

BIGGER GAME THAN WARSAW IS SOUGHT

Berlin Not Impatient and 'Decidedly Good Harvest' in Russia Is Forecast.

PART OF IVANGOROD TAKEN

Government Bank and Other Institutions Are Removed From Riga, on Baltic, and Populace Departs as Germans Approach.

LONDON, Aug. 4.—"No word of the Russian evacuation of Warsaw and Ivangorod has reached here," says a Berlin dispatch, "but members of the general staff betray no impatience over the operations and evidently have their expectations fixed on bigger game than the two fortresses. In fact they expect to capture a part of the Russian army. "Our operations are proceeding favorably and give promise of a decidedly good harvest," said one of the chief officers today.

The above communication was sent out from the German capital following a rumor in Amsterdam to the effect that the Russian legation there had announced that exhaustion of the ammunition supply had caused Warsaw to be evacuated.

Part of Ivangorod Captured.

The Austrian official statement says the western part of Ivangorod has been captured. The communication adds that the Russians have renewed their resistance between the Vistula and Bug.

Removal from Riga, second most important Russian Baltic seaport, of the state bank and government institutions has been ordered by the Russian government. A large German force within a few miles of that city, and the citizens are leaving in large numbers, taking the railroads.

North Wing Moves Up.

Advancement of the German lines in the Kovno region, north of Warsaw after desperate fighting, is announced by the German War Office. It is this operation that apparently is aimed at the Warsaw-Vladivostok railroads, with the view of cutting off the Russian retreat from the Polish capital.

A similar campaign is being carried out by General von Mackensen between Ivangorod and Warsaw, evidently with the idea of cutting the railroad from that city to Warsaw.

AUSTRIAN ARMY HEADQUARTERS, via London, Aug. 4.—News of the evacuation by the Russians of the fortresses of Warsaw and Ivangorod is expected here from hour to hour.

While general attention is concentrated on the intense Russian evacuation of Warsaw and the Vistula line, events of scarcely less importance are taking place on the southeastern front, namely the Austrian-Hungarian passage of the Bug River line and the advance against Vladimir-Volynsk and Kovel, in Volhynia.

They have just completed a long engagement at the San Francisco fair. While here they will make their headquarters at the Y. M. C. A. building.

The students will spend their time while here in visiting the various interesting and scenic points in and about the city. They will also study commercial and industrial conditions and practices, shipping, bridges, and the civic life.

The band was organized by the Young Australian League, the largest boys' league in Australia. The members are drawn from all the prominent schools of the country.

Lieutenant J. J. Simons, director of the party, will arrive in Portland Friday a day ahead of his party. He is scheduled to speak at the Jobbers' banquet Friday night, August 13, at the Chamber of Commerce. Lieutenant Simons is studying this country with a view to gaining a general idea of the possibilities of travel in his own country. He is from Perth, West Australia, and on his return will give a series of lectures on his findings as the result of his trip.

While here the young tourists will be entertained by the Chamber of Commerce. Mayor Abbe will also receive them officially and welcome them to the city.

From here they will go to Seattle and Tacoma, and then to Vancouver and Victoria, in British Columbia, and will visit the prominent cities in Eastern United States.

WAR TO BE DECLARED ON "FAKE AUCTION-HOUSES."

National Legislation on Subject to Be Sought—Colonel J. L. Shepherd to Make Principal Address.

War will be declared by the Oregon state jewelers at their annual convention in Portland today on the "fake auction-houses" that compete with the legitimate dealers in the trade.

Colonel John L. Shepherd, of New York, arrived in Portland last night to attend the convention and to outline plans for ridding the organized jewelers of the country of this sort of competition.

He says that legislation through Congress alone will do the trick. Legislation by the individual states will not suffice because the state laws generally are not uniform and the jewelry auction-houses will move from one state to another.

Colonel Shepherd, who is editor of the Keystone, the "official organ" of the jewelry trade, is on the program for a speech this afternoon. He is known sometimes as the "Billy Sunday of the jewelry business," and never has been known to call a spade an agricultural implement or by any other high-sounding title.

T. L. Combs, of Omaha, president of the National Association of Jewelers, who is in Portland and will be one of the principal speakers.

