

TOURIST VANGUARD BEGINS TO ARRIVE

Hotel Men Are Pleased as Registration Approaches Mark Expected.

GUESTS LAUD HIGHWAYS

Columbia Route Declared Superior in Beauty of Scenery to Most Famous Road in World, the Cornish Drive.

BY ADDISON BENNETT.

About the happiest people in town at present are the proprietors of the leading hotels, judging from the "front" put on by the clerks. For a hotel clerk to smile is more rare than for an actor to shine. But there are various sorts of smiles known to the members of the hotel clerk's guild.

Laundry Convention Approaches.

Making the rounds yesterday and looking over the books of the Portland, Imperial, Oregon, Benson and the Multnomah, which was as far as I had the time to go, I found that beginning with today when a party of 50 North tourists arrives at the Multnomah, there are parties of from ten to 100 to arrive every day or two throughout July and August.

COUNCIL LIKELY TO ACT

Question to Be Discussed and City Attorney Probably Asked to Appear in Effort to Obtain Change of Order.

So far as I could see, the incoming guests are playing no great favorites as to hotels, the reservations are practically equally divided. That is, as well for Portland's capability as a host. The hotels mentioned at the beginning of this article would be no exception in any city of any size. Indeed, not long since I interviewed a globe-trotting guest who has stopped at all of the famous hotels of the world. He remained, with his wife, a week. He remarked to me as he was departing that he had received better and better accommodations in every way at the hotel he had stopped at here than at any other he ever registered at and at a far less cost than at many of the most mediocre of them.

Prominent Visitors Arrive.

That this is a cosmopolitan city can be proved any day by a glance at our hotel registers. For instance, yesterday at the Multnomah were Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Callahan and children, from New York. Mr. Callahan has for many years been the chief auditor of the Singer Sewing Machine Company. Now he is on his way to the Orient. He will sail from San Francisco on the Korea, July 5, direct for Yokohama. After touring China and Japan he will visit Manila for a short time, and then the work of his company there, where they sold 48,000 machines last year. Mr. Callahan will miss nothing in the way of sightseeing, for he takes his automobile along on the same steamer with him.

Eugene Party Notes Here.

Ford Steinway, with his wife, is stopping at the Multnomah. Mr. Steinway is a member of the great piano manufacturing house of Steinway & Company. He and Mrs. Steinway are taking a leisurely trip through the West for pleasure.

Dr. C. Eugene Riggs and Mrs. Riggs, of St. Paul, are at the Portland and yesterday went out over the Columbia Highway. J. S. Cletcher and wife are at the Multnomah. They are from Los Angeles and are making a tour of the Coast.

F. L. Chambers, of the First National Bank, Eugene, Or., with Mrs. Riggs, Miss Mary Riggs, Miss Elma Hendrickson and Mr. Cletcher, who are with Eugene, and Mr. and Mrs. F. R. Wetherbee, of Independence, are at the Imperial. They left Eugene June 22 in Mr. Chambers' seven-passenger car and came to Portland, thence down the Columbia to Goble, across to Kalama, thence to Tacoma, and thence to the new road to Mount Rainier, where they spent a day at the National Park Inn. They all speak highly of the new road to Mount Rainier and think it the finest view possible. But yesterday they went out as far as Multnomah Falls over the Columbia Highway and had to amend their decision.

Mr. Chambers is something of a globe trotter. He has driven over all of the famous highways of Italy and Switzerland and is conversant with what is spoken of as the finest highway in the world, the wonderful Cornish drive from Monte Carlo to Nice. Mr. Chambers declares that for scenic beauty the Columbia Highway far exceeds that and all other roads on the continent, and that in this highway Portland has an asset that will undoubtedly attract travel from all over the world.

TRADE BALANCE FALLING

Increased Imports, Reduced Exports, Account for Change.

WASHINGTON, June 29.—Exports for the week ended June 26 fell to $41,000,000 and the trade balance in favor of the United States dropped $10,000,000 to $9,000,000 for the week, the smallest of the month. The decrease in the balance, $2,000,000 was due to increased imports, and $8,000,000 to decreased exports.

