Hayward's Men Are Expected to Give Stiff Oposition in Far Western Meet, While Much Attention Is Not Paid to Others.

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA Berkeley, July 23. — (Special.) — T strengthen the Pacific Athletic Asso clation track team, which will contest in the Far Western meet at the Pana-ma - Pacific Exposition this month, Coach Frank Foster, of the Olympic Club, who has charge of the men in this district, has recruited the best ath-letes from the University of California Summer session and is conductive. Despite reports of weakened teams in the Northwest Association, as well as in the southern branch, Foster says his men have a hard tussle before them. He thinks bill Hayward's Northerners will offer stiff opposition ways. erners will offer stiff opposition, even without the services of such men as Windnagle, Kadderly and Johnson.

Ability of Kadderly Doubted. Windnagle, according to Foster, is se only point-winner the Northwest uses, as he cannot see where Kadderly could have figured against Cline, of Colorado, or Parker, of the Olympic Club, both of whom have been classed at 42-1 in the double furions.

Foster realizes that the Northerners, under the direction of Hayward, will probably be in the height of condition, while his own men are not in particularly good trim. Many must work dring the Summer and are unable to devote full time to training.

The peculiar condition under which Ed Stanton, the crack University of California sprinter, is working out gives the Northwest a chance to place better in the sprints. Stanton is a Southerner and has been forbidden to run by his family in any race where Negro Drew is a contestant. Drew now plans to limit himself to the century, but in case he also starts in the furlong, Stanton will be automatically barred from the meet, giving Stenstrom a chance to score,

Foster does not look for much oppo sition from associations other than the Northwest and Southern California. Utah and Colorado athletes have only a couple of prospective point-winners and have no chance in the team scor-
