

MALE LEADS IN RACE TO HEAD TEACHERS

Brooklyn Woman Still Persists in Intention of Carrying Fight to Floor.

SEX FREEDOM DISCUSSED

Miss Thomson, of Oregon, Says Men Are More Capable Because Less Restricted by Tight Clothing and Conventions.

NEGROES WOULD SOLDIER

Colored Educators Stir People by Urging Military Training.

LOVE GIVEN ALL IN WILL

Doctor Makes Unique Request for Friends He Would Remember.

GERMANS CHEER BRITONS

GERMANS CAPTURE KOVNO

ST. JOHN WOMAN IS BURIED

GERMANS NEAR BREST-LITOVSK

WASHINGTON GOVERNOR ENTERTAINED

FRANCE STEELED TO WAR

TEXAS FARTHEST SOUTH

BROWNSVILLE, TEX. AUG. 12

MARINE LEAGUE FORMING

MIDDLE WEST TO BE ENLISTED IN EFFORT TO REMOVE HANDICAP

CINCINNATI, O., AUG. 13

WASH. STATE PAROLE OFFICER CHOSEN

OLYMPIA, WASH., AUG. 18

CHICAGO, AUG. 18

dent of the First National Bank. It was announced today. Representative business men of the Middle West have been enlisted and are seeking to enroll big business men. It is proposed that the Central Federal Reserve Banking district be represented by 120 members, each of whom has been asked to subscribe $250. Branch leagues are to be organized. The invitation asks for an effort to rectify the greatest handicap to the growth of the commerce of the country, the lack of a merchant marine.

Colored Educators Stir People by Urging Military Training. CINCINNATI, O., Aug. 13.—A plea that the negro citizens of the United States be given the fullest opportunity to receive military training, coupled with a declaration that the country may yet have need for her 2,000,000 black forces, created a patriotic outburst at the National Association of Teachers in Colored Schools. The speaker who brought the specter of the possible entry of the European war into the world war was Major R. R. Wright, aged president of the Georgia State Industrial College, and one of the foremost educators of the vocational system in the South.

Colored Educators Stir People by Urging Military Training. CINCINNATI, O., Aug. 13.—A plea that the negro citizens of the United States be given the fullest opportunity to receive military training, coupled with a declaration that the country may yet have need for her 2,000,000 black forces, created a patriotic outburst at the National Association of Teachers in Colored Schools. The speaker who brought the specter of the possible entry of the European war into the world war was Major R. R. Wright, aged president of the Georgia State Industrial College, and one of the foremost educators of the vocational system in the South.

Colored Educators Stir People by Urging Military Training. CINCINNATI, O., Aug. 13.—A plea that the negro citizens of the United States be given the fullest opportunity to receive military training, coupled with a declaration that the country may yet have need for her 2,000,000 black forces, created a patriotic outburst at the National Association of Teachers in Colored Schools. The speaker who brought the specter of the possible entry of the European war into the world war was Major R. R. Wright, aged president of the Georgia State Industrial College, and one of the foremost educators of the vocational system in the South.

Colored Educators Stir People by Urging Military Training. CINCINNATI, O., Aug. 13.—A plea that the negro citizens of the United States be given the fullest opportunity to receive military training, coupled with a declaration that the country may yet have need for her 2,000,000 black forces, created a patriotic outburst at the National Association of Teachers in Colored Schools. The speaker who brought the specter of the possible entry of the European war into the world war was Major R. R. Wright, aged president of the Georgia State Industrial College, and one of the foremost educators of the vocational system in the South.

Colored Educators Stir People by Urging Military Training. CINCINNATI, O., Aug. 13.—A plea that the negro citizens of the United States be given the fullest opportunity to receive military training, coupled with a declaration that the country may yet have need for her 2,000,000 black forces, created a patriotic outburst at the National Association of Teachers in Colored Schools. The speaker who brought the specter of the possible entry of the European war into the world war was Major R. R. Wright, aged president of the Georgia State Industrial College, and one of the foremost educators of the vocational system in the South.

