New Store Talks Number Sixteen

It will interest our patrons to know some of the details of the construction of our new building—an achievement that all Portland should be interested in.

For instance: There are 203 elevator door openings, which is more than any other three buildings in Portland combined. If all these elevator fronts were set in a straight line they would reach from Third to Tenth streets, and if the stair enclosures were added the line would reach from Third to Sixteenth street. The elevator doors are all hung on ball-bearing hangers, and the doors equipped with automatic door locks, making accidents practically impossible.

There are 34 flights of stairs, which, if placed one upon the other, would reach 920 feet, or almost as high as Council Crest.

The contractors who supplied the cold rolled steel mouldings tell us that they used 200,000 feet, or 37 miles. It is the same steel moulding as used in the Singer building in New York and other splendid structures, and is considered the best fire-proof and ornamental construction.

CONVENTION TO AID IDLE
Federal and State Officials to Discuss Unemployment Problem.

San Francisco will be the scene August 2 of a gigantic gathering of Federal officials and members of state, municipal and civic bodies of the United States having to do with the care of the unemployed, and J. H. Barbour, United States Immigration Inspector here, leaves Tuesday on the steamer Great Northern to be present. The main subject at the general conference will be the consideration of the distribution of employment, as taken up not long ago by the Department of Commerce in all sections and through which many have been given positions.

Immediately after that session, officials of the immigration service will meet and discuss matters bearing on their responsibilities. In turn will be taken up the administration of immigration laws, expulsion of aliens, control of land boundaries, securing uniformity of methods in legal procedure, prevention of smuggling by aliens and employment and district features of interest to the service.

TEACHERS HERE TODAY
Eastern Delegations of Tourists Reach Portland on Way to Fair.

A party of teachers from the East, led by Mrs. E. M. Cuthbert, of Toronto, will arrive in Portland from San Francisco this morning at 10 o'clock by special train. This train carries eight cars and the party is one of the largest of its kind that has visited Portland in this season of heavy tourist travel. One hundred and fifty tourists from Buffalo, under H. C. De Groat, were in Portland all day yesterday.

A Gillespie party of 125 from New

Wednesday members of the Columbia University Geographical Society will be here to study the Columbia Gorge.

$75,000 REALTY DEAL MADE
Umatilla Land Given as Part Payment on Chetopa Apartments.

One of the largest sales of Portland real estate made in recent weeks was closed yesterday when D. C. Brownell, of Umatilla, Or., purchased from W. E. Griffith, the five-story frame Chetopa Apartments and the five-story concrete Chetopa Annex Apartments, located on the southwest corner of Eighteenth and Flinders streets, for $100,000.

As $75,000 of the consideration, Mr. Brownell decided to Mr. Griffith 600 acres of irrigated land under the Brownell ditch located just east of the town of Umatilla. The tract has two miles frontage on the Columbia River.

Mr. Griffith has gone to Umatilla to take possession of his land and expects to engage in the hog and alfalfa business on a large scale. Mr. Brownell expects to come to Portland soon to reside and look after his property.
