SEVENTH OPERATION PERFORMED.—Miss Nellie Shannon, 568 Tenino avenue, Sellwood, is in St. Vincent's Hospital undergoing her seventh surgical operation. The present operation was the amputation of her right leg above the knee. Miss Shannon's left leg was amputated last year. All the operations that she has undergone have taken place within the last two years. Miss Shannon is doing nicely and her friends have hopes for her complete recovery. Dr. Sternberg is the attending physician.

DISTINGUISHED PRESIDENT OF CLARK UNIVERSITY WHO THINKS WAR WILL QUENCH "FIRE OF HUMAN RACE"

The "fire of the human race" is in danger of being quenched by the war in Europe! Dr. G. Stanley Hall, noted psychologist and for the last 22 years the president of Clark University, Worcester, Mass., sees as one of the results of the war the almost total inability of the coming generation to transmit the "torch of heredity" to posterity.

PSYCHOLOGIST FEARS WAR MAY QUENCH FIRE OF RACE.

REASONS ARE EXPLAINED. Dr. G. Stanley Hall, Portland Visitor, Says Struggle is Making Nervous Wrecks of Soldiers and Reducing Births.

The "fire of the human race" is in danger of being quenched by the war in Europe! Dr. G. Stanley Hall, noted psychologist and for the last 22 years the president of Clark University, Worcester, Mass., sees as one of the results of the war the almost total inability of the coming generation to transmit the "torch of heredity" to posterity.

Dr. Hall was in Portland for a few hours yesterday on his way to Eugene where he will deliver a series of lectures before the Summer school session of the State University. "To me the biggest aspect of the war is one of the most vital," said Dr. Hall.

Strain Makes Nervous Wrecks. "The methods of fighting and the strain laid upon the soldiers cannot but wreck the nervous system, and since the nervous system is the most vital influence upon heredity, unless the belligerent nations soon come to an agreement the fire of the race will be extinguished."

War Held Greatest Tragedy. "I think the present war is the greatest tragedy of the world," he said. Woodrow Wilson was once a pupil of Dr. Hall when Dr. Hall was a professor of psychology at Johns Hopkins, and although the psychologist feels the greatest admiration for his former pupil, he thinks that the President has "not quite comprehended" the foreign policy of the United States.

Dr. Hall is a "nervous student" of the present European crisis and said he spent much time in studying the details of its underlying causes and its possible effects.

Dr. Hall will return to this city after his lectures in Eugene and will visit with his son, Dr. R. G. Hall, who has been in Portland for two years, and with his cousin, E. A. Beale, local weather forecaster.

MANY VISIT PORTLAND FROM 17,000 TO 20,000 TOURISTS COME DURING JULY. City More Talked of Even Than San Francisco in East, Says Manager of Company Arranging Tours.

On conservative estimate by the automobile touring companies operating in Portland between 17,000 and 20,000 tourists were in Portland during July. This number is aside from the casual community visitor and residents.

In July the Tyrrell cars handled more than 6000 tourists at the city of 4000 in transferring to and from hotels and in special parties and about 2000 who preferred touring cars for sightseeing.

The Terwilliger tours, it is estimated by E. E. Allen, of that company, has carried between 4000 and 5000 visitors during July.

TOURISTS MISS REGISTER Managers of Sightseeing Trips Want One in Forestry Building. "Why isn't there a register at the Forestry building?" the old Lewis and Clark "big grounds" is the query that is put to the managers of sight-seeing trips more than 100 times a day.

All the sight-seeing cars stop at the Forestry building and immediately all the tourists look for the register to discover who of their friends from their own town or state have been previous visitors.

The present enrollment at the Carlisle Indian School is approximately 1900. Sixty per cent of the boys are young men, practically all of whom receive an elementary school training.

SIGNS TO SHOW 6 MILES

HERULEAN FRAMEWORK BEING ERRECTED ON MEIER & FRANK STORE. Herculean type to be covered with hundreds of dollars' worth of gold leaf for brilliance.

Signs which can be read for a distance of six miles—the largest electric signs west of Chicago—are being put in place on top of the new Meier & Frank building and within a few weeks will emblazon the location of the modern new department store at Fifth, Alder and Morrison streets.

There are to be four signs mounted on the new building. Two will be erected 42 feet above the roof and will be in length each, one and a half feet in height, each on a steel framework in Herculean type "Meier & Frank Co." Two monograms "M. & F." will be erected, one at the south and the other at the north end of the building, with monogram letters being of the same dimensions as the larger signs.

Hundreds of dollars' worth of gold leaf, it was announced yesterday, will be used in covering the letters. This gold leaf will give a daylight brilliance and afford a telling background for the electric lighting effect at night.

OAKS MUSIC IS POPULAR

HAWAIIAN CONCERT AND SOLOS MEET FANCY OF AUDIENCE. Children to Be Admitted Free to Park Wednesday and Several Concessions to Open Gates.

