Thight in New York of in any other part of the country." Four dances were adopted as stand-ards, and of one of these Professor Eingler is the author. His is known as the "Montrose," a walts trot, said to be a beautiful combination of simple movements to walts time. This met with instant favor at the convention. Other dances adopted will be known as the "National One-Step" and the "National Fox Trot." Both are said to be catchy and graceful. Still another is the "Waltz Walk," by Oscar Duryes, of New York, who is known as one of America's foremost ballroom teachers. More than 20 dances were shown. M. America's foremost ballroom teachers. More than 20 dances were shown. M. Christensen, of Portland, was elected vice-president for the coming year and he also taught the latest Casile School Waltz at the Claremont Hotel. The convention was highly success-ful and the first one of the sort to be held on the Pacific Coast for 23 years.

Seashore and Mountain Resorts Combined

That's the reason the Tillamook County Beaches are growing in popularity so rapidly.

The Coast Range mountains reach to within a few hundred yards of the Seashore.

You may indulge in mountain climbing and surf bathing in the same day. You may catch mountain trout or deep sea fish at your pleasure.

The trip across the mountains to the

Tillamook County Beaches

is unsurpassed on the continent. Here are some of the finest virgin forests in Oregon.