Colored Educators Stir People by Urging Military Training. CINCINNATI, O., Aug. 13.—A plea that the negro citizens of the United States be given the fullest opportunity to receive military training, coupled with a declaration that the country may yet have need for her 2,000,000 black forces, created a patriotic outburst at the National Association of Teachers in Colored Schools. The speaker who brought the specter of the possible entry of the European war into the world war was Major R. R. Wright, aged president of the Georgia State Industrial College, and one of the foremost educators of the vocational system in the South.

Colored Educators Stir People by Urging Military Training. CINCINNATI, O., Aug. 13.—A plea that the negro citizens of the United States be given the fullest opportunity to receive military training, coupled with a declaration that the country may yet have need for her 2,000,000 black forces, created a patriotic outburst at the National Association of Teachers in Colored Schools. The speaker who brought the specter of the possible entry of the European war into the world war was Major R. R. Wright, aged president of the Georgia State Industrial College, and one of the foremost educators of the vocational system in the South.

Colored Educators Stir People by Urging Military Training. CINCINNATI, O., Aug. 13.—A plea that the negro citizens of the United States be given the fullest opportunity to receive military training, coupled with a declaration that the country may yet have need for her 2,000,000 black forces, created a patriotic outburst at the National Association of Teachers in Colored Schools. The speaker who brought the specter of the possible entry of the European war into the world war was Major R. R. Wright, aged president of the Georgia State Industrial College, and one of the foremost educators of the vocational system in the South.

Colored Educators Stir People by Urging Military Training. CINCINNATI, O., Aug. 13.—A plea that the negro citizens of the United States be given the fullest opportunity to receive military training, coupled with a declaration that the country may yet have need for her 2,000,000 black forces, created a patriotic outburst at the National Association of Teachers in Colored Schools. The speaker who brought the specter of the possible entry of the European war into the world war was Major R. R. Wright, aged president of the Georgia State Industrial College, and one of the foremost educators of the vocational system in the South.

Colored Educators Stir People by Urging Military Training. CINCINNATI, O., Aug. 13.—A plea that the negro citizens of the United States be given the fullest opportunity to receive military training, coupled with a declaration that the country may yet have need for her 2,000,000 black forces, created a patriotic outburst at the National Association of Teachers in Colored Schools. The speaker who brought the specter of the possible entry of the European war into the world war was Major R. R. Wright, aged president of the Georgia State Industrial College, and one of the foremost educators of the vocational system in the South.

Colored Educators Stir People by Urging Military Training. CINCINNATI, O., Aug. 13.—A plea that the negro citizens of the United States be given the fullest opportunity to receive military training, coupled with a declaration that the country may yet have need for her 2,000,000 black forces, created a patriotic outburst at the National Association of Teachers in Colored Schools. The speaker who brought the specter of the possible entry of the European war into the world war was Major R. R. Wright, aged president of the Georgia State Industrial College, and one of the foremost educators of the vocational system in the South.

Colored Educators Stir People by Urging Military Training. CINCINNATI, O., Aug. 13.—A plea that the negro citizens of the United States be given the fullest opportunity to receive military training, coupled with a declaration that the country may yet have need for her 2,000,000 black forces, created a patriotic outburst at the National Association of Teachers in Colored Schools. The speaker who brought the specter of the possible entry of the European war into the world war was Major R. R. Wright, aged president of the Georgia State Industrial College, and one of the foremost educators of the vocational system in the South.

Colored Educators Stir People by Urging Military Training. CINCINNATI, O., Aug. 13.—A plea that the negro citizens of the United States be given the fullest opportunity to receive military training, coupled with a declaration that the country may yet have need for her 2,000,000 black forces, created a patriotic outburst at the National Association of Teachers in Colored Schools. The speaker who brought the specter of the possible entry of the European war into the world war was Major R. R. Wright, aged president of the Georgia State Industrial College, and one of the foremost educators of the vocational system in the South.

Colored Educators Stir People by Urging Military Training. CINCINNATI, O., Aug. 13.—A plea that the negro citizens of the United States be given the fullest opportunity to receive military training, coupled with a declaration that the country may yet have need for her 2,000,000 black forces, created a patriotic outburst at the National Association of Teachers in Colored Schools. The speaker who brought the specter of the possible entry of the European war into the world war was Major R. R. Wright, aged president of the Georgia State Industrial College, and one of the foremost educators of the vocational system in the South.

