

DR. WHITING'S REPLY GOES INTO DETAIL

Woman Declared Possessed by Jealousy Mania and Suspicious of Patients.

INTOXICATION IS CHARGED Physician, in Answer to Divorce Action, Reports He Has Been Blamed for Relations With 25 Women at Various Times.

Replying to the sensational accusations made by Mrs. Iva M. Whiting in answer to her divorce suit, Dr. Sanford Whiting yesterday filed his affidavit in County Clerk Coffey's office denying most of the charges made by his wife and setting up a formidable array of counter-charges.

Answering her charge of drunkenness, Dr. Whiting cites three occasions when he says Mrs. Whiting herself imbibed too freely. He says his affidavit that she is congenitally a jealous disposition and that she has attempted to commit suicide on at least two occasions.

Dr. Whiting's affidavit says: "Because of the affidavit filed by the defendant, Iva M. Whiting, in which she sets forth various false and malicious charges derogatory to me, and made with the evident intent to harm me and blacken my name and make it impossible for me to practice my profession, it becomes necessary for me to set forth in self-defense, and with no intent whatever to harm her, to set forth the facts.

Suspicion of Patients Reported. "Iva M. Whiting is congenitally a jealous and suspicious nature, and this condition of her mind was evidenced before her marriage on December 9, 1903.

To illustrate this, I might say that six weeks after my marriage a former friend and patient came to my office for treatment, and the said Iva M. Whiting, hearing of this visit, went to this woman's house and made threats against her if she ever came to my office in the future. Times without number she has accused me of being intimate with patients, when their business was purely of a professional nature.

"This form of jealousy and suspicion grew until it became almost a mania, and many times she displayed the most violent temper and would become hysterical and denounce me in the most bitter language.

Suicide Attempts Alleged. "When reading at 812 Johnson street, in 1913, while undergoing one of these attacks, she attempted suicide by taking an overdose of cocaine and paregoric, and it was only after strenuous efforts on my part that she was revived.

During the month of January, 1914, while living at 491 East Sixteenth street, she procured a half-pound bottle of chloroform from my obstetrical bag, went upstairs with it, and placing the entire contents on an undershirt, completely covered her head with the headclothes. I found her in this condition in five minutes later and it required my medical skill to restore her to revive her. At that time I felt it necessary to procure all poisonous drugs about the hospital.

the cause of my leaving home. This is absolutely false. I was only slightly acquainted with Mary E. Merges prior to my leaving home, and will admit that for many months before this date, because of her conduct, I had no love or affection for the defendant. I left her because I could no longer stand the conditions under which I was living.

"She also accused me of undue intimacy with Mrs. Merges before I left home, which accusation is absolutely untrue. Her accusations along these lines are purely venomous and caused by a desire to vindictively attack Mrs. Merges, who is absolutely innocent by any word or action of being the cause of my leaving home.

25 Women on List, He Says. "The accusation that Mrs. Merges left the state surreptitiously is also untrue. She had plans already made to go to Florida with friends and she did not deem it necessary to inform me her plans to pamper the whims of a jealous woman and indulge in a lot of cheap notoriety through a farcical damage suit.

"I know of at least 25 women with whom I have been accused by the said Iva M. Whiting, and the names of Mrs. Merges is just another name added to a long list.

Jealousy Called Mania. "Her jealousy and suspicious became a mania long before I left for days at a time she has accused me of first one woman and then another. A few days after my leaving her she threatened to ruin my life, and she was who was through with me I would not be able to live in the City of Portland."

Dr. Whiting charged his wife with extravagance and denies the allegation that he has not furnished her sufficient money. He says his "luxurious apartments" in the Oregon Hotel consisted of a small room and a bath, and that he was compelled to sell one of his automobiles because of hard times.

INSURANCE BALANCE IS BIG Industrial Commission May Grant Exemption for Another Month. SALEM, Or., Sept. 7.—(Special.)—Balance on hand in the State Industrial Accident Commission is $286,136.89, according to a report of the Commission today. Of this amount $216,163.19 has been set aside for the payment of pensioners.

Receipts since the pension feature of the workmen's compensation act became operative, July 1, 1914, are as follows: Contributions by the State, $25,945.23; employers' contributions, $210,507.18; and contributed by workmen, $89,084.35.

Disbursements were as follows: Balance in reserve to guarantee pensions, $210,163.19; compensation for time lost, $251,547.94; first aid to injured workmen, $54,299.44; pensions paid, $130,132.09; and administrative expense, $78,484.25.

There was a deficit of $18,441.54 for July this year because of an exemption of fees. The Commission still has good working balance and it is probable that exemption will be granted for at least another month.

The General says: The greatest lesson the world has learned in the past year is the advantage of military preparedness. Exactness, efficiency and constant readiness should be fundamentals in the industries of a country, just as they must be in its defenses. We have always exercised those principles in the manufacture of General Roofing products, and I believe that is one big reason why they are actually profitable to the purchaser.

Looking back with satisfaction Looking ahead with confidence Before the days of the General Roofing Mfg. Company, roofing and building papers cost the consumer much more than they do today. It is a question if the quality that is in the goods today was in them then. The General brought about this great reduction in cost; the General improved the quality; the General, through applying military exactness and efficiency to a peaceful project, actually benefited the buyer of roofing not only in a dollar-and-cents way but in the service delivered by the goods. That is why today the General does 30% of the total volume of the business represented by such products.

Certain-teed Roofing. What is back of the roofing you buy is just as important as what is in it. With three huge mills the General is equipped bigger and better than any roofing manufacturer on earth. Operating these mills on military principles—applying military precision to every step from the securing of raw materials to the shipping and delivery of the finished products—all this means added value in the goods and in their service.

The river was closed two or three years ago to logging in order that it might be prepared for shipping. Mr. Sinnott continued his trip southward, visiting Merrill, Malin and the Tule Lake section.

PORTLAND SALESMAN HURT W. E. Moore Is Victim of Auto In Accident at Seattle.

SEATTLE, Sept. 7.—(Special.)—William E. Moore, 69 years old, a publishing-house salesman of Portland, was probably fatally injured early today when he was caught by an unmanageable automobile delivery wagon and crushed against the Arctic Club building at Third avenue and Jefferson street. The driver of the car, O. J. Fairhurst, Seattle representative for the Love-Warren-Monroe Company, of Tacoma, while driving a delivery wagon, with offices in the Pacific block, cleared up the man's identity. A witness in Portland.

William E. Moore lived with his wife, Caroline E. Moore, at 1103 East Twenty-sixth street North. He had been connected with the Leslie-Judge Company here for the past three years.

GUARD LIEUTENANT QUITS S. E. Trask Resigns From Company K at Corvallis.

CORVALLIS, Or., Sept. 7.—(Special.)—First Lieutenant S. E. Trask, Third Infantry, Oregon National Guard, has forwarded his resignation to Adjutant General White at Portland, to take effect at once. Lieutenant Trask was made Second Lieutenant of Company K, Corvallis company of Oregon National Guard, soon after its organization and served until June, 1913, when he was made First Lieutenant.

Lieutenant Trask announces: "I regret very much that I could not have had the time to give to the Guard that I would have liked to give. However, as a civilian I will be as strong a friend of the organization as ever. I believe in military preparedness, although I do not believe in militarism."
