HAYWARD SAVING MEN FOR BIG MEET

Only 3 Pacific Northwest Athletes Entered for Junior Events Today.

RECORDS EXPECTED TO GO

Grant, Hummel and Fee Alone to Take Part, Others Holding Selves for Senior Championships at San Francisco Tomorrow.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Aug. 5 .- (Spe cial.)-Although the junior National track and field championships sched-uled for the exposition track tomorrow afternoon will not compare in point of attractiveness with Saturday's senior titles, still there is enough rivalry for places to make it above the average meet. Present indications are that the Pacific Coast contingent is in line to lift most of the prises.

Junior records are expected to be famous contestants to break records. Talk is under way that should tomorrow or Saturday afternoon be too windy, a special 440-yard straightaway race will be held some morning, so that if a record is established by Ted Meredith or any of the other boys it will be accepted without any doubt. But three athletes will represent the Pacific Northwest Association in the junior meet tomorrow, and all are Multnomah Club representatives. Dick Grant will handle the 220-yard dash Multnomah Club representatives. Dick Grant will handle the 220-yard dash end of it. Waiter Hummel the low hurdles, and Chester Fee the Javelin. Coach Hayward may enter Fee in the pole want too. Manager Hawkins has placed all his men in the senior events on the following day.

Following are the entries in the junior National track and field championships scheduled for the exposition track tomorrow afternoon:

100-yard run—D. Knight, J. W. Breathed.

Brief Bits of Baseball.

Shorision Ward, of the Tacoma club, for whom Walter McCredie has announced a draft liking, is batting ,281 and has stolen 10 bases. This doesn't appear much like championship form, although the kid is big and young yet and may develop. Ward doesn't belong to Tacoma, however.

When the Aberdeen players were sprinkled throughout the league Manager Barnes was promised protection on his player deals. Ward was one of the ex-Aberdeen surs, and if Ward is sold or drafted the money will go to the Aberdeen management. The fleider in the Northwestern League that is been spotted for Mac is Frank Guigni, of former Portland Colt. Guigni broke his kie opening day, and Spokane later turned in over to Seattle when Murphy was uight from Portland for third plate. Guigni hitting 13th for the record-breaking Seatouthit, which has just finished up a not is straight wins and 26 wins in 27 mes. Guigni was a little slow in his thinker apparatus, but he always could hit, and has an arm of steel.

Muggsy McGraw expects to make an out-fielder out of George Kelly, the ex-Victoria first baseman. Snodgrass is hitting so poorly this year that almost any busher would strengthen the Giant outerworks. Kelly stands about 6 feet 4 inches, and if Scout Kinsella bought him on the hoof it must have cost the New York club a small fortune. Kelly was hitting 207 when he left the Victoria club a few weeks ago to hike East.

W. W. Metrger, business manager of the Portland Baseball Club, is due home today or tomorrow from an automobile trip to the San Francisco exposition. Mr. Metrger took his family with him and made numerous side trips, among them Craten Lake and Dogwood Canyon.

Bobby Davis says he is ready to step into his old job at short for the Portland Beavers. Robert twisted his knee a month ago sliding into the home plate in one of the Coakland games, and his absence from the lineup has greatly weakened the team. For a month prior to his injury Bobby was hitting close to a 200 clip. "I have been working out every day at the ball park," said he yesterday. "My knee is not a bit stiff now, and I am fit as a fiddle."

PSYCHOLOGY

Appetite Said to Indicate Hunger of Soul, Not of Stomach.

PALATE IS KEY TO SCIENCE

Action Glandular Through Longing for Food Determines Personal Needs, Says College President.

POINTS IN NEW PSYCHOLOGY EXPLAINED BY DR. HALL.

EXPLAINED BY DR. HALL.
Appetite is not merely hunger of the stomach. It is in a sense hunger of the soul.

Trust the appetite. Try to satisfy even the crariest whims of appetite.

It is almost as much a sin to eat without appetite as is forced love a sin against the personality and the soul.

"Rather Than Toman, Give Us Slow Death by Poison," is the way one of the ceven-column lines read. In the body of the story the writer accuses Toman of everything possible in the way of tavoring Los Angeles last week. Then there are open letters to President Baum with suggestions that Toman be locked up in a room in his hotel where he could give his decisions over the telephone.

All that sort of thing has a funny twist, but it shows the fans and the sporting writers are not used to adversity. Indeed, they went so far when the team was up in the race they have to have an allbi, and the poor old umps have been forced to suffer. I don't hold any brief for Toman, and realize that in many respects he is a week sister. All the same, the accusation that his verdicts have favored any single cluries so much poppycock.

The Salt Lakers went so far as to telegraph President Baum to make a shift, or at least to remove the obnoxious Toman. Baum, of course, has done nothing of the sort. He realizes that he must back up his umpires, as that he must back up his umpires, as that he must back up his umpires, as long as they are his umpires, and little told Salt Lake can't run that department of the league.

the blood."

He showed by describing delicate experiments that neither hunger nor appetite was even located in the stomach, but constituted something imach, but constituted something im-mensely more complicated than had been imagined. The new psychology is far removed from the old psychology of the brain and the so-called higher carried on in the stomachs of animals and even human beings, which modern surgery had opened to the investigator. "For instance, when a dog smells food in the distance his stomach floods with gastric juice. The chemical composition of this gastric juice is determined by the dog's mental interpretation of the smell. If he anticipates meat, it is one thing; if bread, another. The chemical accuracy of this phenomenon," says Dr. Hall, "is not approached by anything else in the animal kingdom, and indicates how the psychologists seem to be getting toward the heart of their problem."

Dr. Hall's lecture was delayed at the beginning by spontaneous outbursts from the students of the Summer school, who demanded time to adopt resolutions to the effect that the Summer school had been a success beyond words, and that all the rest of the high school teachers in Oregon ought to be present next year. The meeting resolved itself into a "500" club and elected Superintendent McCloud, of Clatskanie, president, and P. E. Baker secretary.