Colored Educators Stir People by Urging Military Training. CINCINNATI, O., Aug. 13.—A plea that the negro citizens of the United States be given the fullest opportunity to receive military training, coupled with a declaration that the country may yet have need for her 2,000,000 black forces, created a patriotic outburst at the National Association of Teachers in Colored Schools. The speaker who brought the specter of the possible entry of the European war into the world war was Major R. R. Wright, aged president of the Georgia State Industrial College, and one of the foremost educators of the vocational system in the South.

Colored Educators Stir People by Urging Military Training. CINCINNATI, O., Aug. 13.—A plea that the negro citizens of the United States be given the fullest opportunity to receive military training, coupled with a declaration that the country may yet have need for her 2,000,000 black forces, created a patriotic outburst at the National Association of Teachers in Colored Schools. The speaker who brought the specter of the possible entry of the European war into the world war was Major R. R. Wright, aged president of the Georgia State Industrial College, and one of the foremost educators of the vocational system in the South.

Colored Educators Stir People by Urging Military Training. CINCINNATI, O., Aug. 13.—A plea that the negro citizens of the United States be given the fullest opportunity to receive military training, coupled with a declaration that the country may yet have need for her 2,000,000 black forces, created a patriotic outburst at the National Association of Teachers in Colored Schools. The speaker who brought the specter of the possible entry of the European war into the world war was Major R. R. Wright, aged president of the Georgia State Industrial College, and one of the foremost educators of the vocational system in the South.

Colored Educators Stir People by Urging Military Training. CINCINNATI, O., Aug. 13.—A plea that the negro citizens of the United States be given the fullest opportunity to receive military training, coupled with a declaration that the country may yet have need for her 2,000,000 black forces, created a patriotic outburst at the National Association of Teachers in Colored Schools. The speaker who brought the specter of the possible entry of the European war into the world war was Major R. R. Wright, aged president of the Georgia State Industrial College, and one of the foremost educators of the vocational system in the South.

Colored Educators Stir People by Urging Military Training. CINCINNATI, O., Aug. 13.—A plea that the negro citizens of the United States be given the fullest opportunity to receive military training, coupled with a declaration that the country may yet have need for her 2,000,000 black forces, created a patriotic outburst at the National Association of Teachers in Colored Schools. The speaker who brought the specter of the possible entry of the European war into the world war was Major R. R. Wright, aged president of the Georgia State Industrial College, and one of the foremost educators of the vocational system in the South.

Colored Educators Stir People by Urging Military Training. CINCINNATI, O., Aug. 13.—A plea that the negro citizens of the United States be given the fullest opportunity to receive military training, coupled with a declaration that the country may yet have need for her 2,000,000 black forces, created a patriotic outburst at the National Association of Teachers in Colored Schools. The speaker who brought the specter of the possible entry of the European war into the world war was Major R. R. Wright, aged president of the Georgia State Industrial College, and one of the foremost educators of the vocational system in the South.

Colored Educators Stir People by Urging Military Training. CINCINNATI, O., Aug. 13.—A plea that the negro citizens of the United States be given the fullest opportunity to receive military training, coupled with a declaration that the country may yet have need for her 2,000,000 black forces, created a patriotic outburst at the National Association of Teachers in Colored Schools. The speaker who brought the specter of the possible entry of the European war into the world war was Major R. R. Wright, aged president of the Georgia State Industrial College, and one of the foremost educators of the vocational system in the South.

Colored Educators Stir People by Urging Military Training. CINCINNATI, O., Aug. 13.—A plea that the negro citizens of the United States be given the fullest opportunity to receive military training, coupled with a declaration that the country may yet have need for her 2,000,000 black forces, created a patriotic outburst at the National Association of Teachers in Colored Schools. The speaker who brought the specter of the possible entry of the European war into the world war was Major R. R. Wright, aged president of the Georgia State Industrial College, and one of the foremost educators of the vocational system in the South.

GOVERNOR PRAISES OREGON BUILDING

Mr. Benson Adds Commendation of State's Representatives at Exposition.

