

LAUNDRYMEN GO AT BONNEVILLE PICNIC

Cowboy Prank Spreads Alarm as Woods Ring With Shots and Merry Yells.

WOMAN UMPIRES BALL PLAY

Western Team Defeats Easterners, 7 to 5, in Game Attended by 750 Delegates and Family Members—Election to Be Today.

All those laundrymen who struggled and sweated through two days of hot weather and hard work earlier in the week laid aside all business cares yesterday and enjoyed themselves in the cool atmosphere of Bonneville Park, where they were the guests of the Portland Laundrymen's Club in what was the banner social event of the convention.

This morning the laundrymen will meet at the Armory, elect officers and transact other routine business. That will conclude their programme in Portland, and tonight they will leave on a special train over the Southern Pacific for San Francisco to attend the Panama-Pacific Exposition.

It has been the most successful meeting in the history of the National Association, and yesterday's excursion and picnic were not the least successful of all the events that had gone before.

Western Ball Team Is Victor. A special train was operated out of the Union Station at 9 o'clock yesterday morning and more than 750 delegates and members of their families were on board.

Arrived at Bonneville, the entire party attended the baseball game in which East met West. The Eastern laundrymen were captained by George D. Hooper, of Salem, Mass., and the Western men by J. P. Lynch, of Seattle. The Western team won in five innings by a score of 7 to 5.

And this game, by the way, served to introduce the first woman umpire that ever has officiated in the Northwest. She is Mrs. A. Cohen, of Washington, D. C., one of the attendants at the convention. Her decisions on balls and strikes and on plays at the bases were unerring, say those who played. She assisted all the way through by "Rim" Rimbolet, of Seattle.

Cowboy Prank Alarms Picnickers. A brass band and a pair of Scotch bagpipe players and a quartet of musical entertainment. The band later in the day organized itself into an orchestra and the men and women danced for several hours on the amphitheatre maintained at the park for that purpose.

Along about noon a tempting lunch was served. Fresh salmon, newly caught, were baked barbecue fashion and served hot to all comers. There was more than enough to go around and plenty of "trimmings" besides.

The sport was at its height early in the afternoon, when a series of loud shots rang out from the woods at the edge of the park. Presently the entire company became alarmed by the appearance of six desperate-looking cowboys. They wore the regulation wide-brimmed hats, wool shirts, high-heeled shoes and chaps and carried six-shooters suspended from holsters at their belts. They fairly made the woods ring with their yells and their cannonading, and many of the visitors were making for the nearest passenger coaches and other places of safety.

Two Burned by Cartridges. But presently it was found that the cowboy shots were not doing any damage and that the cowboys themselves did not seem as desperate as they first appeared to be. Closer inspection revealed that the cowboys were none other than six of the laundrymen themselves in clever disguises. The leader of the band was "Jack" Robinson, of Pendleton, the associate were Newton Anderson, J. Schimmel, L. H. Sammons and "Doc" Dannels, of Portland, and D. C. Eaney, of Seattle.

However, their sport was the cause of two minor casualties. J. C. Stone, of St. Paul, and Frank McCullough, of Chicago, were injured by blank cartridges. They approached too near the "cowboys."

An amusing part of the programme was the "gambling" den conducted by A. A. Green. He was busy with his roulette wheel when the cowboy sextet swooped down and robbed him of $20,000 in "million" money.

Ball Held at Multnomah Hotel. This "million" money was the source and all their guests were liberally supplied with it. As the evening wore on, it had been carefully prepared by the Portland for the purpose, and all their guests were liberally supplied with it. As the evening wore on, it had been carefully prepared by the Portland for the purpose, and all their guests were liberally supplied with it.

Last night all the delegates and their families joined with the Portland laundrymen and their families at a ball at the Multnomah Hotel.

It is conceded that William F. Long, of Pittsburg, will be elected president of the association this morning. John Tall, of Portland, is expected to be named first vice-president. He has been one of the most active entertainers among the Portland laundrymen.

