

TEACHERS HEAR OF SUCCESS ELEMENTS

Mr. Churchill Explains System of "Standards in Oregon Schools."

MR. ALDERMAN IS ABSENT

City Superintendent, Presided by Work, Names Substitute to Deliver Address—Sessions to Close Today.

PROGRAMME FOR TODAY.

Morning.

9 until 12—Singing by the Institute. St. E. Hunter director. Industrial Club Work. F. L. Griffin, Oregon Agricultural College. "Your Work and Mine." A. P. Armstrong.

Afternoon.

1:30 until 4—Music, instrumental and vocal, the three Elliotts. "The Best Teacher," school officers present; music, the three Elliotts. "The Hero We Need," teachers in attendance.

"That Better Position" is obtained, not through but in the struggle, nor in the securing of easier hours of employment, nor even in a change to a more congenial environment. It is secured only by filling well the position that is now held and by losing sight of wages, hours of employment and environment in the love of the work that is at hand."

That is what Mr. S. Pittman, of the Oregon State Normal School, told the teachers of Multnomah County in the second day session of the county institute. Mr. Pittman was the speaker of the afternoon session. He was preceded by Miss Dorothy Lewis and Fritz De Bruin, who sang and Master Herman Kenin, juvenile violinist.

"Wealth does not guarantee happiness," continued Mr. Pittman. "Though I wallow in wealth and my mind is shackled by the desire for the better position. And the people who have obtained the better position have no regard for the length of time that they work. The best of environment may not bring peace of mind. Doing the thing for the love of the work is the best position."

MUSIC OPENS MORNING SESSION.

The morning session opened with music by the Hunter juvenile orchestra and with "Standards in Oregon Schools" as a subject Mr. Churchill explained the system that would be followed in the selection of teachers next year for the Oregon high schools. In 1911 a law was enacted making it compulsory for prospective teachers to have at least one semester of practice teaching in high school work before a certificate would be issued. College graduates have so far not been able to comply with the requirements while in college, but Mr. Churchill stated that beginning with next year the letter of the law of 1911 would be enforced. Hereafter graduates will have finished their college work with a knowledge of the law's requirements.

Another law the provisions of which were explained by Mr. Churchill was the new law which would have the work for the pupils that live in a community that does not support a high school with a four-year course of study.

Choice is Allowed Student.

The law as explained by Mr. Churchill allows such a student to select any high school in the state which has a four-year course to which he cares to go, and the communities of the state that do not maintain four-year high school courses are taxed for the maintenance of those students. Such a law, said Mr. Churchill, would necessitate the standardization of Oregon high schools and as the teachers carried the bulk of the educational responsibility the new law meant the selection of the best teachers.

Miss Ruby Shearer, head of the primary grades in the Portland public schools, was the other speaker of the morning. Taking as a subject, "The Primary Teacher," Miss Shearer drew the distinction between a "primary teacher" and "the primary teacher."

Teach Child, Not Subject, is Plan.

In order that the primary teacher supply to the student her most efficient effort Miss Shearer would have her answer satisfactorily three questions. "Is her heart right?" "Is her head right?" and "Is her hand right?" In answer to the first of these questions Miss Shearer would have the teacher "teach the child and not the subject." If her head is right she must know what she is teaching and the best method of imparting the knowledge. The third question Miss Shearer desired to have answered by the successful teacher whether or not the teacher is leading or driving.

L. R. Alderman, city school superintendent, was scheduled to talk at the afternoon meeting but the opening of school next week has provided too much work for him and he was unable to appear. Miss Shearer was appointed by him to speak in place of Mr. Alderman. The afternoon session was presided over by Miss Shearer. In giving to the primary teachers advice in the manner of treating perplexing questions that are ever confronting the teacher of small children.

