

BAKER SEASON TO OPEN SEPTEMBER 5

Miss Frances McHenry, Lead, Edward Woodruff to Play Opposite.

"WITHIN THE LAW" IS FIRST

Partial List of Cast Completed, Including Favorites, and All to Assemble Soon to Start Rehearsals on Play.

Frances McHenry is to be the new leading woman at the Baker Theater. Edward Woodruff, formerly one of the most popular members of the Baker stock company, is to be the leading man, as was announced several weeks ago.

The opening play will be "Within the Law," and the opening of the season will be Sunday, September 5.

All this and more was related by Milton W. Seaman, general manager of the Baker stock company, who returned yesterday from a long absence from the city and began the arduous task of preparing for the opening of the local stock season.

Since the advent of George L. Baker, founder and heretofore genius of the Baker stock company, into municipal life as City Commissioner, Mr. Seaman has taken the complete active management of the Baker players and will direct and brew out the destinies of that organization this year.

Mr. Baker's responsibilities as a city official will disqualify him as an active factor in the company, but Mr. Seaman, who has been with Mr. Baker for a number of years, announced yesterday that the company will be maintained on the same scale of thoroughness and artistry as has heretofore characterized the Baker stock companies and made the Baker enterprises in the theatrical world of more than passing importance.

Here is the partial personnel of the company for this season, although several women are to be added before it is completed.

Miss McHenry, Mary Edgett Baker, Elizabeth Ross, Nancy Duncan, Edward Woodruff, Henry Hall, Walter Gilbert, William Lloyd, Clark Silvernail, John Sumner, William Dills and Walter Siegfried.

Company to Assemble Monday.

Several of these players already are in the city and others are en route. The entire company will be assembled probably next Monday morning and rehearsals will start at once on the production of "Within the Law," which is a pretentious offering with 29 in the cast.

The personnel of the company reveals that Mr. Seaman has adopted the policy for this year at least, of returning some of the available favorites of past companies. Among these are Miss Baker, Miss Ross, Miss Duncan, Mr. Gilbert, Mr. Sumner, Mr. Lloyd, Mr. Hall—in fact, all the men in the company have at one time or another been identified with it, and several of them were particularly popular.

The new leading man comes highly recommended, according to Mr. Seaman. It is sufficient to say that for a time she successfully succeeded Thelma Jewell with the Follies players in Washington.

Experience in Stock Land.

She is a New York girl, for several years prominent in the stock world, versatile and, it is said, pretty. Edward Woodruff, another leading man two years ago with Louis Hall, returns this season as leading man, and his popularity is unquestioned. Another player of leading-man caliber is Henry Hall, who is best known for his "Man From Home" fame, having succeeded William Hodge in the road production several years ago.

Since then he has been with stock companies in various cities, one of his most recent engagements having been in Spokane. Walter Gilbert, long a regular fixture with the Baker Company, returns as stage director. William Lloyd, another player of leading-man caliber, is versatile. Clark Silvernail will play juvenile roles again, some of which will be received heartily, as it is doubtful if the Baker Company ever had a more versatile or talented juvenile man.

"Billy" Dills and John Sumner, who will carry the character roles, have long been associated at one time or another with the Baker players, and Mr. Siegfried needs no introduction.

Many Good Plays Available.

Owing to the war in Europe and unsettled conditions in the United States, which are keeping a number of road productions out of the theatrical field this year, there is an unlimited number of promising new and old plays available for stock production, and Manager Seaman is making plans to produce some of the best of these. The situation is peculiar, inasmuch as there has never been a year when so many good plays were released for stock production as now. To illustrate, Mr. Seaman announced yesterday that, among others, he would produce "The Yellow Ticket," "The Mistletoe Lady," "Innocence," "The Trail of the Lonesome Pine," "The Argyle Case," "Seven Keys to Baldpate," "The Fortune Hunter" and "So Much for So Much," the last one of which Mack's sensational success.

As in the past, there will be regular Wednesday and Saturday matinees. Mr. Seaman is contemplating several changes in policy which may be adopted and announced before the season opens.

WOMAN HURT IN RUNAWAY

Child, Pitched Through Carriage Roof, Breaks Finger in Fall.