San Francisco will get the next convention. W. T. Williams, editor of the National Laundry Journal, and S. M. Dowst, manager of that publication, are attending the meetings. They declare that Portland has provided more pleasant entertainment than any city in which the laundrymen have met heretofore.

BOND CAMPAIGN CLOSING

Oregon City Voters Hear of Need for High School Addition.

OREGON CITY, Or., July 21.—(Special.)—The campaign for a $20,000 bond issue for an addition to the high school building here is drawing to a close under the direction of a committee appointed by President Sullivan, of the Commercial Club, and composed of C. Schaubel, J. H. Dimick, Roy B. Cox and Mrs. W. C. Green. The election will be held Saturday, the polls being open from 2 to 7 P. M.

A well-attended meeting was held tonight at Gurrin's Hall, in the Mountain View district. Judge Grant B. Dimick was the principal speaker. Overcrowded conditions led the board to ask for an addition to the school.

Quinaltuck Hatchery May Be Enlarged

ABERDEEN, Wash., July 21.—(Special.)—Plans to enlarge the Federal salmon hatchery at Quinaltuck Lake are being considered, according to L. J. Eszen, county game warden. The hatchery turns out but 4,000,000 salmon fry in a year. It is believed that the hatchery will be enlarged to at least a 10,000,000 capacity.

IOWANS HOLD FETE

State Society Reunion Brings 2500 to Laurelhurst Park.

PATRIOTIC SPEECHES MADE

Picnic Dinner Spread Under Trees and Variety of Amusements Offered After Band Concert With Prizes for Contests.

The Iowa Society of Oregon held its first reunion yesterday in Laurelhurst Park with an attendance of more than 2500 former residents of Iowa.

It was Iowa day and the gathering was notable from the fact that practically every county of Iowa was represented, and that a considerable number were veterans of the Civil War.

The morning was occupied by the gathering of members of the society. Early in the day registration of new members was started and at the close it was estimated by Secretary P. H. Kneeland that nearly 5000 had registered. After a picnic dinner and concert by McElroy's Band, President Cleland called the society to order and made the opening address.

He said that the object of the organization was to preserve the sacred memories of Iowa and to bring its former residents into touch with each other. Mr. Cleland commented on the greatness of the state of Iowa in point of material resources and in producing great men, and pointed out that it was a patriotic people, having sent into the union armies an average of one man out of every 10 of its population, which, he said, was a great showing.

"I am glad to see the enthusiasm manifested here today," said President Cleland, "and I believe this is the beginning of one of the great organizations of Oregon. It will become statewide in its scope, and believe it will outrank any other organization of the kind in the West."

Mr. Cleland then read a poem prepared by Kenneth Reed, full of poetic sentiment and reminiscences of Iowa, reciting the beauties of Iowa, closing by declaring Oregon is made richer by the wandering sons and daughters of Iowa.

Mayor Aibee welcomed the Iowa people to Laurelhurst, and expressed the hope that they would have a good time. James J. Crossley, vice-president, made a lively address, in which he urged every one to be loyal to Oregon, their adopted home.

"Iowa set the pace for patriotism during the Civil War," he declared, "and now I want to say before this audience that every young man between the ages of 18 and 25 in the United States ought to receive military training. Military training will harm no one and will benefit every young man who takes it. Such a training given for a certain period would place this country in a position to protect itself in case of necessity."

Military Sentiment Applauded.

This statement by Senator Crossley brought out hearty applause by the audience. A musical programme was rendered.

A contest for the oldest Iowa present was won by George Otto, who is 87 years old and has been a resident of Oregon for ten years. Levi W. Myers came second, with his age 85, and Charles Peltz third, being 85. A pipe was presented to Mr. Otto.

Mrs. C. K. Claggett won the prize for the biggest Iowa family. With her children on the platform, she made a family of eight, two being absent. She received two pounds of Oregon butter.

