

HOW SOME OF THE VISITING SHRINERS CELEBRATED THEIR STAY IN PORTLAND YESTERDAY.

SHRINERS DESCEND ON CITY IN FORCE

All Kader Commandeers Every Available Car for Day to Entertain Guests.

SCENIC RIDES ATTRACT

Old Friends Hunted for Guests, Streetcars Chartered, and Delegations Piloted From Depots to Hotels by Portland Nobles.

They merely let them come as fast as they could and hauled them away in the waiting automobiles regardless of where they came from, to what temple they belonged or whether they were going.

One of the first organized groups to arrive was Ismailia Temple, of Buffalo, N. Y., about 175 strong. Thomas McCusker was chairman of the reception committee for Ismailia Temple. He took his task quite seriously and was at the station at 5 o'clock.

Shriners Hunted in Yards. The Ismailia train, it seemed, had been sidetracked far down in the freight yards so that the Ismailians might have a good chance to sleep. But the local committee thought it best to be on the safe side and sent out a car to get them to bed, and led by Noble McCusker, they stumbled over switch tracks, crawled under boxcars and dodged abouting freight engines until they had located the prodigal party. One by one they got the Buffalo people out of their cars and took them to the waiting automobiles to their hotels.

Acra Temple, of Richmond, Va., followed closely behind the Ismailia party, and then in fast succession came Bedouin of Muskogee, Midian of Wichita, Alhambra of Chattanooga, Aleppo of Boston, Syria of Pittsburg, Akdar of Tulsa and Mecca of New York City. After that it was impossible to keep track of them and the manner and method of their arrival.

4000 Are at Breakfast. By 8 o'clock more than 4000 persons had arrived. All of them wanted breakfast at the same time. The big dining rooms of the downtown hotels were filled and long lines of hungry Shriners remained out in the lobbies awaiting their turns to get in.

Then someone suggested that the cafeterias were open and doing business and the whole mob swooped down upon the "help-yourself" places. Within an hour everyone had been fed and were looking for the automobile rides. Members of Al Kader Temple had responded nobly to the call for automobiles, but for a few minutes the supply of machines promised to give out. When business men and automobile owners who are not Shriners learned of the situation many of them came promptly forward and offered the use of their cars. Mrs. Frederick Eggert, prominent clubwoman, sent her own automobile and her chauffeur and offered their use for the whole day. Her offer was gladly accepted.

Woman Drives Shriners About. Mrs. R. G. McMullen, wife of a prominent Portland Shriner, took the wheel of her five-passenger car and acted as chauffeur throughout the day. Her car was a popular one and she never was without a big load of joyous men and women.

H. C. Bowers was the lone representative here yesterday of Medina Temple, of Chicago. The main body of Medina went through here Thursday night, but Mr. Bowers remained here for a day's sport with his fellow nobles of Al Kader Temple.

Two girls had the time of their young lives were Misses Edna and Grace George—sisters who look so much alike that it is hard to tell one from the other. They came with their relatives, who are members of Midian Temple, of Wichita, Kan.

SHRINERS LEAVE FOR HOMES. Some Go to Alaska From Seattle Conclave, but Crowds to Fair.

SEATTLE, Wash., July 15.—Red feazes were not about the streets today, and their wearers, Nobles of the Mystic Shrine, drawn here by the annual convention, were generally bound for the railroad or steamship lines which are to continue their travels. They went east, north and south, but mostly south to the Panama-Pacific Exposition at San Francisco.

J. Putnam Stevens, imperial potentate, and William S. Brown, imperial treasurer, went to Alaska by way of Vancouver. A special excursion train carried many Shriners to Rainier National Park today, and others will go tomorrow, all returning tomorrow night.