The third principal address of the day will be by William F. Woodward, of the firm of Woodward, Clarke & Co. of Portland. He will speak on proposed legislation that will protect the manufacturers of patented articles in the right to maintain a fixed price on their products.

Today's meetings will be held in the Chamber of Commerce building.

Diarrhoea Quickly Cured.

"About two years ago I had a severe attack of diarrhoea which lasted over a week," writes W. C. Jones, Buford, N. D. "I became so weak that I could not stand upright. A druggist recommended Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. The first dose relieved me and within two days I was as well as ever."

Great throngs crowded the banks of the ravine throughout the day. These extended from Twenty-sixth street near State street, where the flood started, down to the bay, a mile below, where it spent its fury in Lake Erie. They say there were many freaks of nature. Automobiles were resting on tree tops, apparently undamaged; one house was found cast upon the hillside with a wall of the dining-room missing near State street, where the table undisturbed.

The power of the water's on-rush, with its mass of floating logs and debris ahead, was perhaps best shown where heavy stone culverts many feet high were carried a whole city block down the ravine.

The local company of the Sixteenth Infantry was brought to the scene today to help the police and firemen who were working in the debris, assisted by civilian volunteer corps. Twenty

PASTOR ON STAGE MAY LOSE PULPIT

Deacons of Church Divide on Question as to Whether They Indorse Action.

Women Members Say Board Sanctioned Engagement at Empress Theater—Men Make Denial in Public Statement.

The Rev. Frank W. Gorman, pastor of Atkinson Memorial Congregational Church, who is known as "the singing parson" and who last Monday began an engagement at the Empress Theater to make additional money to enable him to pay off some financial obligations, may lose his pastorate as a result of the adventure.

Three deacons of the church have issued a signed statement saying the pastor's action was not sanctioned. Two other deacons, women, through one of them, say the action was sanctioned.

The three deacons who frowned on Rev. Mr. Gorman's vaudeville engagement are Charles W. Gibbs, W. B. Bethune and O. Holowell.

The two other deacons who were not consulted when the statement by the other three was issued are Mrs. W. I. Wheaton and Mrs. G. W. Reynolds.

Rev. Mr. Gorman said he had the sanction of the prudential committee, which has been erroneously referred to as the superintending committee of the church, which includes the board of deacons and the advisory board, but the three who signed the protest say they did not indorse the engagement, although they did not protest it at the time it came up. The two women members of the board of deacons say the sanction was quite complete.

Sanction Given, Says Pastor.

Rev. Mr. Gorman yesterday explained that his engagement on the Empress stage this week, singing sacred and favorite semi-sacred songs, came almost providentially—in answer to a prayer—for some means of discharging obligations which had accrued while he has been taking care of his aging parents.

The statement signed by the three deacons is as follows:

"Owing to the fact that there has been so much publicity given for advertising purposes to the statement that Rev. Mr. Gorman, pastor of the Atkinson Memorial Congregational Church, has the sanction of the 'superintending committee' of the church (a committee which does not exist and of which we know nothing) to enter into a contract to appear in vaudeville in a local theater, and as there has been approval given by the church or any committee, we, the deacons of the church, feel that injustice has been done to our church and to all other churches of this city, and that this statement should be corrected."

Indorsement is Denied.

Charles W. Gibbs said yesterday: "Mr. Gorman's engagement has aroused a lot of criticism of our church. We did not indorse the plan, and our object of making the statement was to put it right in the eyes of the public."

Asked if a report that the protest was a first step that might lead to the removal of Mr. Gorman from the pastorate, Mr. Gibbs answered, "It might."

Rev. Mr. Wheaton said yesterday: "I told the prudential committee that I had financial obligations to meet and that I would like to sing at the Empress to help pay these debts which I have accrued in helping to care for my mother. Mr. Gibbs said: 'That is all right, if we can tell them that.'"

"There has been no criticism I have heard; the congregation is not opposed to the engagement under the circumstances," Mr. Reynolds said yesterday. "I do not think that he will be asked to resign, certainly not until the full sanction was given Mr. Gorman."

It is possible the matter will come up at a church meeting tonight.