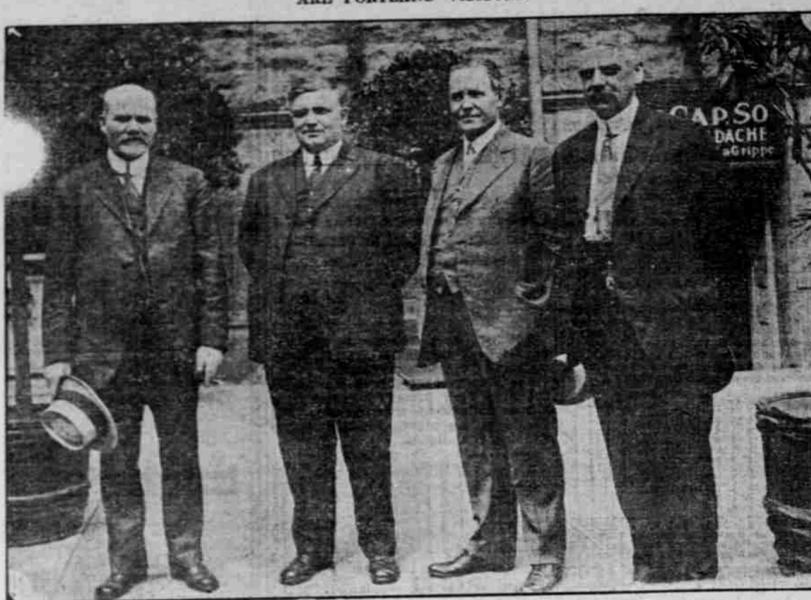

OREGON CITY, Or., Aug. 23.—(Special)—Mrs. Smith-Turner sustained serious injuries when a team of horses ran away last Saturday night with a small back in which were Mrs. Turner and three children.

Trains at Tualatin Station frightened the horses who reared down the road into an embankment, throwing Mrs. Turner out, breaking her shoulder and inflicting other injuries. One of the little girls was thrown through the top of the carriage, and falling broke her finger.

Last Day of Success Here.

This being the last day of a visit of the British prison ship Success, visitors will be received all day between 9 o'clock this morning and 10 o'clock tonight. The fact seems to be that the boys and girls' Aid Society are to go over the ship at 10 o'clock this morning with the public, the public inspecting the Success at the same hour. In view of one of the shaver fleet, the ship leaves at midnight tonight on the first leg of her journey to Puget Sound, after having been in the river three weeks.

OREGON AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE

More than 70 graduates of the Oregon Agricultural College have been appointed to teaching positions for 1915-16, as shown by the report of Professor Reesler, chairman of the teachers' appointment committee, just submitted to President Kerr. Fifty-three of these are of the 1915 class, and seven hold masters' degrees. Thirty-nine have positions in home economics, nine in agriculture, and the remainder in the elementary and high school grades.

Other States Supplied.

Nearly 20 per cent of the total appointments have been made in the following states: California, 2; Washington, 1; Idaho, 2; Montana, 1; West Virginia, 1. There are three or four more pending in the neighboring states, which are practically assured, and a committee predicts that with other Oregon appointments likely to be made this month the total will pass 80.

Manual Training Highest $100.

The highest in manual training is $100, the lowest $720. The highest in commerce is $900, the lowest $678. These figures and averages neither represent first appointments after graduation, nor the average earnings of Oregon Agricultural College graduates who are teaching. Of the 64 appointments involved in the averages, 51 have had no previous experience teaching in the industrial subjects, eight have had one year's experience, and five have had two or more years.

Following is the completed list to August 15, the date of the committee's report:

- Home Economics—Ada Alderton, Vador, Wash.; Helen Anderson, San Francisco (teaching in hospital); Marie Anderson, Hillsdale, N. J.; Mary Silvanus, America; Berna, Spokane; Hazel Carter, Graham; Lucille Chase, Everett; Evelyn Cookin, Woodburn; Marie Calley, Oakland; Lucy Crawford, The Dalles; Edith Crockett, Union, Everett; Central Point; Mildred Hall, Falls City; Lydia Donnell, Willamette; Karen Hansen, Junction City; Jessie Harriet, Redmond; Mary Hartung, Oakland, Cal.; Ruth Hill, Paisley, Wash.; Julia Marvin, The Dalles (teaching in hospital); Belle Matley, Oregon City; Ethel Miller, Eugene; Lottie Miam, Ferry; Emily Miller, Independence; Julia B. Miller, Forest Grove; Forest Grove; Ann Mitchell, Medford; Winifred Patterson, Albany; Care Pierce, Portland; Ann Russell, North Venet, Cal.; Ann Hildge, Sprague; Edith Shaw, Salem; Mildred Soden, Oakville, Wash.; Ruth Smith, Seaside; William Stafford, Portland; Elvia Tass, Seaside; Mildred Young, Pendleton. Manual Training—F. J. Diebel, Free-water, W. E. Dolbe, Phoenix; Theodore Kliebard, Independence; C. B. Gabel, Oswego, O. W. James, Salem; L. A. King, Klamath Falls; Donald McQuinn, West Virginia; Roy Nicholas, Eugene; J. W. Mosley, Heppner; Philip Parcher, The Dalles; J. A. Stranghan, Silverton; Henry J. Thomas, Forest Grove; Harold Turner, Eugene. Agriculture—J. Allen, Corvallis; F. E. Brown, Everett; Idaho; George G. Dewey, Portland; F. J. Diebel, Free-water; E. A. Dumas, Creswell; Chas. L. WEATHER NOT UNUSUAL

Forecaster Reports Recent Spell Is Normal for Month.

Although the people of Portland and the surrounding territory feel that they have suffered from the heat more than the last few days than for many Summers, they can find no justification for the forecast in the daily reports of the weather forecaster, for he says we are having perfectly normal weather. In fact he declares that on other previous occasions we have suffered more than at present.