Today's session closes the Institute.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Ray Dunn, of Eugene, is at the Seward. A. S. Reed, of Astoria, is at the Imperial. W. Pollak, of Albany, Or., is at the Oregon. M. S. Pittman, of Monmouth, is at the Seward. E. C. McCork, of Pendleton, is at the Perkins. Anna C. Barron, of Warren, is at the Perkins. Mrs. H. Moffat, of Latourel, is at the Oregon. C. E. Newton, of San Francisco, is at the Perkins. Miss Nellie Cooper, of McMinnville, is at the Eaton. Elizabeth B. Topping, of Salem, Or., is at the Eaton. Mrs. C. E. Kitchen, of Ilwaco, Wash., is at the Eaton. F. E. Manchester, of Lyle, Wash., is at the Imperial. H. B. Mahon, of Shreveport, La., is at the Multnomah. Mrs. L. C. Wallace, of Kelso, Wash., is at the Cornelius. Carolyn H. Childs, of Newton, Mass., is at the Multnomah. Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Elton, of Astoria, are at the Cornelius. A. F. Knight, of Pendleton, is registered at the Oregon. Bertram D. Dean is registered at the Portland from Seattle. Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Wilson, of Butte, Mont., are at the Nortonia. Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Hall, of White Salmon, Wash., are registered at the Seward.

Mr. and Mrs. E. O. McCoy, of The Dalles, are at the Portland. Mr. and Mrs. R. Kaufman, of Moscow, Idaho, are at the Portland. C. H. McKendree, of Lakeview, Or., is registered at the Oregon. F. E. Reynolds and Mrs. Reynolds, of Ashland, are at the Nortonia. Mr. and Mrs. James Calbreath, of Delta, Pa., are at the Perkins. Thomas B. Kay, of Salem, State Treasurer, is at the Imperial. H. L. Flaxien and Mrs. Flaxien, of Millon, Or., are at the Nortonia. Mr. and Mrs. R. Barcroft, of Newberg, are registered at the Cornelius. W. F. Andrews, orchard man of Hood River, is registered at the Eaton. F. L. Griffin, member of the Oregon Agricultural College faculty, is at the Seward. Mrs. C. E. Cummins and Nora B. Cummins, of Aberdeen, S. D., are at the Cornelius. Grace L. Wolcott and Frances C. Burt, of Waterbury, Conn., are at the Multnomah. E. W. Farmer, clerk at the Perkins Hotel, is spending a two weeks' vacation at Seattle. J. R. Parker, of Berkeley, Cal., who is in charge of dredging work at Astoria, is at the Multnomah. C. T. Ely, of the United States cruiser South Dakota, now at Astoria, is registered at the Imperial, with Mrs. Ely. David W. Howe, a member of the editorial staff of the Free Press, of Burlington, Vt., was a Portland visitor yesterday. William T. Darch and family, of Goldendale, who are making a motor trip through the country, are registered at the Nortonia. Sam Joyce, superintendent of the Philadelphia mint, has started on a tour of the West, and is due to visit Portland late this month. The Northern Pacific passenger department is handling his itinerary. George H. Hazen, Portland attorney, was at his office for the first time yesterday following an injury which he sustained while riding down his basement stairs June 30. The shock of the fall caused neurasthenia, and for a week after it he was unable to speak and for four weeks could only speak in a whisper. Mr. Hazen has just returned from a two weeks' outing at Seaside.

Grace L. Wolcott and Frances C. Burt, of Waterbury, Conn., are at the Multnomah. E. W. Farmer, clerk at the Perkins Hotel, is spending a two weeks' vacation at Seattle. J. R. Parker, of Berkeley, Cal., who is in charge of dredging work at Astoria, is at the Multnomah. C. T. Ely, of the United States cruiser South Dakota, now at Astoria, is registered at the Imperial, with Mrs. Ely. David W. Howe, a member of the editorial staff of the Free Press, of Burlington, Vt., was a Portland visitor yesterday. William T. Darch and family, of Goldendale, who are making a motor trip through the country, are registered at the Nortonia. Sam Joyce, superintendent of the Philadelphia mint, has started on a tour of the West, and is due to visit Portland late this month. The Northern Pacific passenger department is handling his itinerary. George H. Hazen, Portland attorney, was at his office for the first time yesterday following an injury which he sustained while riding down his basement stairs June 30. The shock of the fall caused neurasthenia, and for a week after it he was unable to speak and for four weeks could only speak in a whisper. Mr. Hazen has just returned from a two weeks' outing at Seaside.

