SHERIFF CHASES GYPSIES. Hood River Chicken Owners Complain of Thefts. HOOD RIVER, Or., Aug. 24.—(Special.)—Fondness for chicken proved the undoing of a band of Gypsies who have been camping in different communities of the Valley the past week. Complaints were made yesterday afternoon to the Sheriff's office by a number of families. Aided by a clever but small dog, the Gypsies are alleged to have helped themselves at several chicken yards. Four officers soon set out in as many different directions, and the nomads were herded and sent out of the county to the east.
