco and will devote several weeks to sketching in the vicinity of Pacific Grove and Monterey.

The Sewing Society of Summer Relief Corps No. 21 will meet at the home of Mrs. Mildred Newell, 171 East Fortieth street, on Thursday.

Miss Rebecca Cook Ross was honored guest yesterday at a launch ride given by Mrs. Jack Marshall Yates and

CHARMING EASTERN MATRON WHO IS PASSING THE SUMMER IN PORTLAND.

Mrs. O. F. Paxton

Mrs. Frederick E. Vrooman, the "Happy Jack" conveyed the merry company of young people to the houseboat, where a luncheon was served.

The San Jose Commercial Club invited the foreign and domestic commissioners of the exposition and their assistants to an automobile ride through Santa Clara Valley with lunch at the Vendome Sunday. Representing Oregon were Mr. and Mrs. George M. Hyland, Miss Constance Hyland and Miss Crystal Hyland.

Mrs. O. F. Paxton, who resided here several years ago, is here for the summer and is sharing the pleasures of many of the social festivities of the season. For eight years Mrs. Paxton has made her home in New York, but she frequently comes West and always is showered with social honors. She is a charming woman and popular among a wide circle of friends.

A luncheon was given yesterday at the Fair in the Oregon building, honoring Mrs. Nourse, of the Idaho building, and Mrs. Thomas B. Kay, now a guest in the Oregon building.

Miss Kay, daughter of State Treasurer Kay, has been enjoying the social life of the Exposition City the past week. She attended the Swedish day ball in the California building and the Ohio state ball in the Ohio building.

The afternoon tea at the Waverley Country Club will attract many representative society maids and matrons today. Mrs. W. B. Ayer and Mrs. Edward Cookington will pour. The regular golf tournament will give added zest to the interest in the club.

A pretty home wedding that interested Oregon pioneers was that of Everett Frank Cullen and Miss Lydia Esther Gross, which was solemnized last Sunday at Hillsdale, at the home of the bridegroom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. Cullen.

The bridegroom is the grandson of Rev. John B. Cullen, of San Jose, Cal., an Oregon pioneer of 1847, and an Indian War veteran, a grand-nephew of Frank De Witt, of Portland, and of Mrs. James Harker, of Palo Alto, Cal., and a great-grandson both of Captain A. J. Hembree, who was killed in the Yakima war and of Mrs. Ottilie De Witt, who lived in Portland from her arrival in 1847 until her death some years ago at the age of 97 years.

The wedding was timed so that the service could be read by the bridegroom's grandfather, Mrs. W. B. Ayer and John B. Cullen when he came to attend the Oregon pioneers' reunion.

The bridegroom is an enterprising young business man, connected with the Honeyman, De Hart Hardware Company.

The bride is a charming young woman and a great favorite.

They are at home to their friends in their own cottage in Woodstock, and are being much congratulated upon having achieved so favorable a beginning in married life.

St. Rose Catholic Church was the scene of an interesting wedding yesterday.

WOMEN'S CLUBS BY EDITH KNIGHT HOLMES

Many Portland clubwomen will be interested in the Congress of Authors and Journalists that is now being held in San Francisco under the auspices of the Pacific Coast Women's Press Association, of which Miss Ina Coolbrith is president. Several Portlanders will attend some, if not all, of the sessions.

A Spanish-California fiesta opened the meeting on Monday in the Cuban building at the fair with General Enrique Loyzana del Castillo as host. Yesterday the congress met in the big civic auditorium. Among the subjects of interest to claim the attention will be the literature pertaining to the folk lore of the American Indian, Chinese and Japanese.

Among the speakers are Edwin Markham, Benjamin Ide Wheeler, in both of Columbia University, officiated. A nuptial mass, with elaborate musical setting, was solemnized. Contributing beautiful solos were Leo J. Conling, William Conlin and Miss Anna Matuschiner. Mrs. James H. McMenamin played a violin solo and Mrs. Florence Monk Schmitt presided at the organ. The bride was charming in her gown of white satin, made with ruffles of chiffon. She wore a long veil and carried a shower bouquet of white sweet peas and lilies of the valley. Mrs. Frank Collier, the attractive sister of the bride, was matron of honor. Her gown was a smart white satin creation with ruffles of pink net, edged with pink tulle. The bodice was of Chantilly lace embroidered in pearls. A pink picture hat and a shower bouquet of pink sweet peas completed the costume. John Hope, of Chicago, attended his brother, John McMahon, ushered Mrs. Katherine Conlin, mother of the bride, was attired in a gown of crepe de chine with trimming of lavender chiffon. She wore a black and white picture hat and a corsage of orchids. Mrs. Hope, mother of the bridegroom, wore blue silk, draped in melon colored chiffon. With this was worn a becoming white hat. A breakfast was held at the home of Mrs. Conlin after the church ceremony.

Miss Alice Babier captured the bridal bouquet and it was hinted that among the members of the party would be made, Mr. and Mrs. Hope will go to San Francisco to visit the fair and on their return will reside in Astoria.

Mr. and Mrs. O. P. Sand, of Funk, Neb., are houseguests this week at the home of Rev. J. Richard Olson, 150 West Nineteenth street. They are returning from an extensive tour of the South on which they visited the Panama-Pacific Exposition.

Miss Faye De Bois and Donald Chapman were married on Monday at 4:30 o'clock in their new home, Rev. Mr. J. Hembree, who was killed in the Yakima war and of Mrs. Ottilie De Witt, who lived in Portland from her arrival in 1847 until her death some years ago at the age of 97 years.

The wedding was timed so that the service could be read by the bridegroom's grandfather, Mrs. W. B. Ayer and John B. Cullen when he came to attend the Oregon pioneers' reunion.

Rubbish Left in Stove to Burn Spreads Flames.

Because Mrs. V. A. Stoffan burned rubbish in her kitchen stove and left the house for a few minutes while it was burning, two cottages at Sixty-seventh street and Sixty-seventh avenue, southeast, burned to the ground yesterday and four other houses in the same block had a narrow escape from a like fate. Though both houses were a few blocks outside the city limits, Engine Company #1 responded and fought the blaze.

The house in which Mrs. Stoffan lived was valued at $750 and the furnishings at $600. The other house was unoccupied and valued at a like amount.
