

SPECIAL TRAIN GOES TO REGATTA TODAY

Pendleton, Walla Walla and Portland Notables Ready and More Invited.

EVENT LIST IS IMPROVED

Annual Water Carnival at Astoria to Surpass All Previous Affairs and Will Become Nationally Famous Through Movies.

With delegations arriving from Pendleton and Walla Walla to join the admiral's party, the first Astoria regatta will leave for the annual regatta at 3 o'clock today.

Besides Admiral Wilson, such distinguished Portland sailors as J. D. Farrell, president of the O.-W. R. & N. Company; Franklin T. Griffith, president of the Portland Railway, Light & Power Company; Guy W. Talbot, president of the Gas Company; C. C. Colt, president of the Chamber of Commerce and the Union Meat Company, and a host of other notables will be aboard the admiral's special. Acceptances filed at the Chamber of Commerce indicate that fully 100 will form the first party.

On arrival at the mouth of the river tonight the excursionists will be met by brass bands, the Astoria Yacht Club and half a dozen other organizations, and will parade to headquarters at the Weinhard - Astoria Hotel. Adjutant-General George A. White will be in charge of the parade.

Special Fetes for Portlanders.
"We will be glad to have any Portlanders who desire to join our special train," said Admiral Wilson. "They will be able to travel with more comfort than on ordinary trains."
"The regatta programme is more complete than in former years. Many special courtesies will be shown Portlanders."

The Paths Weekly motion picture people, who cover only events of National importance, are sending two special operators to the regatta. Two thousand feet of film will be made for exhibition throughout the East.
The drill team which will be in charge of initiations into the Order of Neptune have been drilling earnestly, and will be ready for the installation of the first lodge of this new order, King Neptune, the head of the festivities at Astoria, will be the first man initiated. Then will follow dignitaries of Oregon and Washington.

Trains Leave Daily.
Trains will leave for the regatta each morning, but on Saturday the Chamber of Commerce will be in charge of a special train leaving at 8:30. The return trip will land visitors at home before early bedtime.

The programme for the regatta includes boat races between all classes of water craft, as well as contests between the crews of the warships Albany and North Dakota, which will arrive at Astoria tonight. In between the water events will be amusing and interesting features on land, including balls on each night, receptions to the king and queen and social functions of various characters. The illuminated water pageant closes the regatta Saturday night.

COUPON TANGLE IN COURT

Public Defender, Disgusted at Acts of Client, Turns Prosecutor.

Tobacco coupons loom darkly as the moving cause in a suit which will come up for trial in the Multnomah County District Court following a hearing before Municipal Judge Stevenson yesterday.

W. P. Cousins, at that time night clerk at the Globe Hotel, says he sold 5000 tobacco coupons to Seno P. Nelson, day clerk at the same establishment, for which he was to receive $12. Nelson failed to pay for the coupons and left them for Cousins, later getting them himself. This was held an act of larceny and Nelson was arrested.

Public Defender Robinson won a dismissal when Nelson, his client, agreed to return the coupons he still had and pay for the rest. No sooner had the two parties reached the hall than Nelson declared he would not pay.

Public Defender Robinson, disgusted at the actions of his former client, immediately offered his services to Cousins and took steps immediately to attach $24 Nelson had deposited as bail.