Other temples which departed for the south today were: Beni Kedem, Charleston, W. Va.; Nemedia, of Parkersburg, W. Va.; Mair, of Wheeling, W. Va.; Elhir, of Cedar Rapids; Abou Ben Adhem, of Springfield, Mo.; and El Aiad, of Sioux Falls. El Zagal temple, of Fargo, N. D., will leave tomorrow noon. El Kadif temple band, of Spokane, played at the official grandstand tonight.

SHRINERS TRAVEL IS HEAVY. Southern Pacific Road Handles 22 Special Trainloads.

What railroad officials declare to be the largest special train movement for one group of people in the history of the West is now on over the Shasta route of the Southern Pacific continuing from July 15 to 21. Twenty-two specials will have carried approximately 5000 Shriners, hailing from every corner of the continent, to the Panama-Pacific Exposition at San Francisco. The first of the Shrine trains to leave Portland, Or., departed for California on July 15, bearing Islam Temple of

San Francisco. This special will arrive at San Francisco today. The other temples came, or will come, in trains in the following order: Medina, Chicago; Columbus Shrine, Columbus; Al Malakiah, Los Angeles; Lu Lu Temple, Philadelphia; Kansas City Shrine, Kansas; Caarara Atlanta; Alind, St. Louis; Ibrt Worth, Tex.; Almas Bouni, Kismet and Mecca, New York; Aleppo, Boston; Kozair, Louisville; Acra, Richmond, Va.; Syria, Pittsburg; Wichita, Wichita, Kan.; India, Oklahoma; Orak, Hammond, Ind.; Samailin, Buffalo; Alhambra, Nashville; Damascus, Rochester; El Jobel, Denver, and Alea, Savannah.

Each temple, or shrine, as the case may be, will have its own individual train, except the three New York temples, which will travel together. The trains carry from 150 to 200 Shriners each. Another heavy train movement will materialize the week of July 20, when the Southern Pacific will bring its special train parties of Elks to the California expositions.

AUTO DRIVER GOES TO JAIL. Other Members of Party Using Liquor Under Continued Sentence.

Pleading guilty to the charge of driving an automobile while intoxicated, Arthur Stevenson was sentenced to 24 hours in jail by Municipal Judge Stevenson yesterday.

The young man was chauffeur for a jitney party that ended an evening ride in St. Johns jail Monday night. The auto, driven by Stevenson and containing three passengers, bumped into the motorcycle of Patrolman A. L. Long, with the result that all were arrested. This was on Linnton road and the quartet were placed in St. Johns jail, the first use of the annexation of St. Johns to Portland.

Sentence was continued on the three passengers by Judge Stevenson, but the case of Stevenson was set over until yesterday.

MRS. ROUDEBUSH DEAD

WOMAN WHO CAME TO PORTLAND IN 1881 PASSES AWAY. Early Resident and Church Worker Succumbs to Paralytic Stroke. Three Children Survive.

For 30 years it has been a pastime of Mrs. Rachel Roubush, of Portland, to cut from The Oregonian death notices of pioneers. Mrs. Roubush died at her home, at 540 East Thirty-second street from a second stroke of paralysis, Thursday morning, 79 years old. The raising of her body and her another pastime of "Grandma" Roubush. Mrs. Roubush was active also in the church. In the late '80s and '90s in Portland and Chehalis, Wash. her home was a headquarters for journeying Baptist ministers. The first Baptist Church in Chehalis was organized at her home about 32 years ago. Her husband studied for the Baptist ministry at the University of Chicago, in the days when it was still a denominational institution, but was prevented by ill-health from taking a pastorate.

Mrs. Roubush was the eldest of nine children born in the same log cabin in Vermillion County, Illinois, to which her parents immigrated from Ohio in 1834. She was Rachel Ellen Davis, born October 10, 1835. She and Daniel Roubush married in Vermillion County, Ill., in 1860. Mrs. Roubush during the Civil War was in the service of the Adams Express, and as the war ended he came to California by the Nicaragua route, arriving in San Francisco with Mrs. Roubush just in time to hear the news of Lincoln's assassination.