EVERY DETAIL PLEASES

Friendly, Democratic and Enthusiastic Tour, Described by Anne Shannon Monroe, Makes Deep Impression on Visitors.

SEAMEN'S LAW IS COSTLY

CAPTAIN DOLLAR MAKES COMPARISON OF WAGE ACCOUNTS.

AMERICANS PAYING $3270 COMPETE WITH BRITON AT $1308 AND JAPANESE AT $777, SAYS SHIPWOMAN

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 18.—"Congress may be powerful within the three-mile limit," said Captain Robert Dollar, president of the Robert Dollar Steamship Company, today before the Federal Trade Commission, when he testified that they don't figure, I am not going out of business, I promise you that. I'm going to do business with a British company, who, somehow, but none of us knows who it is, even Secretary Redfield doesn't know.

TOILET NEEDS AND DRUG SUNDRIES

GERMANS CAPTURE KOVNO

ST. JOHN WOMAN IS BURIED

GERMANS NEAR BREST-LITOVSK

WASHINGTON GOVERNOR ENTERTAINED

FRANCE STEELED TO WAR

TEXAS FARTHEST SOUTH

BROWNSVILLE, TEX. AUG. 12

MARINE LEAGUE FORMING

MIDDLE WEST TO BE ENLISTED IN EFFORT TO REMOVE HANDICAP

CINCINNATI, O., AUG. 13

WASH. STATE PAROLE OFFICER CHOSEN

OLYMPIA, WASH., AUG. 18

CHICAGO, AUG. 18

and "Germany at the end of her resources." To those of us who had but recently come out of the country it was really irritating. So while, of course, the situation may have, and probably has, changed since March, it cannot be so serious in Germany as to warrant the enormous amount of false hope it spreads among the French people. This false hope is disseminated at a time when, according to my ideas, it is worst for the French. It is predicted that with the fall of Warsaw the French are going to receive attacks and bombardments steadily and relentlessly from then on that will make everything which has gone before look like child's play.

Situation of Press is Difficult. It is hard to decide what the duty of the press should be these days—to encourage, perhaps falsely, the people, and through them the army, in order to retain a good morale, or to tell the bitterest truth in order to stiffen the backbone and stir to unprecedented energy.

Asquith, because he is the particular man to be criticized in England, and the Daily Mail says "melancholy and notorious exception" to the standard which the English press should set of "discharging its duties with patriotism in a manner worthy of its spirit, and in a manner worthy of its best traditions."

If it had rested with the newspapers which praise the English which would be as woefully lacking in shells all during the next year as it was two months ago. The English people do not realize that they owe the two aforementioned newspapers a great debt, whether those two papers exposed scandals out of a selfish or unselfish motive.

SEAMEN'S LAW IS COSTLY

CAPTAIN DOLLAR MAKES COMPARISON OF WAGE ACCOUNTS.

AMERICANS PAYING $3270 COMPETE WITH BRITON AT $1308 AND JAPANESE AT $777, SAYS SHIPWOMAN

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 18.—"Congress may be powerful within the three-mile limit," said Captain Robert Dollar, president of the Robert Dollar Steamship Company, today before the Federal Trade Commission, when he testified that they don't figure, I am not going out of business, I promise you that. I'm going to do business with a British company, who, somehow, but none of us knows who it is, even Secretary Redfield doesn't know.

Captain Dollar was a witness in the hearing to discuss trade problems. He gave figures that showed that under the British law it would cost $270 a month for wages and board of crew on the American steamer Algon, while the Japanese law would cost $1308 and a Japanese concern $777. He said American business men were being "legislated to death."

Captain Dollar was a witness in the hearing to discuss trade problems. He gave figures that showed that under the British law it would cost $270 a month for wages and board of crew on the American steamer Algon, while the Japanese law would cost $1308 and a Japanese concern $777. He said American business men were being "legislated to death."

Captain Dollar was a witness in the hearing to discuss trade problems. He gave figures that showed that under the British law it would cost $270 a month for wages and board of crew on the American steamer Algon, while the Japanese law would cost $1308 and a Japanese concern $777. He said American business men were being "legislated to death."

Captain Dollar was a witness in the hearing to discuss trade problems. He gave figures that showed that under the British law it would cost $270 a month for wages and board of crew on the American steamer Algon, while the Japanese law would cost $1308 and a Japanese concern $777. He said American business men were being "legislated to death."