Officials here have no detailed information regarding the decrease in exports, but the presumption is that it was due to reduced exports of wheat and cotton.

MIZZI HAJOS REGRETS SHE CAN'T GO HOME

Little Hungarian Actress Says Five of Her Cousins Are in Russian Prisons—Brother Drafted but Is Later Released From Service.

BY LEONE CASS BAER.

MIZZI HAJOS' real name is Mariska, but Mizzi is her pet name. She is the baby in a family of children. There's nine years' difference between her and her next sister. Mizzi is the diminutive for Mariska and it means kitten.

Speaking of Mizzi's name, it has a handle to it, a "De," if you please, right in front of the Hajos. But its owner has been in America five years and in that time has assimilated democracy enough to assert that her blue-blooded Hungarian ancestry never got her anything, so she forgets the "De."

It's a fortunate thing for her audience, this democracy. Mizzi is hard enough to pronounce, let alone De Hajos.

"I regret inability to see home. This is the first Summer I shall not see my dear mother and father," said the little Hungarian girl. She is only 22 and so small and sleek and smiling that the spirit of girlhood seems still upon her, despite her years as a star.

"There is no one like my family, no place like my country, no music like the music of my people; nowhere is the sun so golden, the hours so happy."

"When we spoke of the war her face saddened. 'Five of my men cousins are in Russian prisons,' she said, 'but thank God my brothers are not strong enough to fight. My oldest brother is 42, past the limit, and he was drafted, but he couldn't fight. Oh, I am so glad. I fear so for my people—they are not getting enough food, they are not getting enough sleep, they are not getting enough rest. Then a humorous thought struck Mizzi. 'It is the scarcity of flour that is appalling, but thank goodness my folk don't like bread.'"

"Spare Hours Spent at Wheel. Mizzi is going to drive a car and spends all her spare hours at the wheel. She has one pet, a slim little Chihuahua dog, all eyes and snarl, and we became enemies at first sight. So Mizzi's maid carried Bobby, as they call him, into another room. I can live all my life happily without a Chihuahua dog."

Mizzi says the role of Sari is the hardest working role she's ever had, but she absolutely defies an American girl to wear one an hour. Yes, I am suffering—but joyously and with profit for art's sake."

Art Demands Hard Work.

"Truly I am suffering for art's sake in this opera. Every night I burn my fingers on the hot spaghetti; that old loaf of bread I eat on festive days, oh, my dream! Well, if I hadn't been born a wee little girl I couldn't do it. I absolutely defy an American girl to wear one an hour. Yes, I am suffering—but joyously and with profit for art's sake."

erans here today, Vice-President Marshall asked whether the lessons of the European war were not sufficient warning to the United States for this country to adopt a different naval policy.

He asked if the great European conflict were demonstrating that a comparatively inexpensive submarine could destroy a $7,500,000 superdreadnought, should the people's money further be expended for superdreadnoughts?

Mr. Marshall said that the Navy of the United States at the present time is in the highest degree of efficiency in the history of the country.

The Vice-President made an appeal for the coming of the time "when we will submit all international problems to courts of justice, vested with powers to enforce their decrees." He declared that this country had any day to any European nation what type of government it should use.

"Unsanctioned National honor, unsanctioned National courts and an interest in political affairs" would result in bettering our own National existence, he said.

TEACHER IN FIST FIGHT

CLASH WITH EUGENE LAWYER IS DUE TO SUIT OVER RING.

Professor Bennett, Ex-Member of University Law School, and Mr. Hamilton Roll on Courthouse Lawn.

EUGENE, Or., June 29.—(Special.)—A diamond ring and a lawsuit this morning resulted in a physical clash between Professor R. C. Bennett, formerly of the University of Oregon Law School, and R. S. Hamilton, one of the leading exponents of the Eugene Lane County and member of the Eugene School Board. The two men had just come from the presence of Circuit Judge Frank Calkins. The encounter took place on the lawn in front of the courthouse.

