LIQUOR TAX SUIT LIKELY

Washington Saloonmen Contend Only Half Fee Should Be Pald.

OLYMPIA, Wash., July 23.—(Special.) OLYMPIA, Wash., July 22.—(Special.)

—A test suit probably will be necessary to determine the right of the State Tax Commission to collect a full year's liquor license fee of $25 for the year beginning July 1. The Olympia Brewing Company contends that since the prohibition law becomes effective January 1, only $12.50 should be charged.

The Tax Commission some months ago obtained an opinion from the Attorney-General's office holding that the torney-General's office holding that the full year's fee should be collected, and some 1200 licenses already have been issued at this rate, about 100 licensees paying the $25 fee under protest.

BERRY GROWERS GET CASH

Forty Thousand Dollars Distributed in Puyallup and Sumner.

TACOMA, Wash. July 23.—(Special.)
—Forty thousand dollars was distributed among the Puyallup and Sumner fruitgrowers by their association today to meet wages of the berry-pickers for the last week. The money for red raspberries shipped fresh has been coming in recently at the rate of about $10,000 a day from the Eastern brokers.

A great many of the berries during the last few weeks have had to be turned into the cannery on account of the heavy rains which softened the fruit and also delayed picking until it was too ripe to ship.
