MR. BAKER TO HEAD ECONOMY CAMPAIGN

Commissioner Promises to Cut Expenses in His Department to Lowest Notch.

SOME HEADS IN DANGER

In Making Budget for Next Year Council Will Face Double Hardship of Empty Treasury and Loss of Liquor License Fees.

A campaign of municipal economy is to be headed by City Commissioner Ba-ker. He announced yesterday that he her. He announced yesterday that he is getting things in shape for the commencement of a "municipal housecleaning," which will show itself when the Council takes up the question of appropriations for 1916. He says he expects to have a majority of the Council with him.

A start will be made in the Park A start will be made in the Park Bureau and other bureaus under his own administration. Every item of salaries and supplies will be cut to the bone, he says, leaving only enough to conduct the department efficiently and to keep park affairs in working shape.
He says he believes the other Commissioners will be willing to adopt the Heads Are in Danger.

Just what will happen is uncertain Just what will happen is uncertain, but it is likely that many present positions will be on the "missing Hst" when the new year sets in, and possibly before that time. It means also that the tax levy for next year will be trimmed to the lowest possible figure. Mr. Faker said yesterday that on account of present conditions he will account of present conditions he will account of present conditions he will oppose any appropriation that is not absolutely necessary and will do his best to get rid of some that might be classed as "necessary" but can wait a while. He says he has assurance of ample support in this move.

To further this end a committee of business men will be asked to co-operate with the Council in an sayingery enter which we have a say the council in an saying the council in an account to the council in an saying the council in the council in an saying the council in the council in the council in an saying the council in the pic with the Council in an advisory ca-pacity. It is probable the Chamber of Commerce will be asked to suggest hames for this committee and that these names will be adopted by the and made official as far as ossible.

"I propose to go down the line and cut everything to the bone as far as I am shie so to do," said Mr. Baker yesterday. "I have talked with some of the Commissioners and have assurance that they will be with me in the move. If there is any way to reduce the cost of municipal government it will be municipal government it will be done this year, or I miss my guess.

Heavy Cuts Predicted.

"Between now and the time we start on our budget work I have arranged for considerable probing, so that I will know where I stand. I haven't got my work far enough along yet to now just where we stand, except that believe there is plenty of room for runing in some of the departmenta. As for my own department, I will out everything to the bone myself, and the Council can go as much farther as it does necessary."

In considering the budget for 1916 the Council faces a serious problem inasmuch as there will be but a small surplus of funds—if any—at the entiof this year to carry over into next year's appropriations. The city will fall also to get the usual $300,000 in saloon licenses next year on account of full mill of taxation. A mill means a lof taxation on every $1000 of assessable property in the city.

The Council and the city.

Meler & Frank's Heavy of Santage of ble property in the city.

The Council cut the levy so low for the present year that the usual annual surplus of funds at the end of the year will be lacking, at least in a large part. For that reason there will be just so much more to raise for next year. Those facts, combined with the loss of liquor license revenue, will be the difficuities to be faced when the Council tries to get next year's levy. Council tries to get next year's levy lecture con within reason.

The signers were not by any means confined to the large stores of the city, the big majority of the first establish-ments to take advantage of the situa-tion being the comparatively small

On Tuesday the committee of women will renew the campaign for lining up merchants, and it is believed that before the end of the week approximately 1000 business houses will have joined the Dollar day movement.

Dollar day simply means that on September 23 every participating business house will offer more merchandise for one dollar than he does on any other day.