Attorney Hamilton went to his office after the affair. His cheek was cut in the fray. Deputy Sheriff Thomas Bailey, who appears in the scene when the men were rolling about in the grass, accompanied Professor Bennett to the police station. No complaint was filed by either party.

The case of Seth Laraway vs. R. C. Bennett, in which Mr. Hamilton is attorney for the plaintiff, was at the time of the trouble. A diamond ring for which Mr. Bennett was to pay $400 is involved. Professor Bennett avers that the ring was not worth to exceed $275. About $175 of the total amount of the purchase price had been paid and Mr. Laraway, in bringing suit, tied up a sum of money on deposit in one of the Eugene banks belonging to Professor Bennett.

Professor Bennett charged that Mr. Hamilton was responsible for the hearing of the case being delayed.

NIGHTRIDER TRIAL IS ON

REPRIEVES OF 30 DAYS GRANTED TO ROSS BOYS.

Mrs. Ross Testifies to Recognition of Claude Vanderpool as One of Party Burning Cabin.

SOUTH BEND, Wash., June 29.—(Special.)—Claude Vanderpool, arrested as a result of alleged "night rider" charges, went to trial Monday before Judge Alston and a jury of six men and six women. Arson in the first degree is the charge against him. The case grows out of "night rider" troubles last January, when the cabin of Mrs. M. M. Ross and two sons was burned and victims deported. "Night rider" troubles have cost the county $5000 so far.

Earl and Frank Ross were locked up by Sheriff Bell last night, the Supreme Court having affirmed the lower court on an appeal from conviction in the Bradley assault case three months ago, growing out of "night rider" troubles. They were fined $20 and costs. Earl Ross had just left the witness stand when he was taken in charge by the Sheriff.

Governor Lister has sent a reprieve of 30 days to Earl and Frank Ross. They were released by the Sheriff.

Mrs. Ross, on the stand, admitted having visited the big daily newspaper offices of Seattle and Tacoma to disseminate "night rider" propaganda, whom she characterized as "untruthful." Mrs. Ross testified that she identified the defendant as one of the night rider band by his voice.

There are still living six descendants of Victor Hugo, two grandchildren and four great-grandchildren. The income from royalties on Hugo's works still amounts to $200,000 a year. It amounted to $200,000 in 1884.

ing it around. It has four all-linen petticoats and a ton of decorations. It is not an exaggeration of the style, and you can see Hungarian girls wearing dresses just like it on festive days. Only the unmarried girls wear them a bit longer than mine, and the young married women wear them still a little longer, but there's just as many ruffles as I wear, and sometimes more. "And they wobble their bodies around, too, just as I do in the open before I sit down, only, of course, I flop my skirts up the back, and they flop theirs to one side."

erans here today, Vice-President Marshall asked whether the lessons of the European war were not sufficient warning to the United States for this country to adopt a different naval policy.

He asked if the great European conflict were demonstrating that a comparatively inexpensive submarine could destroy a $7,500,000 superdreadnought, should the people's money further be expended for superdreadnoughts?

"Unsanctioned National honor, unsanctioned National courts and an interest in political affairs" would result in bettering our own National existence, he said.

SUIT FOR GIRL IS LOST

DENNIS O'CONNELL'S DOMESTIC TROUBLES AGAIN AILED.

Wife No. 3 Uses Testimony of Present Wife No. 4 in Fight to Keep Custody of Daughter.

Dennis O'Connell began suit yesterday in Judge Davis' court to regain control of his 10-year-old daughter from her mother, Julia O'Connell, his third and divorced wife.

After being divorced by his third wife, O'Connell married his present wife, Clara O'Connell. The grounds on which wife No. 3 received a decree reflected no credit on O'Connell. When she sued for additional alimony wife No. 4, who had also left O'Connell, helped with her testimony.

Wives Nos. 3 and 4 then lived together for a time. No. 4 sued for a divorce, but afterwards dismissed the suit. She rejoined her husband and informed him that she had been in-
