This meeting is the first joint session of the members of the legal profession of the two states and it is expected that it will bring to Portland many distinguished attorneys, judges and members of their families.

Reception Arranged for Judges.

An event of particular interest in connection with the convention will be the reception to the judiciary of the state and Federal courts of Washington, Oregon and Idaho at the University Club Monday night, August 23, at 8 o'clock. Invitations now are being mailed to the attorneys of the two states. This function will be informal Governor Withycombe and Mayor Albee will open the convention at the Heilig Theater with addresses of wellcome and Frank Reeves, president of the Washington State Bar Association, and A. S. Bennett, president of the Oregon Bar Association will deliver the close of the convention.

Kansas City has made the strongest fight for the next convention since the beginning of the session here, but Denver's delegation developed strate. tion, and A. S. Bennett, president of the Oregon Bar Association, will deliver addresses at the close of Judge Taft's address. The remaining session will be held in the main hall of the Public Library.

Senator Chamberlain to Speak.

The principal events for Tuesday, August 24, will be addresses by ex-Senator George Turner, of Spokane, whose subject will be "The Bench, the Bar and the People"; by Senator George

Tuesday. It is expected that members of the Portland bar will furnish auto-mobiles for the Wednesday excursion and for visitors sightseeing at Portland ithin the period of the convention. The Multnomah Bar Association has been requested to appoint a reception committee of 50 members and an auxiliary committee of 25 women to assist in entertaining the visitors. Special hotel and railroad rates have been procured. A register for the visitors will be open at the Multnomah Hotel from 1 to 2 P. M. on Monday and Tuesday, and, for the convenience of all con-cerned, the Portland committee urges that visitors register their local addresses promptly on arrival in the city.

Common Interests Pointed Out. It is pointed out by the committee that the lawyers and judges of Wash-ington, Oregon and Idaho have many interests in common. More than 30 cases passaed through his hands xesterday alone.

Dr. V. Goodfellow, of Los Angeles, worked until exhausted, his list of cases running into the hundreds.

Many Cases Found Preventable. "The most striking thing about the cases that came under my hands," he said, "was the number of instances of inciplent deafness that can largely be saved by institution of the proper treatment in time."

Dr. Harry Forbes had a pocketful of appointments and worked late into the afternoon, without stopping for lunch, in his efforts to give assistance to as many as possible of the applicants before the close of the session.

A great many of the cases were not susceptible of suitable treatment in the cilnics, but were diagnosed and recommended to the proper places for com-plete treatment. A great proportion of the people who applied at the clinics came solely to have cases diagnosed and to be advised as to what to do. and to be advised as to what to do.

One man appeared, suffering from asthma, for which he had been advised to seek higher altitudes, with the result that his condition had become steadily worse. Dr. Dain Tasker, examining him, detected a serious heart condition as the basis of his trouble and recommended that he move at once as near to sea level as possible. Assistance of Delegates Asked.

"Even though your condition may not be remedied," he said, "it is probable that you will be relieved and that your life will be prolonged for a number of years yet."

In the afternoon the doctors in charge of the clinics called for assistance, and delegates on all sides vere pressed
