

HANSON IS HELD TO AWAIT GRAND JURY

One More Robbery Laid to Clever Burglar Accused Now of 19 Thefts.

WOMAN STILL MISSING

Attempted Identification of Loot Taken From Houseboat Continued and Detectives Resume Investigation of Case.

H. G. Hanson, whose career in Portland since October, 1912, has been marked by a long series of burglaries, according to detectives, was being preliminary examination before Acting Municipal Judge Stadler yesterday and was bound over to the grand jury.

His bail was fixed at $200. One more robbery was added to the long list thus far attributed to Hanson yesterday, when Mrs. F. J. Harvey, 398 Milwaukee street, identified silverware which had been taken from her home about two months ago. This increases the total number of robberies attributed to him to 19. Mrs. Harvey identified 24 pieces of silverware.

Attempted Identification Fails. Several others who had lost articles through burglaries during the past few months attempted to identify property among the loot taken from Hanson's houseboat, but failed to do so. However, detectives are of the opinion that he is responsible for numerous robberies which will probably never be definitely attributed to him since he is believed to have sold much of his loot.

City Detectives La Salle and Leonard, who, with Detectives Boyle and Moloney, were responsible for the capture of Hanson, continued their investigation of the case yesterday. They predicted that there would be more sensational developments before the case was finally brought to trial.

Woman Still Is Missing. Efforts to learn the whereabouts of the woman who is believed to have been Hanson's accomplice, Mrs. Inga Malmin, still have proved unavailing. Detectives are of the opinion that she was responsible for the disposal of much of the loot, since many valuable articles taken were not recovered among Hanson's goods.

Hanson takes his incarceration in a philosophical manner. "It seems to me that such an educated and talented man as you are should have gotten into this trouble," it was suggested to him yesterday. A half smile played about his lips and he gave a gesture of indifference as he replied: "I must pay the price now, I suppose."

WAR WAGED ON RABBITS

TIGHT FENCES ARE EFFECTIVE, SAYS BIOLOGICAL CHIEF.

Representative Sinnott Is Told That Organized Drives Should Be Made in Eastern Oregon.

Representative Sinnott, who has been pressing the Federal Biological Survey to devise some means to get rid of the jackrabbit pest in Eastern Oregon, has just been informed by Acting Chief Nelson, of that bureau, that "extensive experiments in trapping animals in fenced inclosures have given considerable promise of success, and that the bureau plans to continue these experiments during the coming fall and winter."

Chief Nelson informs the Eastern Oregon Congressman that the department regards the jackrabbit pest in Oregon as a serious and difficult problem, and says:

"Poisoning has proved of value locally, but of little or no avail in localities where green feed continues abundant during the winter. Rabbit-proof fencing is undoubtedly the best means for protecting crops from jackrabbits, but the department has no authority to construct such fences on patented lands. We can suggest no more practical method for controlling these pests than rabbit-proof fencing and organized drives or hunts in which the animals are destroyed."

RIVER EXCURSION PLANNED

Members of Laurelhurst Club to Take Steamer Trip Saturday.

The members of the Laurelhurst Club will hold their annual river excursion Saturday night. The steamer Kalliope will leave from the foot of Washington street at 9 o'clock and will run down the Willamette and for a short distance up the Columbia.

The new Laurelhurst band, which will make its first appearance at the dance Friday night, will play on the excursion and will provide music for dancing on the boat. The committee is preparing a number of features for the occasion.

Tickets for the excursion are procurable at Dr. E. T. Parker's office in the Corbett building or the Wise Dental parlors in the Falling building.

PRINTERS TO BE ACTORS

"The Tapping at the Door" to Be Staged at Baker September 2.

Arrangements have been completed by the Ben Franklin Club of Portland printers to stage "The Tapping at the Door," an educational drama written by W. A. Wilkins at the Baker Theater, September 2. Mr. Wilkins has already picked the leading characters for his play. J. J. Price will take the part of the unsuccessful business man, C. J. Van Blaricom will act the young paper salesman, John B. Adam the proverbial knocker and Roy Edwards will typify the successful business man. The play is three acts in length and involves 21 characters and 21 speaking parts, all of which will be filled by amateur talent.

Workman Is Injured. While clearing land on the East Side yesterday, A. Grant, of Ninth and Davis streets, received a fracture of the left leg when the clevis, by means of which the horses were attached to the sweep, broke and struck him. He was taken to the Good Samaritan Hospital.

River Victim Unidentified. Efforts to learn the identity of the man found drowned in the river near the Inman-Poulsen mill Sunday were
