Starting at the Multhomah Hotel at visitors and the hosts, the members of the Portland Realty Board, for a two-hour motor trip over the city. The ence that greated George Primrose, the hour motor trip over the city. The itinerary of the "site seeing" trip em-braced visits to the Nob Hill district, to the old Forestry Bulfding and jourto the old Forestry Building and jour-neys over Cornell and Westover roada, through Washington Park, over Port-land Heights and Terwilliger Boule-vard, over the Harriman bridge, through Irvington, Rose City Park and Laurelhurst and back over Hawthorne avenue to the bitel. of minstrels of assorted sizes and ex-cellent voices. George is as popular as ever and every bit as nimble-footed. Thunders of applause greeted his act. His assistants do some fine solo and ensemble work, and the quartet gives an imitation of a country band. This number is a great hit.

METHODIST PREACHERS TO PICNIC.— Methodist preachers and their families will plenic at Gladstone Chautauqua Park, Thursday, This will be a sort of Methodist Day on the old Chautau-qua grounds. Willamette University day has been postponed to July 17 to insure the presence of both ex-Presi-dent Hawley and President Doney, who will deliver the main addresses. Bors at CAMP ELECT.—Word from the Y. M. C. A. Boys' Camp at Spirit Lake yesterday reported that Paul Stone had been elected governor of the camp until the arrival of the second an imitation of a country band. This number is a great hit. A splendid musical treat is given by Cecilia Rhoda and George Crampton, who appear in a clever playlet entitled "Between the Reels." George has a magnificant baritone voice and his partnagnificent baritone voice and his partner is a brilliant dramatic soprano. There's just enough plot, pathos and humor to form the right setting for the duets and solos that are all gems. The couple are supposed to be oper-atic stars, in temporary hard luck, singing in a picture show. Their "Carworld, the cars were relayed back to the Portland Automobile Clubhouse on the banks of the Sandy River, where the cars were parked for nearly three hours while the entire party partook of a Chinook salmon dinner as the guests of the Portland Realty Roard.
