

NEW GAME WARDEN IN OFFICE TODAY

Administration Reorganization of Departments Completed by State Commission.

EDUCATIONAL POLICY DUE

Former Editor, Planning Trip Over State, Announces He Does Not Believe in "Mailed Fist" Methods in His Office.

Carl V. Shoemaker, of Roseburg, State Game Warden; H. L. Kelly, of Oregon City, Master Fish Warden; William L. Finley, of Portland, State Biologist, all with headquarters in the Pittock block, Portland, and R. E. Clanton, of Grants Pass, Superintendent of Hatcheries, with headquarters at Bonnevile.

That is how the official directory of the State Fish and Game Department reads today, since the reorganization of the administration of the departments, as worked out by the State Fish and Game Commission, went into effect yesterday.

As State Game Warden, Mr. Shoemaker succeeds Mr. Finley, who is now State Biologist. Mr. Kelly as Master Fish Warden succeeds Mr. Clanton, who becomes Superintendent of Hatcheries, State Biologist and Superintendent of Hatcheries, new offices created to promote greater administrative efficiency.

New Appointee Newspaperman. Carl V. Shoemaker, the new Game Warden, is a hardy young man of 33, full of enthusiasm for his work and with some definite ideas of policy.

Until yesterday he was editor and publisher of the Roseburg Evening News. Sportsmen from all over the state, and especially in the Willamette Valley, indorsed Mr. Shoemaker for the appointment as State Game Warden.

He is an enthusiastic hunter and angler himself, and ever since coming to Oregon four years ago has taken an active interest in game. Within the next ten days, after he has become familiar with the routine and duties of the main office in Portland, Mr. Shoemaker intends to start on a trip that will take him through Western, Southern and Eastern Oregon. He expects to go first down the Oregon coast, thence across the Coast Range Mountains to Medford, from there to Klamath Falls and Lakeview, and thence to Eastern Oregon. The trip will take at least two weeks and will enable him to study conditions relating to his department at first hand all over the state.

Educational Policy Adopted. "I am a believer in educational game protective methods rather than the 'mailed fist' policy of arrests and court proceedings, fines and hard feelings," said Mr. Shoemaker. "Of course, arrests must be made sometimes, but generally speaking the best results can be obtained by educating the people to the reasons for game protective laws. My policy as game warden will be to do as much educating and as little arresting as possible."

H. L. Kelly, the new master fish warden has had many years of experience in commercial fishing. As master fish warden his duties will consist for the most part of policing salmon fishing and issuing and enforcing commercial fishing and similar work, leaving Mr. Clanton free to handle all hatchery work.

Both Mr. Kelly and Mr. Shoemaker were greeted yesterday by several applicants for deputyships. Under the new law, the State Fish and Game Commission itself appoints all deputy game and fish wardens.

STATE MAY MOVE FARM

Removal of Birds From Corvallis Is Considered.

Members of the State Fish and Game Commission, it became known yesterday, are considering the advisability of removing the State Game Farm at Corvallis, Oregon, and pheasants and other game birds are raised each year for distribution through the city to various other localities on land owned by the state.

The present State Game Farm, comprising 30 acres, is not owned by the state. It is under a lease, which expires next Fall.

The new Commission has adopted the policy of having such properties as the State Game Farm, on which permanent improvements aggregating thousands of dollars are certain to be made in the course of time, owned by the state. Such a policy is regarded as certain to be cheaper and more satisfactory in the long run. Thus, for example, should there be disagreement over the terms of renewing a lease, the improvements already made would be lost if the lease were cancelled. Improvements on the present farm, installed under the present Commission, are valued at about $3000.

The committee has been instructed to see if the owners of the present farm will sell the land at a reasonable figure. The members will also look over available sites at Woodburn, Salem, Harrisburg, Albany, Eugene, Springfield and other Willamette Valley towns.

JITNEYS TO BE INSPECTED

Drivers Also to Be Examined by Mr. Gallup, Beginning Today.

Following the modification by Circuit Judge Gantenbein of the restraining order against the enforcement of the jitney ordinance to the extent of permitting the city to require inspection of the jitneys and the examination of drivers to determine the safety of the former and the ability of the latter, City Commissioner Daily arranged to enforce inspection and examination at once.

Jitney Inspector Gallup will commence this morning to check up on the cars and the drivers as fast as they report for inspection. The police will co-operate with Inspector Gallup.

Tags will be issued for display on the outside of each car, which has been inspected and approved. It is planned to force the inspection once a month.

Vacationists' Home Robbed.

The discovery was made yesterday by a neighbor that the home of R. C. Crowell, at 142 1/2 East Couch street, was ransacked last week by burglars, who ransacked the house. The contents of drawers and desks had been turned out on beds and everything of value was missing. The family is enjoying a vacation at Deer Island, Or., and the police have no information as to what articles were taken. The police have a description of two men seen hanging about the place Friday and Saturday.

A patent has been granted a New York inventor for a hollow umbrella.

NEW STATE GAME WARDEN AND NEW MASTER FISH WARDEN TAKE OFFICE.

MR. BAKER HAS AIDE

Roy W. Kessl Will Have Dual City Position.