They came to Portland in 1881, lived here until 1883, then moved to Chehalis, where Mr. Roubush died and she remained two years later. In 1885 the widow returned to Portland. George Shotwell Roubush, of San Francisco; Ira Powers, who has been one of the most active in the arrangements for entertaining the Shriners, for a while residing in Chehalis, was the guest instead of one of the hosts. Mr. Powers, who incidentally during the week has taken a few minutes off to attend to business matters at the Powers Furniture Store, had hardly settled at his desk, when one of the visiting Shriners, H. E. Stein, outer guard El Korah Temple, and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Smith; C. B. Callard, oriental guide El Korah Temple; L. G. Rosenberg; C. W. Wayland, past potentate and director El Korah; V. E. Oldson; G. H. Groffer, F. G. Brock; H. Hopf; D. S. Whithead, T. W. Noble, P. C. Marshall and C. F. Stamper.

The Kansas has four Shrine temples and each will have its Arab patrol and a big delegation of members in the Kansas festivities at the San Francisco fair on Monday, July 19. Governor Capper, of Kansas, will be there to address them. Abdullah patrol, of Leavenworth; Sir patrol, of Salina; Mirza patrol, of Pittsburg; and Midian patrol, of Wichita, will provide some fancy maneuvers.

One of the really distinguished visitors yesterday was Judge J. E. Wendorf, of Leavenworth, Kan., who has succeeded, in the last few weeks, in driving the "demon rum" out of the last remaining "dry" spot in Kansas. Despite the Kansas prohibition law, which has been in effect for more than 20 years, Leavenworth persisted in staying "wet." Then Judge Wendorf took office and in less than three weeks cleaned all saloons and other places out of Leavenworth. He looks like that kind of a judge who will not touch for no "monkey business," and it is presumed, from his appearance, that Leavenworth will stay "dry" at least as long as he is on the bench.

The peace and quiet of the City Hall was disturbed yesterday by the heart-rending strains of "How Dry I Am" by part of a brass band of Shriners. The band comprising half a dozen "feared" musicians started on the top floor and played all the way down stairs to the basement. City business was suspended temporarily.

Daniel Roubush, of Portland, and Mrs. William T. Forrest, of Portland, are surviving children.

STREET VACATION REFUSED. Council Waits Completion of Property Purchase by School Board.

The City Council yesterday refused to vacate portions of East Hoyt, East Thirteenth, East Fourteenth and Oregon streets in Holladay Addition until a deal now pending for the sale of five blocks in the addition to the School Board shall have been closed. Request for the vacation was made by the Anglo-Pacific Realty Company, which concerns declares that it has an agreement with the School Board to take the property provided the company gets a vacation of the streets.

The Council decided that when the deal is completed the streets will be vacated. It is held that the vacations would be permissible for school purposes, but not otherwise.

CHILDREN'S PICNIC SHORT. More Supplies Are Needed to Feast Youngsters on Outing.

The total returns in the sandwich department of the picnic which the Southern Pacific is to give for the children of various institutions of the city next Thursday give 1000 sandwiches already pledged, which is just half the amount the committee needs. About 25 leading Baptist ministers in Portland and vicinity are Rochester men, all of whom are anticipating the privilege of meeting their former distinguished theological teacher on this visit to the Coast.

Dr. Strong will be at the White Temple Sunday morning and will pass today and Monday viewing the scenic points of interest about Portland.

THREE HELD FOR PERJURY. Grand Jury Returns Several Other Indictments.

Three indictments for subornation of perjury were returned yesterday by the grand jury against William Rose, who was arrested a month ago by Patrolman Schmidtko for selling liquor on Sunday. Rose is charged with having urged three witnesses to testify in Municipal Court that the liquor was not sold.