Captain Dollar was a witness in the hearing to discuss trade problems. He gave figures that showed that under the British law it would cost $270 a month for wages and board of crew on the American steamer Algon, while the Japanese law would cost $1308 and a Japanese concern $777. He said American business men were being "legislated to death."

Captain Dollar was a witness in the hearing to discuss trade problems. He gave figures that showed that under the British law it would cost $270 a month for wages and board of crew on the American steamer Algon, while the Japanese law would cost $1308 and a Japanese concern $777. He said American business men were being "legislated to death."

Captain Dollar was a witness in the hearing to discuss trade problems. He gave figures that showed that under the British law it would cost $270 a month for wages and board of crew on the American steamer Algon, while the Japanese law would cost $1308 and a Japanese concern $777. He said American business men were being "legislated to death."

Captain Dollar was a witness in the hearing to discuss trade problems. He gave figures that showed that under the British law it would cost $270 a month for wages and board of crew on the American steamer Algon, while the Japanese law would cost $1308 and a Japanese concern $777. He said American business men were being "legislated to death."

Captain Dollar was a witness in the hearing to discuss trade problems. He gave figures that showed that under the British law it would cost $270 a month for wages and board of crew on the American steamer Algon, while the Japanese law would cost $1308 and a Japanese concern $777. He said American business men were being "legislated to death."

Captain Dollar was a witness in the hearing to discuss trade problems. He gave figures that showed that under the British law it would cost $270 a month for wages and board of crew on the American steamer Algon, while the Japanese law would cost $1308 and a Japanese concern $777. He said American business men were being "legislated to death."

Captain Dollar was a witness in the hearing to discuss trade problems. He gave figures that showed that under the British law it would cost $270 a month for wages and board of crew on the American steamer Algon, while the Japanese law would cost $1308 and a Japanese concern $777. He said American business men were being "legislated to death."

Captain Dollar was a witness in the hearing to discuss trade problems. He gave figures that showed that under the British law it would cost $270 a month for wages and board of crew on the American steamer Algon, while the Japanese law would cost $1308 and a Japanese concern $777. He said American business men were being "legislated to death."

Captain Dollar was a witness in the hearing to discuss trade problems. He gave figures that showed that under the British law it would cost $270 a month for wages and board of crew on the American steamer Algon, while the Japanese law would cost $1308 and a Japanese concern $777. He said American business men were being "legislated to death."

Captain Dollar was a witness in the hearing to discuss trade problems. He gave figures that showed that under the British law it would cost $270 a month for wages and board of crew on the American steamer Algon, while the Japanese law would cost $1308 and a Japanese concern $777. He said American business men were being "legislated to death."

Captain Dollar was a witness in the hearing to discuss trade problems. He gave figures that showed that under the British law it would cost $270 a month for wages and board of crew on the American steamer Algon, while the Japanese law would cost $1308 and a Japanese concern $777. He said American business men were being "legislated to death."

Captain Dollar was a witness in the hearing to discuss trade problems. He gave figures that showed that under the British law it would cost $270 a month for wages and board of crew on the American steamer Algon, while the Japanese law would cost $1308 and a Japanese concern $777. He said American business men were being "legislated to death."

Captain Dollar was a witness in the hearing to discuss trade problems. He gave figures that showed that under the British law it would cost $270 a month for wages and board of crew on the American steamer Algon, while the Japanese law would cost $1308 and a Japanese concern $777. He said American business men were being "legislated to death."

Mail and Telephone Orders Filled by Expert Shoppers. Slipman Wolfe & Co. Merchandise of Merit Only. Pacific Phone Marshall 5000 Home Phone A 6651. For Hosiery and Knit Underwear No Store Is as Satisfactory as This Store.

The Latest Ostrich Neck Ruffs. A Large Special Purchase of $2.50 Ruffs. Go on Sale at $1.45. Through a clever transaction, our representative, who is now in New York, was able to secure this special lot of ostrich neck ruffs at a price which is almost manufacturer's cost. Today the ostrich neck ruff is the most fashionable thing in neckwear. No costume is considered complete without one of these ruffs. And here in this sale you will find ostrich neck ruffs of unusual beauty and softness, finished with silk tassel, and come in black, white and combination of black and white.