NEW PLAN IS ADOPTED

Assistant Becomes Chief Clerk in Department and Post of Secretary Is Abandoned—Friends Greet Incoming Official.

Roy W. Kessl, for three months past an assistant to George L. Baker in various lines of activity, is to be Mr. Baker's aide during his term as City Commissioner. He will serve as chief clerk in the Department of Public Affairs.

Mr. Baker has abolished the position of private secretary and intends today to create in its place the position of chief clerk. An ordinance providing for the position and carrying the customary chief clerk salary of $145 a month will be before the City Council this morning. It will be Mr. Baker's first ordinance. Mr. Kessl took up his work yesterday.

Mr. Kessl came to Portland in 1905. For five years he was connected with the purchasing department of the O. W. R. & N. Company. For three years he was lumber buyer for the Union Pacific system. For a year he was manager of the wholesale department of the Graves Music Company. Prior to coming here he was connected with oil interests in Mexico.

During the last three months Mr. Kessl has been associated with Mr. Baker in a number of activities, including the Cello Canal celebration, the Rose Festival and Mr. Baker's campaign for election to the position of City Commissioner.

Mr. Baker took up his duties as Commissioner yesterday morning when W. L. Brewster left office. Mr. Brewster remained at home. He will rest for about ten days, after which he will go into the practice of law.

All day Mr. Baker was kept busy shaking hands with friends and acquaintances. During the morning he held a conference with officials of the Park Bureau and discussed plans for the future. He also conferred with heads and employees in other bureaus under his control.

In the afternoon Mr. Baker started the tedious task of wading into facts and figures regarding auditoriums. A

Roy W. Kessl, Chosen Assistant to City Commissioner Baker.

Commissioner of Public Affairs he will have charge of the construction of Portland's $600,000 building, which will be started probably within the present year. Mr. Baker has obtained information through the Municipal Reference Library from all parts of the country on the subject of city buildings and he expects to become familiar with the subject within a short while.

BUYERS' WEEK PLANNED

Third Annual Event to Be Arranged by Portland Wholesalers.

Portland is to have another buyers' week this year, the third annual one, when merchants from all parts of the Northwest will be invited here as guests of the Portland wholesalers.

A preliminary meeting to arrange plans will be held at the Chamber of Commerce at noon next Wednesday. The following committee of Portland wholesalers have charge of the preliminary work: A. A. Spencer, of Allen & Lewis; I. Lowengart, of Lowengart & Devers; George Lawrence, Jr., of the George Lawrence Company; O. W. Mielke, of the Blake-McFall Company; A. H. Fithian, of the Fithian-Barker Shoe Company; F. S. West, of the Goodyear Rubber Company; A. C. Black, of the Union West Company; S. C. Pier, of Marshall Wells Hardware Company; W. H. Beharrel, of Heywood Brothers; W. K. Wadfield, and Nathan Strauss, of Fleischner, Meyer & Company.

PORTLAND ELKS TO GO

GOOD REPRESENTATION TO ATTEND CONVENTION.

More Than Score Arrange to Be Present at Los Angeles Session—Eastern Lodgesmen to Visit Here.

Portland will be well represented at the annual Elks' convention at Los Angeles during the week beginning July 11.

More than a score of Portland Elks already have arranged to attend. Some of them will be accompanied by their wives. Dr. E. A. Marshall, past exalted ruler of the Portland lodge, will be the delegate at this year's Portland meetings. Among the other Portland members in attendance will be Andy Weinberger, M. J. Driscoll, J. F. Fransen, William I. Harris, E. P. Long, E. E. Peterson, Edward Diederich, J. P. Finley and several others.

Tuesday, July 20, has been designated as Elks' day at the World's Fair in San Francisco, and it is expected that thousands of visitors to the Los Angeles convention will be there.

Many Elks will come to Portland from Los Angeles and will be entertained by the Portland lodge. On Friday, July 23, the Portland lodge will have a banquet for the Elks from Boston and other New England States will be here for several hours.

James R. Nicholson, of Springfield, Mass., doubtless will be elected grand exalted ruler this year, and probably will be a member of the New England party when it comes to Portland. Mr. Nicholson served as grand exalted when the Elks convened in Portland three years ago and had charge of the big parade here.

Baltimore, Md., is seeking the 1916 convention.

NEGRO, BURNT, WALKS FAR

Willbridge Dwelling Believed Set on Fire by Enemies.

John Spillman, an aged negro of 79 years, walked from Willbridge to Linton and from there was brought to the Emergency Hospital early yesterday morning suffering from burns sustained in a fire believed to have been incendiary origin, which burned a roof from over his head. He was awakened about 1 o'clock to find his bed ablaze, and he seized a blanket and ran for the open. The blanket caught fire, however, and before he could throw it off he had been seriously burned.

Enemies of the old man are believed to have set fire to his modest dwelling near Willbridge. Spillman is a fisherman.

RETAIN FIREMEN, IS ASKED

St. Johns Petition Is Presented to Portland Council.

A petition signed by about 600 residents of St. Johns and vicinity was received by the City Council of Portland yesterday, asking that W. J. Mackie, E. F. Peterson and Wayne Hudson, firemen in the St. Johns service, be kept in their places when St. Johns becomes a part of Portland.