Yesterday morning's promises were for cool weather the remainder of the day, for even at noon the temperature was but 79 with a relative humidity of 69 per cent. But in the afternoon the sun shined brightly, the air, and moisture began to leave the air, and at 5 o'clock, the time of the next registration of the relative humidity, it had dropped to 44 per cent, with the mercury at 87 degrees, the highest temperature registered yesterday.

The hourly temperatures for yesterday were: 6 P. M. 79, 7 P. M. 82, 8 P. M. 84, 9 P. M. 85, 10 P. M. 86, 11 A. M. 87, 12 noon 87.

NEFF'S BODY IS FOUND

ALLEGED MURDERER OF LAKEPORT MINER IN SUICIDE.

Death Comes in Three Feet of Water in Flores Lake and Gun Ammunition Indicates Its Use Also.

MARSHFIELD, Or., Aug. 23.—(Special)—The body of R. F. Neff, the Lakeport rancher and miner who was suspected of murdering A. J. Wittmann on August 14, was found this morning in three feet of water in Flores Lake by Paul Matthey.

The place where the body was found is about three miles south of where Neff's boat was found on the morning after the murder. It is thought that Neff, to make sure of a big sawmill, waded into the lake and then shot himself, as his gun was found beside the body. The note found in Neff's cabin indicates that he was going to commit suicide, but the officers regarded this as a ruse to turn them off the trail.

Since Wednesday, when the Sheriff withdrew his men from the wild area in which Neff was supposed to be hiding and decided to wait for the man to come out for food, Mr. Matthey and Ross Wittmann, brother of the murderer, have been conducting the search alone.

ENRYMION IN BAD PLIGHT

Russian Ship Found Without Food and Beached in Fog.

MARSHFIELD, Or., Aug. 23.—(Special)—Captain A. Olson of the steam schooner Yellowstone, while feeling his way in a heavy fog up the coast encountered the Russian ship Enrymion from Adelaide, Australia, 25 miles north-northwest of Brant's Reef Light, Saturday afternoon and, answering distress signals, found the Enrymion was out of provisions and had been beached, hovering in that neighborhood in the fog for four days.

The Russian Enrymion originally was listed for Portland to load lumber for the United Kingdom, but a change in plan was made through which her cargo is to be provided at Vancouver, B. C., and on her arrival off the Columbia River she will be ordered there.

Approximately 50 former wearers of the plaided kilt and the feathered can yesterday made the halls of the Portland Hotel ring with the tunes of the Scotch ballad. When the "Hooh" was reached 50 pairs of feet stamped the floor. The occasion was the conclusion of the luncheon given to the visiting Scots, who are in Portland on their way to Eastern points, returning from the 27th convention of the Scottish Clans that closed Sunday night in San Francisco.

There are 25 men in the party, and some of them have their wives with them. They will be in Portland until tomorrow night. Included in the party are three of the royal officers. They are: A. G. McKnight, a prominent attorney of Duluth, royal counselor; A. G. Johnson, of Everett, royal physician, and A. G. Findlay, of Seattle, royal chief. One of the coincidences revealed by the visit of the Scots was the fact that all three, who are in Portland for several years, have had the same initials, and as there were two other A. G.'s in the party they had formed an A. G. club on an associate organization of the National clubbers.

The visiting delegates pronounced the San Francisco session to be the best that had ever been held. Routine work occupied most of the time, the changing of the age requirement for admission from 18 to 16 years, being the most important detail of the convention. As neither politics nor religion is allowed to receive official recognition in the convention, the president's foreign policy did not receive official commendation.

The National Association of Scottish Clans has but one salaried officer—the secretary—and Peter Kerr has held that position for several years. He was not re-elected at the San Francisco convention, however.

At the conclusion of the luncheon at the Portland Hotel yesterday the visiting clansmen and their wives were shown about the city by members of Clan Macleay. Last night a dinner was tendered at the parlors by the local Scots, at which more than 100 were seated.

This morning the delegates will take another sight-seeing trip, and tonight there will be a reception at the Portland Hotel by the members of Clan Macleay and their wives.

HABITUAL DRUNKARDS SENTENCED UNTIL STATE GOES DRY.

Judge Stevenson Continues Policy When Old Offenders Appear "Among Those Present."

The recently announced policy of Municipal Judge Stevenson to keep habitual drunkards who appear before him on a charge of a different sort than they relict until the state has gone dry was further carried out yesterday morning in the sentences meted out to John Maroney and Pat Kelly, both well-known tipplers.

Charged only with drunkenness, Maroney received a sentence of 90 days and a fine of $200 additional, which will mean an added 100 days' imprisonment. Maroney was warned Saturday, when Pete Johnson was sentenced to jail until the state goes dry, that if he came back he would receive the same portion. But yesterday morning he appeared, as usual, "among those present."

Pat Kelly was also a frequent visitor because of nocturnal sprees. Twice Public Defender Robinson obtained
