FEDERAL EASTLAND INQUIRIES BEGUN

Secretary Redfield Conducts One-Grand Jury Charged by Judge Landis.

ACTION BY STATE WAITS

General Manager of Lessee Company Released on $20,000 Bond-4 More Bodies Recovered, Making Total of 834.

CHICAGO, July 29,-With William C. Redfield, Secretary of Commerce, in charge of one investigation and a Federal grand jury impaneled by Federal Judge Landis conducting another, interest today centered in the Federal for the capsizing of the steamer Eastland last Saturday, with the resultant loss of hundreds of lives.

The state investigation of the disasthe state investigation of the disaster was halted temporarily to await service of papers on six men charged by the Coroner with responsibility of the disaster. Of the six men held responsible by the Coroner's verdict, Walsonsible by the Coroner's verdict, Walsons by the Coroner'

Jury Examines Vessel. The jury today examined the East-land as it lay in the river while wreck-ers proceeded with the work of righting the ship.

Nothing to throw new light on the cause of the capsizing of the Eastland was developed before Secretary Redfield. Inspectors and others expressed the opinion that under-ballasting or improver manufacture of the water Nothing to throw new light on the cause of the capsizing of the Eastland was developed before Secretary Redfield. Inspectors and others expressed the opinion that under-ballasting or improper manipulating of the water ballast tanks had upset the vessel.

Robert Reid, of Grand Haven, Mich., the Federal inspector who granted the Eastland permission to increase its passengers from 2200 to 2500 on July 2, testified that the vessel had plenty of room for even more passengers and had complied with the law by providing the legal number of life preservers, boats and liferafts.

Vessel Has Carried 3000.

He had seen the vessel carry 2000 persons safely, he said; had inspected the ballast tanks, although not required to do so, and had no fear of the the ballast tanks, although not required to do so, and had no fear of the ship's sinking, his son-in-law, J. M. Erickson, being chief engineer of the craft. He said he never had received any favor from any officer or owner of the vessel.

The county grand jury did not make a report today. Walter C. Steele, of St. Joseph, Mich., secretary and treasurer of the Chicako-St. Joseph Steamship Company, previously arrested by the police, was arrested tonight by one of State Attorney Hoyne's detectives on a charge of criminal carelessness, although no warrant was issued.

Four more bodies were recovered from the river today, making a total of $34 found since the ship turned over. Quicklime bombs were used today in an attempt to force corpses from the bottom, but without success. The miss-ing list dwindled some 200 names to-day, and just how many more bodies there may be in the river is not known. Divers who have worked in and around the wreck for five days say that the nine bodies discovered during the last three days indicate that not many morare to be found.