Other indictments were returned as follows: Harry Fuller, alias Harry Thiller, larceny in a dwelling; Lester Satterwhite, statutory offense; Everett K. Ellis, contributing to the delinquency of a minor; Y. Nacklehima, assault with a dangerous weapon; Roy R. Nelson, non-support; Charles Boyer, larceny by bailee; James McIntosh, obtaining money by false pretenses.

GOVERNOR HAMMOND DUE. Minnesota Executive Will Arrive at Portland Monday.

Governor W. S. Hammond, of Minnesota, will be in Portland Monday morning on his way to San Francisco. He will reach here on the Great Northern at 8 o'clock. The Chamber of Commerce has wired him asking how long he will remain in the city and extending him an invitation to accept the hospitality of the Chamber while here. The Minnesota Society will co-operate with the Chamber in entertaining the visitor.

Alaska Catches Earlier and Larger. ASTORIA, Or., July 16.—(Special.)—A letter received yesterday by H. M. Lornisen from Chignik Bay, Alaska, under date of June 29, announces that the run of fish started there much earlier than usual. A large catch is being made and a good pack is expected.

COUNCIL REJECTS PLAN. Use of Mortgage Holders to Make Delinquents Pay Up Too Costly.

Use of mortgage holders in forcing property owners to pay up delinquent street and sewer assessments has been suggested to the City Council. The proposal was considered at the Council meeting yesterday, but was rejected as involving too much expense in looking up records. It was suggested that the city ascertain the names of all mortgage holders and notify them of delinquency in assessments on property held by them at security for loans. A part of the mortgages in nearly all cases requires the property owner to keep up all street and sewer assessments.

MR. CLAXTON TO TALK

Educational Commissioner Is Guest of Chamber.

RECEPTION AFTER LUNCH. Visitor Praises Western School Methods and Urges Increased Standard of Teaching to Prevent Wars.

United States Commissioner of Education, Dr. P. P. Claxton, who arrived in Portland late last night on an extended tour through the West, will address the Chamber of Commerce at luncheon at 12:30 today, and he will meet informally all persons interested in educational matters at the ladies' parlor in the Chamber of Commerce after lunch. He will also address the University Club this evening at a dinner to be given in his honor at about 6:45 P. M.

Dr. Claxton is, of course, first of all interested in the general progress of educational work in the United States. When asked as to conditions out here he has stated that, beyond giving the result of investigations in the official reports of the department, and answering inquiries to regularly organized local boards of education, he could not officially talk for publication on the subject, much as he should like to do so. "Speaking, however, in general terms," said Dr. Claxton, "my trips are to me a source of much useful information, giving much clearer insight into educational matters, and out in this Western country I find much reason to be pleased with the prevailing vigorous educational policies. Here, as elsewhere, the tendency is very much toward higher standards in secondary schools and colleges, and also as to standards of teachers."

Information Is for Boards. "We gladly co-operate and answer requests of educational boards for any information in possession of the Bureau of Education at Washington. We have there all the facts and figures gotten together from actual investigation, and it is the only reliable way of giving definite information on the subject."

In addition to the regular work connected with educational matters, Dr. Claxton believes in and works for the promotion of better international relations between the nations of the world in order to eliminate all possible disagreements leading to war with all of its dire consequences.

"The tendency to better international relations," said Dr. Claxton, "must come from a better understanding of international obligations and the real interests of mankind. This is achieved only by a greater education of the masses of the people which will give them the power to realize the whole meaning of such relations as will lead to permanent peace among nations."

Education Benefits Mankind. "Such an education will also give to all people the ability to make a good living, to understand the real value of wealth and the sacredness of human life; it will give to all ideas that would lift them above the petty jealousies, and put them in harmony with the things that unite mankind rather than those that divide the human family into hostile camps."

Dr. Claxton when he does not attend to official duties while on his tour usually endeavors to promote the universal peace movement, of which he is a strong advocate. His addresses in Portland are under the auspices of the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace, arranged for by William H. Galvani, secretary of the Oregon Peace Society.
