

EXHIBITS AT FAIR ARE BIG AND VARIED

Southwest Washington Event Marked by Good Attendance on Special Day.

DRY FARM DISPLAYS MADE

Horses Entered in Show Run Largely to Heavy Breeds; Amount of Cattle Shown Taxes Every Bit of Available Space.

CHEHALIS, Wash., Aug. 24.—(Special.)—Today was Thursday, Clarke and Caldwell counties day at the Southwest Washington Fair, and there was a goodly representation in attendance from these sections, despite the fact that most of the people will attend the latter three days of the week.

In the agricultural exhibit is the biggest corn display ever made in Southwest Washington. This is a result of a campaign made in this section last spring by "Farmers" friends of the W. R. & N. Co. Where for many years it was generally believed that corn would not grow, a display is made that would do credit in many ways to the Eastern corn belt.

One of the most interesting displays to be found on the ground is that made by the people of the Rochester and Grand Mount neighborhood, with a large booth filled to capacity with products raised on gravel prairie lands in that section without irrigation. Corn, vegetables of all kinds, fruits and every kind of product of the field and garden are seen in abundance.

The horses entered in the show run mainly to the heavy breeds, such as the black and gray Percherons, but others are well represented. With the advent of the automobile, few of the driving type are now to be seen. So great is the exhibit of cattle and horses that every available bit of room is taken to contain the animals.

Wednesday will be Pacific, Wabakia and Gray Harbor counties day, and, judging from reports received from these sections, there will be many visitors. Thursday will be governing a large crowd of people to Seattle and Portland day, and good crowds are expected from the cities. Friday will be Chehalis and Centralia day, and a large crowd is expected to attend.

PORTLAND PARTY GOES TODAY

Business Men Will Make Trip to Southwest Washington Fair.

Reservations received at the Chamber of Commerce indicate a large excursion to Centralia today by Portland business men to attend the Portland-Seaside-Tacoma day at the Southwest Washington Fair.

The party will leave over the Great Northern at 10 o'clock today and is expected to return to Portland at 10 o'clock tonight. The fare for the round trip is $4.30. Fair officials are planning a royal entertainment for the Portland delegation.

PENNANT SERIES LIKELY ON

Boston Takes 3-to-1 Victory From Detroit in Slugging Match.

DETROIT, Mich., Aug. 24.—Flelding was matched against slugging this afternoon and it gave Boston a 3-to-1 victory over Detroit in the slugging opening contest of a series which may decide the American League pennant. Three hits gave the league leaders three runs in the first inning. The Tigers, however, almost everything before them, put man after man on the bases only to see them die there when Barry, Garner, Hooper, Speaker, Gardner and Scott got off drives that seemed safe beyond question. Only in the fifth, when Bush walked and Cobb denied the rightfield screen with a triple could Detroit score.

Chicago 6, Washington 5.

CHICAGO, Aug. 24.—John Collins broke up a 15-inning battle today, Chicago winning from Washington, 6 to 5. Ayers weakened when he started the thirteenth and he was unable to hold the one-run lead which his teammates obtained for him in the visitors' half.

Felch started the local thirteenth by beating out a slow grounder. After Weaver fled out, Russell batted for Blackburn and was hit by a pitched ball. Dyer singled, filling the bases. Fisher struck out and Murphy waited for four balls, which forced in Felch with the tying run on base. Collins' single was next and Russell scored, ending the game. Score: Washington, 5; Chicago, 6.

GEARHART BY THE SEA, Or., Aug. 24.—(Special.)—Mrs. J. H. Dougherty, of Portland, playing at the top of her game and with the same time giving an exhibition of courage and splendid golf, finished the 18 holes in the women's championship qualifying rounds here this afternoon, hanging up 93 at which the rest of her sisters could shoot.

Miss Clara Wilcox finished her match, having 94, and Miss Maud McMaster was next in line with 100. It was warmer here today, and this, added to the fact that the qualifying rounds of the women's championship were on, brought out a large gallery of women, armed with darning needles and handbags that resembled the old-fashioned carpet bags. Yet everybody was happy and it didn't matter whether the sun hid behind gray clouds, so the second day of the Gearhart golf tournament, while it furnished, especially during the afternoon, mostly excuses, it also furnished its surprises.

Some Disappointment Seen. Friends of Mrs. Dougherty expected that she would give an excellent account of herself, and in that she did not disappoint. There was some disappointment when Mrs. Devereaux turned in her card, for by many she was picked as the best among the women down here. Mrs. Devereaux had been out of the game for some time and didn't play up to her usual dashing style. There is promise of other surprises in tomorrow's matches, for it is expected that some of the younger set will be heard from, especially Miss Wilcox, who finished only three holes behind Mrs. Dougherty and Miss McMaster.

Drawing for Title Round Made. The scores of the women's championship, 18 holes, medal play, were: Mrs. J. H. Dougherty, 93; Miss Claire Wilcox, 94; Miss Maud McMaster, 100; Miss Winnifred A. Huber, 101; Miss Walter Cook, 103; Mrs. Helbrum, 105; Mrs. Helen Honeyman, 102; Mrs. A. E. L. Thompson, 111; Mrs. J. D. Honeyman, 112; Miss Helen Huber, 114; Mrs. T. B. Wilcox, 116; Mrs. Whitley, 125; Mrs. Helen Ladd Corbett, 131; Miss Mabel Beck, 131; Mrs. C. M. Sharpstein, 132; Miss Helen Honeyman, 142; Mrs. Hazel Litt, 158; Mrs. C. T. Whitney, 158, and Mrs. Robeson, 176.

Tomorrow will be the first round of the women's championship, and the hotel lobby tonight was buzzing with feminine excitement when Mr. Watson and Mr. Astbury began the drawing. Mrs. Dougherty drew as her opponent Mrs. Devereaux. Mrs. Cook is paired