Grace L. Wolcott and Frances C. Burt, of Waterbury, Conn., are at the Multnomah. E. W. Farmer, clerk at the Perkins Hotel, is spending a two weeks' vacation at Seattle. J. R. Parker, of Berkeley, Cal., who is in charge of dredging work at Astoria, is at the Multnomah. C. T. Ely, of the United States cruiser South Dakota, now at Astoria, is registered at the Imperial, with Mrs. Ely. David W. Howe, a member of the editorial staff of the Free Press, of Burlington, Vt., was a Portland visitor yesterday. William T. Darch and family, of Goldendale, who are making a motor trip through the country, are registered at the Nortonia. Sam Joyce, superintendent of the Philadelphia mint, has started on a tour of the West, and is due to visit Portland late this month. The Northern Pacific passenger department is handling his itinerary. George H. Hazen, Portland attorney, was at his office for the first time yesterday following an injury which he sustained while riding down his basement stairs June 30. The shock of the fall caused neurasthenia, and for a week after it he was unable to speak and for four weeks could only speak in a whisper. Mr. Hazen has just returned from a two weeks' outing at Seaside.

Grace L. Wolcott and Frances C. Burt, of Waterbury, Conn., are at the Multnomah. E. W. Farmer, clerk at the Perkins Hotel, is spending a two weeks' vacation at Seattle. J. R. Parker, of Berkeley, Cal., who is in charge of dredging work at Astoria, is at the Multnomah. C. T. Ely, of the United States cruiser South Dakota, now at Astoria, is registered at the Imperial, with Mrs. Ely. David W. Howe, a member of the editorial staff of the Free Press, of Burlington, Vt., was a Portland visitor yesterday. William T. Darch and family, of Goldendale, who are making a motor trip through the country, are registered at the Nortonia. Sam Joyce, superintendent of the Philadelphia mint, has started on a tour of the West, and is due to visit Portland late this month. The Northern Pacific passenger department is handling his itinerary. George H. Hazen, Portland attorney, was at his office for the first time yesterday following an injury which he sustained while riding down his basement stairs June 30. The shock of the fall caused neurasthenia, and for a week after it he was unable to speak and for four weeks could only speak in a whisper. Mr. Hazen has just returned from a two weeks' outing at Seaside.

Grace L. Wolcott and Frances C. Burt, of Waterbury, Conn., are at the Multnomah. E. W. Farmer, clerk at the Perkins Hotel, is spending a two weeks' vacation at Seattle. J. R. Parker, of Berkeley, Cal., who is in charge of dredging work at Astoria, is at the Multnomah. C. T. Ely, of the United States cruiser South Dakota, now at Astoria, is registered at the Imperial, with Mrs. Ely. David W. Howe, a member of the editorial staff of the Free Press, of Burlington, Vt., was a Portland visitor yesterday. William T. Darch and family, of Goldendale, who are making a motor trip through the country, are registered at the Nortonia. Sam Joyce, superintendent of the Philadelphia mint, has started on a tour of the West, and is due to visit Portland late this month. The Northern Pacific passenger department is handling his itinerary. George H. Hazen, Portland attorney, was at his office for the first time yesterday following an injury which he sustained while riding down his basement stairs June 30. The shock of the fall caused neurasthenia, and for a week after it he was unable to speak and for four weeks could only speak in a whisper. Mr. Hazen has just returned from a two weeks' outing at Seaside.

Grace L. Wolcott and Frances C. Burt, of Waterbury, Conn., are at the Multnomah. E. W. Farmer, clerk at the Perkins Hotel, is spending a two weeks' vacation at Seattle. J. R. Parker, of Berkeley, Cal., who is in charge of dredging work at Astoria, is at the Multnomah. C. T. Ely, of the United States cruiser South Dakota, now at Astoria, is registered at the Imperial, with Mrs. Ely. David W. Howe, a member of the editorial staff of the Free Press, of Burlington, Vt., was a Portland visitor yesterday. William T. Darch and family, of Goldendale, who are making a motor trip through the country, are registered at the Nortonia. Sam Joyce, superintendent of the Philadelphia mint, has started on a tour of the West, and is due to visit Portland late this month. The Northern Pacific passenger department is handling his itinerary. George H. Hazen, Portland attorney, was at his office for the first time yesterday following an injury which he sustained while riding down his basement stairs June 30. The shock of the fall caused neurasthenia, and for a week after it he was unable to speak and for four weeks could only speak in a whisper. Mr. Hazen has just returned from a two weeks' outing at Seaside.

WOMEN HURT IN WRECK

BIG MACHINE CRASHES INTO JETNEY, PASSENGERS INJURED.

Driver of Bus Exonerated, Witnesses Reporting Other Car Had Fault View of Intersection.

