FAMILY ARRESTED

Clarke County Authorities Prefer Perjury Charge and Hold Bride as Witness.

HUSBAND LOCKED IN JAIL

Minister Who Performed Ceremony in Which 12-Year-Old Girl Was Principal Bitterly Criticised by Mrs. Lola G. Baldwin.

Dodging a writ of habeas corpus that was being prepared in Portland, the authorities yesterday placed under arrest Mrs. Lizzie Dasti, aged 12; Pietro Dasti, Steam Press to Portland Laid to aged 15, and Mrs. Vito Colacola, mother of the girl-wife, at their home at 432

East Forty-fifth street, and took them by automobile to Vancouver, Wash. Dasti was placed in the Charke Caunty Jail on a charge of perjury, his wife was hold as a witness, but the wife was allowed to return to Portland to care for her other children. The girl became the wife of Dasti August 16, at the command of her mother, that Dasti might remain at their home and contribute toward household expenses, say the police. The arrests yesterday follow the affects of Mrs. Lold G. Baldwin, superintendent of the Women's Protective Bureau, to have the marriage annulled. Warrant, to have the marriage annulled. Warrant to have the marriage annulled. Warrant to have a to hoth Mr. and Mrs. Vito Colacolis could not be found and is believed to have left the city.

Vanceuver Requesia Arrests.

On advices from Vancouver, Detective Craptain Baty yesterday morning friend, a loving neighbor, and an estemation of the family and sent Detectives Crapta and kindness she lived, for the joy and summory for the atering qualities she possed, for the life of unselfishness and kindness she lived, for the joy and summory was endeavoring to rush through a write habean corpus.

The case of this girl-bride is similar to many marriages that have been performed in Purtland without knowledge of the authorities, said Mrs. Baldwin yesterday.

"It is an outrage that as girl, not yet at the period of adolectone, should be forced into a marriage with a mar

"It is an outrage that a girl, not yet at the period of adolescence, should be forced into a marriage with a man toward whom she feels no love nor particular affection," said Mrs. Baldwin, "Why, the child is only in the thirs grade at school. She does not look like a girl of 14 years; she looks to be 12 years, and that is her age. In the garb of a woman of 25, the child appears ridiculous, but that is how she is dressed now as the wife of Dasti."

If years, and that is her age. In the garb of a woman of 25, the child appears ridiculous, but that is how she is dressed now as the wife of Dasti."

Friest Refusers to Officiate.

The marriage had been planned for several months. An effort was made by Mrz. Colacola to have it performed in Fortland. The police learned that a Fortland priest refused to officiate. Vancouver was then decided upon, and Rev. R. H. Sawyer, of the First Christian Church consented to perform the ceremony. The license secured there purported that the girl was 16 years old, and the clergyman accepted that evidence as sufficient.

Mrs. Baldwin bitterly arraigned the minister for marrying the couple, saying that the girl was se obviously immature.

Following the marriage, the Dastis.

Following the marriage, the Dastis.

Following the marriage, the Dastia settled down at the family home. Neighbors in their vicinity heard of the unnatural marriage and were indignant. Their complaints are settled. the unnatural marriage and were indignant. Their complaints reached the ears of l'atroiman Bigelow Saturday and he reported upon the matter. The Women's Protective Bureau then began as investigation. Pinding that the mether or father of the girl had no desire to annul the marriage, Mrs. Baidwin took steps to separate them. If successful she hopes to place the girl in school or a home in Portland.

At a visit to the Calacola-Dasti home Tuesday, Mrs. Raidwin found the bride in the rear of the house playing with children of her own age.

Scores and Scores of Pieces of Fine Summer Grass Furniture Must Go Now at 1/2 PRICE!

We Don't Want to Carry It Over Into the New Building! We Do Want to Dispose of It Before We Move!

Tell you frankly-should have been all sold before the end of July-we thought the prices were low enough to create a veritable furore, but while we were very busy we did not sell everything that should be sold—so we are going to hurry out the remaining stock at HALF PRICE—and we think this price is so low that it will sell all of it to the first customers who come.

This is not old merchandise, we do not have that sort. It was all bought this year and it must go before the season ends. If you can get the pieces you want, you will certainly get remarkable values.