The New Early Fall Skirts Have Arrived and Go on Sale at $5.45. The smartly tailored kind of skirts that well-dressed women naturally select—of soft mixtures, of dark blue and black serges, of navy blue and black hairline serges and of wool poplin; tailored and stitched, some with pockets, with belts, and some button trimmed. Also novelty three-flounce accordion-pleated skirts of black satin Duchesse. We are even showing in this special group another assortment of the very popular white golfing skirts. Third Floor.

Final Clearance of All Boys' Wash Suits in a Three Days' Sale—Thursday, Friday, Saturday. 98c For Suits Selling to $5. $1.89 For Suits Selling to $10. Of linen, galatea, gingham, white poplin and pique and kindergarten cloth, some hand embroidered. The collection of suits in this sale includes the newest stripes and combinations. Sizes 2 to 9 years. Every Boy's Wash Suit in the House Reduced. Fourth Floor.

Best Grades of CANE SUIT CASES 1/4 OFF. Leather bound, leather corners, full leather straps all around, shirt fold and pockets, lined with best quality linings. 24 and 26-inch sizes, from 6 to 8 inches wide. Regular prices $6.95 to $10.00. Basement. Toilet Needs and Drug Sundries. 25c Witch Hazel, 16c. 25c Tinct. Benzoin, 16c. 25c Violet Ammonia, 16c. 25c Glycerine, 16c. 25c Castor Oil, 16c. 10c Boric Acid, 6c. 10c Household Ammonia, 5c. 35c Hospital Cotton, 23c. 25c Sanitol Soap, 17c. Dr. Fenner's Soap, 15c. $1 Listerine, 62c. 10c Ideal Toilet Paper, 5c. 50c Canthrox, 33c. 25c Williams' Powd. Soap, 10c. 50c Pivert's Rice Powder, 35c. Pebecco Tooth Paste, 33c. 50c Santiseptic Lotion, 39c. 50c Dr. Charles' Flesh Food, 33c. Thespiant Cream, 35c. 50c Verbera Bath Tablets, 50c. First Floor.

PRINCIPAL AGENTS FOR COLUMBIA YARNS. Dentists Charter Ship. Atlantic and Gulf Coast Delegates to Travel in Body. SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 18.—According to word received at the headquarters here of the Panama-Pacific Dental Congress, which meets in San Francisco from August 29, the Florida State Dental Society has chartered a ship to start from Boston and pick up delegates from each dental society on the Atlantic and Gulf coasts from Boston to Galveston. Among the contributions received for clinical work by the committee in charge of that feature of the dental congress is a fine collection of microscopic photographs and microscopic slides from Professor J. Cancels, a Spanish dentist practicing in Jahn, Brazil. St. John State's First Citizen. ST. PAUL, Aug. 18.—James J. Hill, of St. Paul, capitalist and railroad builder, was notified today of his selection by a special commission as "Minnesota's greatest living citizen" to represent this state in the Panama-Pacific Exposition Hall of Fame. Cholera Spreading in Hungary. PARIS, Aug. 18.—A Havas dispatch from Zurich says that the latest report regarding cholera made by the Austro-Hungarian Minister of Interior says that the disease is spreading in that kingdom. Six hundred and seventy new cases have been officially reported, the majority in Galicia.

Gold Medal gas & oil - wherever you go. Standard Oil Company (California) Portland. Our 234 Branch Stations located along the highways up and down the coast—are equipped and ready to serve you with the same dispatch and efficiency as our City Service Stations—ready to serve you with the gas and oil that won highest honors—gold medals—P. P. I. E. Look for our name on the city service stations, and when you see our name on the group of white tanks with red and blue signs. Daily Seashore Limited, 8:30 A. M. Daily Evening Express, 6:30 P. M. Saturday Special, 2:00 P. M. TICKETS and Parlor Car Reservations 5th and Stark.

WASH. STATE CALIFORNIA ARIZONA. RED CROWN the Gasoline of Quality. ZEROLENE the Standard Oil for Motor Cars.