6000 VISITORS ARE EXPECTED
Portland Shriner Ready to Entertain Brethren on Friday.

An all-day search yesterday revealed two or three of half a dozen weary and disappointed Shriner fretting in their offices in Portland while their fellows were having the time of their gay young lives at Seattle.

The proverbial fine-tooth comb would reveal no more than a dozen few Shriner yesterday, and it is certain that at least 30 per cent of them would have been found making arrangements to leave for Seattle last night, as today is Portland day at the big conclave on the Sound.

Those who were not making arrangements for leaving yesterday were preparing to entertain the great army of Shriner who will be here later in the week on their way from Seattle to San Francisco.

It is estimated that more than 6000 of them will be here on Friday alone. Friday will be the big day, so far as Portland is concerned. It will be Shrine day in Portland like today is Portland day in Shrinedom.

Through the irony of fate W. J. Hoffmann, general chairman of the Portland entertainment committee, is so busy with his work of preparing for the big time here on Friday and Saturday that he is unable to get away to share in the Seattle entertainments.

He will be busy from now until Friday morning arranging for the reception to the visitors. The first big party will be here tomorrow night, and consists of about 400 members of Medinah Temple, of Chicago. They are traveling with two special trains and are carrying a band and a uniformed patrol. They will arrive over the O. W. R. & N. line at 7 o'clock and will leave over the Southern Pacific at 11 the same night.

Automobile rides through some of the best residence districts and a series of pictures at the Multnomah Hotel are the principal items of entertainment planned for them. S. C. Lancaster and Henry Berger will show their handsome colored photographic plates of the Columbia River Highway and will explain to the visitors the various scenes represented.

A committee headed by J. Fred Larson will greet the Chicagoans at the station and will escort them to the Multnomah Hotel, where they will have their headquarters. A big battery of automobiles will be required to accommodate all the visitors.

For the big invasion on Friday many unusual accommodations have been provided by the Portland committee. Sight-seeing automobiles and street-cars have been chartered to take parties of visitors on trips through the city. Stops will be made at the Forestry building and at Council Crest, where lecturers will explain the items of interest.

A meeting of all the committee chairmen who remain in the city will

WARRANTS GOOD AS TAXES

State Supreme Court Rules Klamath County Must Accept Own Paper.

SALEM, Or., July 13.—(Special.)—The Supreme Court today, in an opinion by Justice Harris, held that Klamath County must accept county warrants totaling $10,400 as part of the Southern Pacific Company's taxes for 1914. The warrants were issued in 1912 by the county because, in error, the Assessor had collected several thousand dollars too much in taxes on personality.

According to the complaint the company owed $173.95 taxes on personal property in 1912, but through error $17,454.99 was collected. When the mistake was discovered Klamath County had expended the money, and the authorities directed the issuance of warrants for all over $173.95. When the warrants were tendered at the payment for taxes for 1914 the County Treasurer would not accept them.

HUNTERS LOSE THEIR WAY

One Estacada Man Ill From Trip and Companion Hurt.

OREGON CITY, Or., July 13.—(Special.)—A Wiederhold is seriously ill at his home in Estacada, and R. M. Standish, editor of the Estacada Progress, is slightly injured as a result of a hunting trip taken by the latter and W. J. Ferguson on Wild Cat Mountain, near Estacada.

Standish and Ferguson left last Thursday on the trip and that night became lost on the mountain. While wandering through the thick underbrush and on the high mountainside, Standish was slightly hurt, although he was able to find his way out Friday.

Wiederhold was to have met Standish and Ferguson and take them back to Estacada, but on his way through George J. Wild Cat Mountain, his team ran away and he was thrown to the ground, sustaining serious injuries. Wiederhold was taken to Estacada.

At a largely attended meeting at the Roseburg Commercial Club today, the proposition was indorsed after being presented by Mr. Benson and the other members of the party.

As outlined by Mr. Benson, the plan contemplates the issue of bonds to the amount of $10,000,000, extending over a period of 25 years, the proceeds from the sale to be used to build permanent roads that are primarily state highways. Mr. Benson favored the appointment of a State Highway Commission of five members, three from Western Oregon and two from Eastern Oregon.

This commission, it is suggested, shall be entirely in charge of permanent state road work and shall employ an engineer of wide experience for the technical work.

Highway Condition Reported Good.
"The Pacific Highway, generally speaking, is in good condition for summer travel," declared Mr. Benson, "but there are numerous dangerous railway crossings that should be eliminated, as well as numerous heavy grades that need adjusting, that mean that the road must be relocated for distances before it is attempted to spend money to make it permanent, and there are places that demand resurfacing before the route can be put in condition for winter travel."

"To build and maintain roads is an impossible task for one county. State aid in some form must be forthcoming. To my mind, the bond issue presents the only solution to the problem."

Leslie Butler spoke in favor of the bond issue, and said he believed there is no one thing that can be done that will so greatly promote the state's prosperity.

J. H. Albert went into the bond proposition in some detail and pronounced it entirely practicable. He said the inability of the counties to increase their levies for road purposes makes it impossible for them to carry on this work at present in any other way.

Deputy Engineer Cantine assured the Roseburg people that the object of the state officials in making the trip is to learn the needs of this section and to aid in every possible way.

Responding on the part of Douglas County, County Court officials and prominent citizens declared themselves favorable to the bond issue for permanent state roads and declared they will take early steps to obtain a survey of a permanent Pacific Highway through the county.

Escorted along the Pacific Highway by County Judges and Commissioners of the counties through which they passed, S. Benson, J. H. Albert and Leslie Butler, members of the advisory board of the State Highway Commission, accompanied by E. I. Cantine, assistant state highway engineer, are meeting with a demand for state aid for roads through Western Oregon.

Mr. Benson at a meeting of Roseburg business men this afternoon laid the keynote to the situation by voicing the need for a state bond issue of $10,000,000 to build main trunk lines throughout Oregon, the interest and principal of the bonds to be paid from the current tax revenues of the state.

It is considered impossible, in view of the low tax levy for road purposes, to meet the demands of the various sections of the state, and the only way is predicted in the bond issue.

LAKEVIEW HUSBAND SHOTS MAN WHOM SPOUSE VISITS.
Retired Merchant Traffics Woman to Room, Finds Her on Another's Lap, It Is Said, and Uses Gun.

LAKEVIEW, Or., July 13.—(Special.)—J. R. Auten, a retired hardware man of this place, shot and killed Ray Curtis Monday night.

Mr. Auten had left the house a short time previously and had gone to the home of a neighbor, where Mr. Curtis was staying. Mr. Auten followed her and went into Mr. Curtis' room, where he is said to have found her seated on Mr. Curtis' lap. He fired at Mr. Curtis five times with a .44-caliber revolver. All five shots took effect in the right side, a little below the shoulder. Two of the bullets ranged down and out near the small of the back.

Mr. Auten surrendered himself to the Sheriff and is in the Lake County Jail. A coroner's inquest was held and the verdict was that Curtis came to his death by a gunshot wound inflicted by J. R. Auten.

The body is badly powder marked, even though Mr. Curtis was fully dressed at the time, and Mrs. Auten's arm is reported to have been severely burned by the flash from the gun, indicating that Mr. Auten fired at extremely close range.
