LONDON, Aug 7 .- A dispatch to the Dally Mail from Copenhagen says:

Big Guns Long Withstood. The Novogeorgievsk garrison also will deprive the Germans of rallway beinging up supplies for their armies. Much depends on the strength of the fortress as compared with the heavy uns of the German army which have falled to reduce the works, although they were the first of the defenses of Warsaw to be attacked, and have been under daily fire since the appearance of the Germans in the vicinity of the capital.

On the other hand, Austro-German experts are of the opinion that the Russian army that retreated from Warsaw is in a more precarious position than ever, heavy rains having made the country impassable, except by a few roads, which will necessarily make the retreat slow and give the army of General von Mackensen and the German force northeast of the canital more time for their movements which are designed to cut the Russian lines of escape,

New Fields Now Important.

Others believe that the region of Warsaw has lost its importance, and that the next fields of hig operations are along the Lomna-Ostrolenka-Rosan line of fortresses (northeast of Warsaw) and along the lyangorod-Lukow part of his army in an attempt to head off the Russians who evacuated Ivan-