Ten lively song numbers, a 45-minute Hawaiian concert and two finely rendered soprano solos rounded out the well-financed programme at the Oaks amusement park yesterday.

Principal attraction now centers on Wednesday, the first of a series of weekly entertainments for Portland children.

"A good representation of swimmers was found in the bathing pool, while skating and other sports at the Oaks drew much patronage."

Sermon Thoughts From Portland Churches.

IN HIS sermon on "Peace" yesterday, Rev. W. O. Shank, pastor of the East Side Baptist Church, said:

"There are three forms of peace advocated to the world today by three leading statesmen. Theodore Roosevelt says the way to have peace is to build up a strong defense."

"Dr. Loveland outlined the history of England's relations to America and of Germany's relations to both. He said: 'Professor Jones, of Glasgow University, and Professor Murray, of Oxford, both declare that Kitchener, with the help of the allies, must save the world from the infamous theories and the more infamous practices of the divine right of Kings, and might makes right and the glorification of war as a governmental policy.'"

BOUNTY IS PAID ON LYNX

Man Who Shot Animal in City Collects $2 for Hide. R. F. Van Kirk, who shot a lynx out of a tree in Laurelhurst Park, only half a block from the residence of Mayor Albee, Friday morning, appeared at County Clerk Coffey's office Saturday and collected a $2 bounty for the hide.

The animal was not a bobcat, as had been reported at first. It was a genuine lynx, measuring more than five feet from tip to tip. Not since January, 1914, has a lynx been killed in Multnomah County, and never before has one been shot in the heart of the city.

"Are you ready for work? Begin anywhere. There is plenty to do." "Do something for somebody, and thus get some blessing for yourself." Thus spoke Rev. Frank W. Gorman, pastor of the Methodist Church, yesterday.

"In our age and world we are not wanted. A successful life voyage is made, not by the waves of the mind, but by the strokes of the oars. The attribute that most impresses others, and commands fortune is earnestness. Earnestness and truth go together. Multitudes fall in life because they act as if they were only half persuaded of the truth."

and conformed to the divine pattern—Christ Jesus." At the Waverly Heights Congregational Church last night, the pastor, Rev. A. C. Moses, speaking on the subject, "Two Are Better Than One," said: "We are made for one another. Co-operation is the consummation of Christianity. The lonely man is a failure."

"There is partnership in successful business; consultation of physicians in serious cases; the joys, sorrows, hopes and fears of the home are mutually shared. Human society is organically organized on this principle. Democracy and civil government are founded on it."

"In the work of the church it is absolutely essential to recognize this fact. Jesus is in the midst of the two or three gathered together in his name. The brotherhood of man and the fatherhood of God rest in part on the principle that two are better than one."

"Your brother man needs you. You need your brother. Self-sacrifice for others is the best kind of personal liberty known. Living the life of faith, it is my duty and privilege to help my brother."

Rev. Father Black, of St. Francis Catholic Church, spoke yesterday on the "Publican and the Pharisee," drawing a parallel between their lives and that of the modern Christian.

"From all appearances the Pharisee was better than the usual person. He fasted, he was not an extortioner; he gave alms; he was not a sinner; he was an extortioner, a sinner of the worst kind, but he humbly raised his hands to heaven with his cry, 'Lord be merciful to me, a sinner,' and swept away all past crimes."

"The Pharisee nullified his good works by that great primal sin, pride. Pride caused Lucifer and his haughty host of angels to fall from their heavenly heights, pride caused the first sin, and it is pride that is responsible for the majority of our transgressions."

"That the system that gives birth to war was first suggested, was the thought suggested in Dr. Frank L. Loveland's sermon last night, when he spoke on 'The Mind of the Anglo-Saxon.' The First Methodist Church was packed."

"Dr. Loveland outlined the history of England's relations to America and of Germany's relations to both. He said: 'Professor Jones, of Glasgow University, and Professor Murray, of Oxford, both declare that Kitchener, with the help of the allies, must save the world from the infamous theories and the more infamous practices of the divine right of Kings, and might makes right and the glorification of war as a governmental policy.'"

"To crush Germany would not be sufficient—the system that gives birth to war must be destroyed, just as America exterminated slavery. Is her theory correct? Can it be done? Can England make good? America waits!"

"God never sends his children forth on an errand without equipment. If you fail, it is because of the failure properly to use the same."

"In our age and world we are not wanted. A successful life voyage is made, not by the waves of the mind, but by the strokes of the oars. The attribute that most impresses others, and commands fortune is earnestness. Earnestness and truth go together. Multitudes fall in life because they act as if they were only half persuaded of the truth."

The Safety Margin. In finance is one of close study by thoughtful people. In the regulation of every expense there should be a margin of safety beyond which none should go. One good way to accomplish this is a judicious curtailing of personal expenditures in order to create a regular fund for a savings bank account.