When a seven-passenger automobile driven by C. J. Forsstrom, of the Carlton Hotel, crashed into a five-passenger jetney at the corner of Alder and Lowndes streets yesterday morning, the jetney was overturned and Mrs. E. L. Walker and Mrs. R. R. Hogan, passengers, were thrown to the pavement. Both were injured, one possibly seriously.

The jetney driver, C. A. Nyquist, 785 Roosevelt street, was entirely exonerated from blame for the accident by the jury which heard the case yesterday.

Mrs. Walker, who lives at 7254 1/2, was thrown from the jetney and landed on her head. Mrs. Hogan, whose home is at 2252 Second and Everett streets, landed on her head and suffered a principal injury from the shock, although a foot was injured. Both were taken to their homes.

The jetney was going east on Alder and had almost crossed the street intersection when the larger car came from the rear on Lowndes and crashed into the rear of the other machine, overturning it. The large automobile skidded for 30 feet after striking the jetney.

Mrs. Walker saw the large machine bearing down upon the jetney several seconds before the crash and screamed, but witnesses said the machine continued on its course, which sent it into the rear of the other car.

Mrs. Walker, who lives at 7254 1/2, was thrown from the jetney and landed on her head. Mrs. Hogan, whose home is at 2252 Second and Everett streets, landed on her head and suffered a principal injury from the shock, although a foot was injured. Both were taken to their homes.

The jetney was going east on Alder and had almost crossed the street intersection when the larger car came from the rear on Lowndes and crashed into the rear of the other machine, overturning it. The large automobile skidded for 30 feet after striking the jetney.

Mrs. Walker saw the large machine bearing down upon the jetney several seconds before the crash and screamed, but witnesses said the machine continued on its course, which sent it into the rear of the other car.

Mrs. Walker, who lives at 7254 1/2, was thrown from the jetney and landed on her head. Mrs. Hogan, whose home is at 2252 Second and Everett streets, landed on her head and suffered a principal injury from the shock, although a foot was injured. Both were taken to their homes.

The jetney was going east on Alder and had almost crossed the street intersection when the larger car came from the rear on Lowndes and crashed into the rear of the other machine, overturning it. The large automobile skidded for 30 feet after striking the jetney.

Mrs. Walker saw the large machine bearing down upon the jetney several seconds before the crash and screamed, but witnesses said the machine continued on its course, which sent it into the rear of the other car.

Mrs. Walker, who lives at 7254 1/2, was thrown from the jetney and landed on her head. Mrs. Hogan, whose home is at 2252 Second and Everett streets, landed on her head and suffered a principal injury from the shock, although a foot was injured. Both were taken to their homes.

The jetney was going east on Alder and had almost crossed the street intersection when the larger car came from the rear on Lowndes and crashed into the rear of the other machine, overturning it. The large automobile skidded for 30 feet after striking the jetney.

Mrs. Walker saw the large machine bearing down upon the jetney several seconds before the crash and screamed, but witnesses said the machine continued on its course, which sent it into the rear of the other car.

Mrs. Walker, who lives at 7254 1/2, was thrown from the jetney and landed on her head. Mrs. Hogan, whose home is at 2252 Second and Everett streets, landed on her head and suffered a principal injury from the shock, although a foot was injured. Both were taken to their homes.

The jetney was going east on Alder and had almost crossed the street intersection when the larger car came from the rear on Lowndes and crashed into the rear of the other machine, overturning it. The large automobile skidded for 30 feet after striking the jetney.

Mrs. Walker saw the large machine bearing down upon the jetney several seconds before the crash and screamed, but witnesses said the machine continued on its course, which sent it into the rear of the other car.

Mrs. Walker, who lives at 7254 1/2, was thrown from the jetney and landed on her head. Mrs. Hogan, whose home is at 2252 Second and Everett streets, landed on her head and suffered a principal injury from the shock, although a foot was injured. Both were taken to their homes.

The jetney was going east on Alder and had almost crossed the street intersection when the larger car came from the rear on Lowndes and crashed into the rear of the other machine, overturning it. The large automobile skidded for 30 feet after striking the jetney.

Mrs. Walker saw the large machine bearing down upon the jetney several seconds before the crash and screamed, but witnesses said the machine continued on its course, which sent it into the rear of the other car.