Mrs. Minerva Woodford won the prize for oldest woman from Iowa, her age being 81. She came to Oregon in 1858. Prizes for the youngest babies were awarded to Basil B. Smith and J. R. Port. The audience was afraid Mr. Cleland would drop the tiny babies, and cautioned him to handle them with care.

The mail-driving contest, which was held on the platform and witnessed by 2000 people, was won by C. K. Claggett, the mother of the biggest Iowa family. She won hands down, driving every nail to the head. Six women took part. The watermelon contest for boys was won by John Dewild, and for girls by Sofia Tuna, and caused no end of fun.

Celebration Lasts Into Night.

The races were won as follows: 50-yard dash for boys, Delbert Randall; 50-yard dash for girls, Frances Trout; race for married women, Mrs. Daisy Porter; for young women, Emily Tuna; fat man's race, E. O. Gaboris; potato race, R. E. Elser.

Most of the members of the society remained for the evening's program in the park. On the whole, the gathering was one of the most enjoyable held in the park. The society plans to hold frequent reunions. Every former resident of Iowa will be asked to become a member, the object being to procure a membership of 4000.

REVOLUTION SONS OFF

DELEGATES LEAVE ALMOST EN MASSE TO VISIT FAIR.

Day Full of Entertainment With Trips on Road and Up Columbia River Closes Session.

The delegates to the annual Congress of the Sons of the American Revolution, ending their meeting with a full day of entertainment in a road and river excursion up the Columbia yesterday, left practically en masse for San Francisco last night at 8:15.

The business sessions were closed on Tuesday so that yesterday could be devoted to the Columbia River Highway trip. The party went up to the village in automobiles and by train and made the trip back on the steamer Undine.

All of the formal expressions of delight over the entertainment given in the city had been embodied in proper resolutions and adopted with suitable seriousness at the closing session Tuesday, but when the crowd arrived back in Portland last night, every member seemed to feel called upon to contribute himself a committee of one and hunt up some member of the Portland committee and re-adopt the resolutions with a few amendments.

In San Francisco, the delegation will make its headquarters at the Palace Hotel, and Saturday will be designated especially as Sons of the American Revolution day at the Panama-Pacific Exposition.

VETERANS HAVE JOLLY DAY

A. J. Smith Post and Blackmar Circle Hold Annual Reunion.

Blackmar Circle of the Grand Army of the Republic and A. J. Smith Post held their annual reunion in Sellwood Park yesterday, about 200 members attending. The drum corps gave numbers in the forenoon, and a big dinner was served under the supervision of Mrs. Wines, Mrs. E. R. Elser, Mrs. Eva Woodworth, Mrs. Mary Whitman, Mrs. Mary Messing and Mrs. W. Louck, and nothing was lacking. Mrs. H. J. Handcock was chairman of the committee on programme.

In the afternoon races and dances were held, and the old soldiers danced the Virginia reel, even if their joints were a little rusty with age. W. R. Owens is commander of the post and Mrs. R. Banks is president of the Blackmar circle, which is the largest in the state.

CAR OF PRIZES GIVEN

TRAVELING MEN WILL PICNIC AT CRYSTAL LAKE AUGUST 7.

Associated Charities' Benefit Is Expected to Bring Fund Well Above $5000 Mark.

Crystal Lake on August 7 will be the mecca for all of the traveling men of the State of Oregon and of the Columbia River basin. The basket picnic will be held to raise money for the Associated Charities.

The affair is under the direct supervision of the two important societies with which the traveling men are affiliated, the Travelers' Protective Association and the United Commercial more than usually attractive because the larger wholesale and retail establishments have contributed a carload of prizes. There are hams by the dozens, flour by the barrel and everything from a razor strap to a wheelbarrow to be given away as prizes in the athletic contests.

