Changes in Federal Reserve Act Proposed by American Association at Seattle.

MR. TAFT IS TO BE DINED

President Law, in Annual Address, Asks Members if Profits From War Munitions Will Warp Our Traditional Heritage.

SEATTLE, Wash., Sept. 8.-The American Bankers' Association adopted a resolution offered from the floor of the convention by ex-Representative Cornellus A. Pugsley, of Peekskill, N. Y. strongly approving and pledging support to the several state governments, as well as to the National Government, in all efforts to secure practical preparedness along the lines of National defense. One negative vote was cast.

National defense. One negative vote was cast.

The convention adopted a resolution, approved by the administrative council, that an attempt be made to procure an amendment to section 19 of the Federal reserve act so as to give member banks not in Federal reserve or central reserve cities the option of keeping 4 per cent of their reserve with any National bank in any reserve or central reserve city in the United States or within a radius of 380 miles of the member bank or within the Federal reserve district, in addition to the option the member banks now have of keeping such 4 per cent in their own vaults or in the Federal reserve bank.

A resolution was adopted, on recommendation of the committee on laws, advocating amendment of section 5219 of the revised statutes so that where taxes are imposed upon the income of personal property the income derived from National bank shares may be included in the income of the owner or holder thereof in assessing such taxes, in the city or town where Trust Company Opposition Ignored.

Despite objection of the trust company section, an amendment to the constitution providing that no proposed National or stat. Iegislation should be urged by any section of the association without the approval of the laws committee and of the association as a whole, was passed. The trust company section regarded the ameniment as a move to hamper its members in an effort to have repealed that section of the Federal reserve act which confers on National banks trust company powern National banks trust company powern on National banks trust company pow-after arriving here, for the purpose of pleasing the younger banking men, who were eager to greet and to hear him. W. A. Peters, a college mate of Mr. Taft at Yale, will be toastmaster and covers will be laid for 106.

The vast armory of the National Guard of Washington housed tonight the largest and most pretentious social event ever held under its roof, the ball given by the bankers and their wives of Seattle in honor of the visitors, their wives and frends. It is estimated that 1200 persons visited the armory during the evening, while there were always hundreds of couples on the floor. The decorations were worked out under the personal supervision of Oliver H. P. Lafarge, son of the late John Lafarge, the noted American artist. Mr. Lafarge, who is secretary of the Bank for Savings of this city, is himself an art critic of local reputation.

They were going to high school together, the boy studying to be an engineer and the girl aspiring to be a lawyer. On June 16 they went to Vancouver and were married. They returned to their homes, planning to let no one know of it until they had completed their educations. The story leaked out, however, and their parents sought an annullment.

COMB BROUGHER SAYS:

"Los Angeles, March 25, 1914.
"To the Pastors:
"Dear Brethren—W. Earl Flynn, the noted health lecturer, conducted a nealth campaign in Los Angeles for six weeks. It has resulted in mitoid good to the members of the evangelical churches of the city. A conservative estimate places the number of people who heard him in his lectures at 100,000.

"As chairman of the ministerisi committe for Los Angeles, I am glad to say that Mr. Flynn's campaign had our hearty indorsement, and at the close of it every member of the committee addressed the great health class and gave Mr. Flynn and his system their unqualitied approval.

"I believe if the preachers should decide to have a campaign, they will find it of great value to the individual members of the churches and to the cause of Christ as represented by the churches."