Mrs. Walker, who lives at 7254 1/2, was thrown from the jetney and landed on her head. Mrs. Hogan, whose home is at 2252 Second and Everett streets, landed on her head and suffered a principal injury from the shock, although a foot was injured. Both were taken to their homes.

The jetney was going east on Alder and had almost crossed the street intersection when the larger car came from the rear on Lowndes and crashed into the rear of the other machine, overturning it. The large automobile skidded for 30 feet after striking the jetney.

Mrs. Walker saw the large machine bearing down upon the jetney several seconds before the crash and screamed, but witnesses said the machine continued on its course, which sent it into the rear of the other car.

Mrs. Walker, who lives at 7254 1/2, was thrown from the jetney and landed on her head. Mrs. Hogan, whose home is at 2252 Second and Everett streets, landed on her head and suffered a principal injury from the shock, although a foot was injured. Both were taken to their homes.

The jetney was going east on Alder and had almost crossed the street intersection when the larger car came from the rear on Lowndes and crashed into the rear of the other machine, overturning it. The large automobile skidded for 30 feet after striking the jetney.

Mrs. Walker saw the large machine bearing down upon the jetney several seconds before the crash and screamed, but witnesses said the machine continued on its course, which sent it into the rear of the other car.

Mrs. Walker, who lives at 7254 1/2, was thrown from the jetney and landed on her head. Mrs. Hogan, whose home is at 2252 Second and Everett streets, landed on her head and suffered a principal injury from the shock, although a foot was injured. Both were taken to their homes.

The jetney was going east on Alder and had almost crossed the street intersection when the larger car came from the rear on Lowndes and crashed into the rear of the other machine, overturning it. The large automobile skidded for 30 feet after striking the jetney.

Mrs. Walker saw the large machine bearing down upon the jetney several seconds before the crash and screamed, but witnesses said the machine continued on its course, which sent it into the rear of the other car.

Mrs. Walker, who lives at 7254 1/2, was thrown from the jetney and landed on her head. Mrs. Hogan, whose home is at 2252 Second and Everett streets, landed on her head and suffered a principal injury from the shock, although a foot was injured. Both were taken to their homes.

The jetney was going east on Alder and had almost crossed the street intersection when the larger car came from the rear on Lowndes and crashed into the rear of the other machine, overturning it. The large automobile skidded for 30 feet after striking the jetney.

Mrs. Walker saw the large machine bearing down upon the jetney several seconds before the crash and screamed, but witnesses said the machine continued on its course, which sent it into the rear of the other car.

Mrs. Walker, who lives at 7254 1/2, was thrown from the jetney and landed on her head. Mrs. Hogan, whose home is at 2252 Second and Everett streets, landed on her head and suffered a principal injury from the shock, although a foot was injured. Both were taken to their homes.

The jetney was going east on Alder and had almost crossed the street intersection when the larger car came from the rear on Lowndes and crashed into the rear of the other machine, overturning it. The large automobile skidded for 30 feet after striking the jetney.

Mrs. Walker saw the large machine bearing down upon the jetney several seconds before the crash and screamed, but witnesses said the machine continued on its course, which sent it into the rear of the other car.

Mrs. Walker, who lives at 7254 1/2, was thrown from the jetney and landed on her head. Mrs. Hogan, whose home is at 2252 Second and Everett streets, landed on her head and suffered a principal injury from the shock, although a foot was injured. Both were taken to their homes.

The jetney was going east on Alder and had almost crossed the street intersection when the larger car came from the rear on Lowndes and crashed into the rear of the other machine, overturning it. The large automobile skidded for 30 feet after striking the jetney.

Mrs. Walker saw the large machine bearing down upon the jetney several seconds before the crash and screamed, but witnesses said the machine continued on its course, which sent it into the rear of the other car.

Mrs. Walker, who lives at 7254 1/2, was thrown from the jetney and landed on her head. Mrs. Hogan, whose home is at 2252 Second and Everett streets, landed on her head and suffered a principal injury from the shock, although a foot was injured. Both were taken to their homes.

The jetney was going east on Alder and had almost crossed the street intersection when the larger car came from the rear on Lowndes and crashed into the rear of the other machine, overturning it. The large automobile skidded for 30 feet after striking the jetney.

Mrs. Walker saw the large machine bearing down upon the jetney several seconds before the crash and screamed, but witnesses said the machine continued on its course, which sent it into the rear of the other car.

