Baum Fools Supporters and Twirls Steady, Good Game. Lush Hit Off and Easily.

Portland Fails to Get Going Until Fifth, When Luce Tally of 5-to-1 Score is Landed on Throw by Jones, Trifle Late.

Pacific Coast League Standings. San Francisco 80, Portland 77, Los Angeles 75, Vernon 73.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 3.—(Special.)—Spider Baum fooled his supporters today. Ordinarily when a chap is honored by having one of the week days named after him and is feted with tokens of esteem, his performance is anything but a glittering success.

Seals took a liking to the delivery of Lush from the start and pasted the southpaw for five runs in the five innings in which he performed, all of them scored by Lush.

Fitzgerald led off with a rap to center field. Schaller walked and Bodie, who laid down a bunt, was safe because Stump neglected to cover first and take the throw.

The locals certainly swatted the ball in the last of the fifth. Servino was walked but forced at second by Baum.

Portland dropped into second place by losing to Vernon today, 4 to 3, while San Francisco won from Portland.

Los Angeles drops to second, despite Garner's Good Showings.

COAST STARS STAY

Johnston Defeats Behr in Sensational Match.

M'LOUGHLIN ALSO VICTOR

Young Johnston's Play in National Tournament Declared Far Superior to "California Comet's" Showing—Prediction Made.

FOREST HILLS, N. Y., Sept. 3.—With one exception the leading players in the 35th annual tournament of the National Tennis Association came through the fourth round of championship play on the top of Forest Hills here today according to form.

The exception was the defeat of Karl H. Behr of New York, by William M. Johnston of San Francisco, 3-6, 6-3, 6-2, 7-5.

Johnston followed his more famous teammate, Maurice E. Mozos, who had on the courts this afternoon after the latter had defeated Frederick B. Alexander and the playing of Johnston was so superior to that of California comet that tonight many are inclined to believe that were he in the lower half of the draw Johnston would reach a place in the finals.

The Eastern player started by opening the first set at top speed, but once Johnston got warmed up he hit his game notch by notch until Behr could no longer follow him.

Smashes Are Deadly. He was deadly with his smashes, chop strokes and ability to cover the entire length of the netting. He had further advantage in that he played stoically when the points went against him, whereas Behr became flustered and showed the strain that came from his errors of judgment in play.

McLoughlin had an easier victory on his way to the fifth round in his defeat of Alexander 6-2, 6-2, 1-6, 6-3. Although the former champion, who holds two legs of the present challenge bowl, did not exhibit the form that has made him almost invincible in past years, he was still Alexander's master.

His terrific service with its powerful, high-bouncing smashes. McLoughlin was only at a disadvantage when he was crowded well to the forecourt. In the position at the net he was uncertain in his stroke and except in his last set failed to become his former self.

Washington 2, New York 0. WASHINGTON, Sept. 3.—Washington's fourth victory of the series over New York today was a shutout, 2 to 0. The match was played in the first inning, when Peckinpau's Texas leaguer was followed by Bauman's solid single, but Peckinpau was the man's singles in the next play, he and Bauman being the only visitors to get as far as second base. Pleh was the only exception in the sixth inning.

Conservative Game Played. Alexander attempted to play a careful, conservative game against McLoughlin in the first round, but abandoned this form of tennis campaign in the third, which he won 6 to 1. During this session the Eastern player smashed the ball with all the force in his power and the harder he drove the more successful he was in his shots.

McLoughlin fought his way to the net and quickly hammered his way to victory. Earlier in the day T. Roosevelt Pell, Jr. of Brooklyn, 5-1, 6-2, 6-3, which he won in the first round, beat R. Norris Williams III, of Philadelphia, 6-2, 6-1, 6-2.

Chicago 4, Pittsburg 1. PITTSBURG, Sept. 3.—Humphreys, pitching for Chicago, was reached in the second inning of the game today for four hits and three runs, which was enough for Pittsburg to win, the final score being 4 to 1. Standridge took Humphreys' place in the third and did good work. Mammox was effective throughout. Score: Chicago, B H O A E. Pittsburg, B H O A E.

VARSITY LOSES STAR

Philbin Starts East Today to Enter Penn State.

DECISION GIVES SURPRISE

While Eyes Were Known to Be Cast Toward Atlantic, General Opinion Was That ex-Columbian Would Go to Notre Dame.

The University of Oregon, Hugo Bezdek, Bill Hayward, friends and fans have seen big Dave Philbin, former Columbia University and Oregon star of the football field, wear the colors of a Western college for the first time.

This morning Dave leaves for Flavel to take the steamer Great Northern to San Francisco. After a short stay in the fair city the Oregon man will say goodbye to the Pacific Coast and within a week will register at Pennsylvania State College in the departments of law and economics.

Philbin's departure for the East comes as a surprise to followers of football in this section, and his registration is a shock, though it had been rumored often that he would choose his college days in an Eastern institution. It was always thought, however, that the University of Notre Dame would be his choice.

Penn State is a new wrinkle. "I am leaving Oregon because I can see educational advantages at Pennsylvania which other schools cannot offer," said Philbin yesterday.

I hate to go and am homesick already. Dave, as he is known to all his friends, broke into the athletic world at Columbia University in the Fall of 1912. His talent was unbridled and Philbin ranked as the biggest "dark horse" that the Interscholastic League of this city ever produced. At the close of the season Philbin was unanimously selected by newspaper men for an all-star berth on the mythical team. The following year he repeated his successes on the athletic field and left Columbia to register at Oregon last season.

As a freshman at the State University he made the team hands down, and although his game was never brilliant in collegiate circles, it was good and earned him a prominent position. Dave is the eldest son of J. A. Philbin, a local contractor.