Committees are selling tickets and the traveling men are making the prediction that they will be able to boost the donation toward the Associated Charities above the $5000 mark. With their usual characteristic liberality, the traveling men's committees are working with such energy that their efforts are likely to be materialized. Paul C. Morton, president of the Travelers' Protective Association, and Percy

Paul C. Morton, President Travelers' Protective Association for Oregon and Washington.

DR. HILLIS SUIT DROPPED

Arrangements Made by Chautauqua Lecturer to Meet Notes.

Formal dismissal of the suit by Brayton & Lawbaugh, Ltd., against Dr. Newell Dwight Hillis, Boston pastor and Chautauqua lecturer, was entered on the records in County Clerk Coffey's office yesterday. Dr. Hillis voluntarily assumed the debts of his two nephews and the dismissal was made after arrangements were made to meet notes for $15,000, which were due the plaintiff.

Dr. Hillis' present lecture tour was made primarily to obtain funds to meet these obligations.

Wenatchee to Give Apples at Fair.

COMMISSIONERS IN TILT

MR. BAKER CRITICIZES CONDUCT OF MR. DIECK'S DEPARTMENT. New Member of Council Declares He Has Right to Know What is Going On and Will Insist.

Commissioners Baker and Dieck had their usual weekly set-to yesterday at the regular meeting of the Council, when Commissioner Baker proceeded to tear into Mr. Dieck's department for having refused to give out information.

Mr. Baker said he was interested in a permit which was referred to Mr. Dieck regarding the removal of the electric street sign of the Orpheum from its present place to Broadway and Yamhill street. He had his chief clerk go to Mr. Dieck's private secretary and ask to know what Mr. Dieck had found out about the sign. "My representative was told that he could learn nothing of the action until it came before the Council," said Mr. Baker. "That sort of business doesn't go with me."

Commissioner Dieck said Mr. Baker was mistaken because the report on the sign was not completed until 9 o'clock yesterday morning, he said. "But," said Mr. Baker, "you might have let me know what the report would be. I'm entitled to know what's going on and I'm going to know in the future."

When the report did come in it was with the recommendation that the permit be disallowed because of the condition of the sign. The Council postponed action until tomorrow and will investigate in the meantime.

DON'T WORRY ABOUT THAT ITCHING RASH

Don't worry any more about that itching skin trouble. Just spread a little resinol ointment over the sick skin and the itching disappears as if you had simply wiped it away!

And— even more important— this soothing, healing ointment gets right to the source of the trouble and rarely fails to clear away every trace of the unsightly, tormenting eruption.

Doctors have prescribed resinol ointment for over twenty years, and thousands owe their clear, healthy skin to its use. It contains nothing that could injure or irritate the tenderest skin. Sold by all druggists. Sample free. Dept. 25-R, Resinol, Baltimore, Md.

What Thin Folks Should Do To Gain Weight

Physician's Advice for Thin, Underdeveloped Men and Women. Thousands of people suffer from excessive thinness, weak nerves and feeble stomachs who, having tried advertised health-treatments, the Council's dieting and rub-on creams, resign themselves to life-long skinniness and think nothing will make them fat. Yet their case is not hopeless. A recently discovered regenerative force makes fat grow after years of thinness, and is also unequalled for repairing the waste of substance and for strengthening the nerves. This remarkable discovery is called Bargaol, an strength-giving, fat-producing element of acknowledged merit have been combined in this peerless preparation, which is endorsed by eminent physicians and used by prominent people everywhere. It is absolutely harmless, inexpensive and efficient. A month's systematic use of Bargaol produces flesh and strength by converting waste of digestion and by supplying nutrients directly to the blood. Increased strength is obtained from the food eaten and the additional fact that this people need are provided. Lasting results are supplied Bargaol and say there is a large demand for it.

While this new preparation has given splendid results as a nerve-tonic and vitality-builder, it should not be used by nervous people unless they wish to gain at least ten pounds of flesh.—ADP.