Mrs. Walker, who lives at 7254 1/2, was thrown from the jetney and landed on her head. Mrs. Hogan, whose home is at 2252 Second and Everett streets, landed on her head and suffered a principal injury from the shock, although a foot was injured. Both were taken to their homes.

The jetney was going east on Alder and had almost crossed the street intersection when the larger car came from the rear on Lowndes and crashed into the rear of the other machine, overturning it. The large automobile skidded for 30 feet after striking the jetney.

Mrs. Walker saw the large machine bearing down upon the jetney several seconds before the crash and screamed, but witnesses said the machine continued on its course, which sent it into the rear of the other car.

Mrs. Walker, who lives at 7254 1/2, was thrown from the jetney and landed on her head. Mrs. Hogan, whose home is at 2252 Second and Everett streets, landed on her head and suffered a principal injury from the shock, although a foot was injured. Both were taken to their homes.

The jetney was going east on Alder and had almost crossed the street intersection when the larger car came from the rear on Lowndes and crashed into the rear of the other machine, overturning it. The large automobile skidded for 30 feet after striking the jetney.

Mrs. Walker saw the large machine bearing down upon the jetney several seconds before the crash and screamed, but witnesses said the machine continued on its course, which sent it into the rear of the other car.

Mrs. Walker, who lives at 7254 1/2, was thrown from the jetney and landed on her head. Mrs. Hogan, whose home is at 2252 Second and Everett streets, landed on her head and suffered a principal injury from the shock, although a foot was injured. Both were taken to their homes.

The jetney was going east on Alder and had almost crossed the street intersection when the larger car came from the rear on Lowndes and crashed into the rear of the other machine, overturning it. The large automobile skidded for 30 feet after striking the jetney.

Mrs. Walker saw the large machine bearing down upon the jetney several seconds before the crash and screamed, but witnesses said the machine continued on its course, which sent it into the rear of the other car.

Mrs. Walker, who lives at 7254 1/2, was thrown from the jetney and landed on her head. Mrs. Hogan, whose home is at 2252 Second and Everett streets, landed on her head and suffered a principal injury from the shock, although a foot was injured. Both were taken to their homes.

The jetney was going east on Alder and had almost crossed the street intersection when the larger car came from the rear on Lowndes and crashed into the rear of the other machine, overturning it. The large automobile skidded for 30 feet after striking the jetney.

Mrs. Walker saw the large machine bearing down upon the jetney several seconds before the crash and screamed, but witnesses said the machine continued on its course, which sent it into the rear of the other car.

Mrs. Walker, who lives at 7254 1/2, was thrown from the jetney and landed on her head. Mrs. Hogan, whose home is at 2252 Second and Everett streets, landed on her head and suffered a principal injury from the shock, although a foot was injured. Both were taken to their homes.

The jetney was going east on Alder and had almost crossed the street intersection when the larger car came from the rear on Lowndes and crashed into the rear of the other machine, overturning it. The large automobile skidded for 30 feet after striking the jetney.

Mrs. Walker saw the large machine bearing down upon the jetney several seconds before the crash and screamed, but witnesses said the machine continued on its course, which sent it into the rear of the other car.

Mrs. Walker, who lives at 7254 1/2, was thrown from the jetney and landed on her head. Mrs. Hogan, whose home is at 2252 Second and Everett streets, landed on her head and suffered a principal injury from the shock, although a foot was injured. Both were taken to their homes.

The jetney was going east on Alder and had almost crossed the street intersection when the larger car came from the rear on Lowndes and crashed into the rear of the other machine, overturning it. The large automobile skidded for 30 feet after striking the jetney.

Mrs. Walker saw the large machine bearing down upon the jetney several seconds before the crash and screamed, but witnesses said the machine continued on its course, which sent it into the rear of the other car.

DRUGGIST CAUGHT IN ROBBERY OF BLIND

J. M. Haberly Confesses to Many Thefts From Store of Sightless Cigar Man.

MARKED GOODS FOUND

Detective, Hiding in Booth, Sees Purchaser Take Extra Supply From Box—Dealer Near Failure Because of Losses.

