

FAIR WORK LAUREL

Mr. Putnam Asserts Oregon Building Makes Good.

REAL HOSPITALITY SHOWN

Governor's Secretary, Back From San Francisco, Also Has Words of Praise for Work Done by State's Naval Militia.

Returning yesterday from San Francisco on the steamer Great Northern, Governor Palmer Putnam, secretary to Governor Withycombe, was full of enthusiasm for what he characterizes as the unique part Oregon is playing in the big fair.

What struck Mr. Putnam especially was the fact that real hospitality is being dispensed at the Oregon building. He says it is practical for visitors to get a reception genuinely homelike and go away with a feeling of satisfaction and "come again."

Speaking of the work of the Naval Militia, Mr. Putnam expressed himself strongly as being greatly pleased at the workmanlike way in which the amateur sailors tackled their tasks.

Valuable Work Being Done. "The militia is doing a really valuable work, and is in good shape now getting results."

Sermon Thoughts From Portland Churches.

"Why should I devote a portion of my income to the cause of God and his work in the world? First because it is God's law. Second, because I can thereby increase my spiritual interest."

EDITORIAL

The scope of military operations on the eastern theater of war has been referred to as stupendous by many authorities.

We have been told by various experts among whom was the Oregonian's special correspondent, that the Russians were luring the Germans on the Eastern front.

It is in the case, we feel that Russia is now fully qualified to the championship title of the world's largest nation.

Ed Stetson, of Philadelphia, Saturday in Portland and exchanged greetings with the boys. He used to be in business with Mr. J. P. Morgan in New York, and we understand he is still doing well.

Service Plea Made

Rev. Mr. Liggett Calls Unselfishness First Essential.

GREAT CITED AS EXAMPLES

Christ's Sacrifice Declared to Point Way for Followers Who Would Find Life for Themselves by Devotion to Others.

Rev. George Armstrong Liggett, of Springfield, N. J., occupied the pulpit of the Westminster Presbyterian church yesterday morning in the absence of the regular pastor, Rev. Henry Marcotte.

Taking as a text, "He saves others, himself he cannot save," Rev. Mr. Liggett pointed out that in those seven words are found the secret of Christ's greatness.

"The Logansberry Enlightener, which has arisen as a competitor of the Oregonian, has gotten out two editions thus far, although it has changed editors several times.

RABBITVILLE NEWS. Hank Stifel, him with the wooden leg, has got a pretty good Sunday job for the better part of the week.

FIFTY WEEKS AGO TODAY. J. C. Ainsworth and some of the boys stayed up to see the circus train come in.

Rev. George Alexander Liggett, of Springfield, N. J., who preached at Westminster Presbyterian Church yesterday.

was unable to save himself from the wrath of his accusers is the fundamental truth of the Christian religion," said Rev. Mr. Liggett.

"The man who tries to save others and himself also cannot succeed. All the noble Christians of history have been workers for humanity.

John Folen, major-domo at the Press Club, said that his travels but took no change on religion without losing their own identities in their labors for others.

Selfishness Must Be Forgotten. "The man who tries to save others and himself also cannot succeed. All the noble Christians of history have been workers for humanity.

John Folen, major-domo at the Press Club, said that his travels but took no change on religion without losing their own identities in their labors for others.

Not only is self-subjection the secret of religion, it is the secret of all art. We discover that there has never been an actor who was the equal of Booth in the delineation of Shakespearean characters because there never has been another who could so far discard his own personality and live the lives of the characters he portrayed.

good will I be able to put into the service by attending?"
