All four offices have been filled by Republican hold-overs since the beginning of the present Administration, because of the fight between Senator Hitchcock and Mr. Bryan over who should control Federal patronage in their state. Secretary Bryan, from the beginning of his term, dabbled much in patronage, and sought the right to dictate in Nebraska. Senator Hitchcock patronage, and sought the right to dic-tate in Nebraska. The missile came from the coal regions of Upper Pennsylvania and was discovered through the fact that a load of hituminous coal that covered the bomb had to be cared for by reason of the car having been damaged by a coilision. The car was switched to a coil chute, where the contents were sent down an incline to another car.

As the coal was sent on its way Edward O. Cooper, a firemen in the yard, noticed the dark object. He immediately gave the alarm, and with a dozen laborers ran to a shed and secreted themselves in fear.

James D. Osborne, a machinist in the yard, who served as a gunner's mate in the Navy and is familiar with explosives, tore apart the steel casing and made the missile powerless. About four pounds of powder were thrown to the winds and the steel case was taken to the storeroom and placed under the care of employes, who have been guarding it ever since.