With seven marked cigars and a dozen packages of gum that he had stolen from the stand of Tom Long, blind cigar dealer at the City Hall, in his pockets, J. M. Haberly, manager of the Athens Drug Company at Thirteenth and Morrison streets, was arrested early yesterday morning by City Detective Hyde. He later confessed to Mayor Albee, Chief of Police Clark and Detective Hyde that his depredations on the stand of the blind salesman had extended over a period of several months.

The goods taken, which cut down the profits of the cigar man to nothing, had been sold at the drug store at a clear profit according to the detective. Indignation of city officials ran high following the arrest of Haberly, but though a vigorous prosecution was advocated in many quarters it is probable that no charges will be filed against the drug store man, who has promised to make good the loss to the cigar man.

Mortgage Said to Cover Loss. It is understood that a chattel mortgage worth $100 and payable in 10 days, on fixtures in the drug store, was turned over to Long by Haberly, who is probably making good the loss to the cigar man.

Long had been missing cigars, candy and gum for more than a year, and had suspected Haberly for some time. As it was Haberly's custom to visit the store at an early morning hour when there were few about, or at a noon hour when no one was near the stand, it was difficult to apprehend him. His custom was to buy a cigar, and help himself to the blind dealer's stock while he was being served.

An intermittent vigil for 10 days by Detective Hyde resulted in the arrest yesterday. Many long hours were spent by the detective in telephone booth near the cigar stand, waiting for Haberly, but the latter had become suspicious and for two weeks did not visit the stand.

Extra Ones Are Taken. Yesterday morning he came, but a few minutes after the officer had accosted himself in the nearby booth, through the glass window of which he could see the man. Cigars on top rows in the cases exposed had already been marked with a pin stick in the ends.

Haberly asked for a cheap cigar and put out a nickel in payment. As the box was held out to him he selected one cigar, but as the blind dealer was in change took out six more.

The detective ran out and caught him before he could leave the building.

Blind Dealer Near Bankruptcy. "Weakness" is the only excuse Haberly could give for his actions. He was bitterly scored by Chief Clark. The blind dealer was on the verge of bankruptcy because of the thieving intruder on his stock. His profits amounted to little when the stealing went on systematically, and for this reason he is desirous of not prosecuting if he can get some of the money represented by the stolen goods returned.

Haberly was not taken to the City Jail, but released pending an adjustment of the case.

DEFENDER GIVES 205 AID

Statement of Work for August Is Submitted to Mayor.

Two hundred and five cases were handled during August by Public Defender Robison, according to his monthly statement submitted yesterday to Mayor Albee. Of the cases 48 of the persons were discharged, 12 were suspended sentences, 32 were punished and 7 were bound over to the grand jury.

In addition to handling these cases, the report says that a great amount of legal advice was given to persons unable to pay for such services.

Indian, 75, in Jail Walls Trial.

Joe Gay, an Indian 75 years old, arrived at the County Jail last night in the custody of Deputy United States Marshal Johnson, to face trial on a charge of assault upon Steve L. Ray, another Indian, 75 years old. The attack is said to have been made several days ago in the Siletz Indian reservation.

Public Market May Go

EAST SIDE INSTITUTION IS SUBJECT OF HEATED DEBATE.

New Location May Be Decided by Business Men's Club—Interest Is Declared to Have Waned.

The market committee of the East Side Business Men's Club had a heated discussion yesterday over conditions at the East Washington street Public Market. Commissioner Bigelow was present.

None of the market committee are pleased with this market. C. C. Hall thought it ought to be discontinued and did not think it was doing much good to the community. The other members, J. D. Sherman, Wilson Benfield and H. L. Camp, were divided. L. M. Logan, secretary of the club, contended that the market should be maintained, and told the committee it had no authority to abolish the market and said the club would abolish the committee if it undertook to do away with the market.

The committee adjourned to meet Tuesday, when the question will be disposed of either by abolishing the market or moving it to another place.

Commissioner Bigelow said the market had not been satisfactory for some time. J. B. Messerve, who has been in charge, has made efforts to create interest in the market, but it has dwindled down to a few stalls. The location is not considered favorable, and any change will be made to change to Union avenue, near East Morrison street.

FARMERS TO VISIT HERE

Excursionists From Middle West to Inspect Northwest Lands.

L. C. Anderson, exposition commissioner for the Union Pacific system, was in Portland yesterday arranging for a series of excursions that will bring into the Northwest within the next few months several hundred prospecting Middle Western