PETER HUME IS DEAD

Pioneer Banker Is Victim of Two Weeks' Illness.

OREGON ACTIVITIES MANY. Sellwood Resident Founder of Two Banks, Woolen Mills, Lodge and Y. M. C. A.—Burial to Be at Old Home, Brownsville.

Peter Hume, founder and ex-president of the Bank of Brownsville, Linn County, where he had lived during 36 of his 48 years of continuous residence in Oregon; ex-president of the Brownsville Woolen Mills and founder and president of the Bank of Sellwood, died early yesterday at his home, 467 Nebalem avenue.

He had been ill only two weeks. Until the last few days his condition had not seemed serious. His widow, Mrs. Mary Hume, and four of their five children, Percy Hume, of Portland; Mrs. Harvey W. Freeze, Mrs. C. A. Ziegler and Mrs. L. H. Alexander, all of Portland, were at the bedside when death came. Another daughter, Mrs. F. L. McGill, lives in Anacortes, Wash.

Mr. Hume was 75 years old August 15 last. He was born on the island of Cape Breton, Nova Scotia, but his paternal grandfather, also Peter Hume, was born and reared in Maine. In 1862, when he was 22 years old, Mr. Hume came to Oregon by way of New York City, the isthmus of Panama and San Francisco. He remained here only a short time, however, going on to British Columbia; but in 1867 he returned to Oregon, settling in Brownsville.

He had been a resident of the state ever since. Mr. Hume, soon after locating at Brownsville, gave evidence of his business ability. In 1873, in partnership with Thomas Kay, father of State Treasurer Kay, he established the Brownsville Woolen Mills, under his presidency, became a successful enterprise. He remained president until 1887 and then organized the Bank of Brownsville. He was president of the bank until 1892, when he removed with his family to Roseburg.

He returned to Brownsville in 1896 and was re-elected president of the bank. He lived in Brownsville until January, 1907, when he came to Portland and organized the Bank of Sellwood, of which he had been president ever since. Mr. Hume was active in the management of the bank and its affairs until his final illness.

Mr. Hume on September 5, 1873, was married at Brownsville to Miss Mary Walter, a daughter of Elias Walter, Oregon pioneer of 1845. Besides his widow and their five living children, two brothers and two sisters survive him. One brother, David Hume, of San Diego, and Joseph Hume, of Brownsville. The sisters are Mrs. Sarah Ross, of Alameda, Cal., and Mrs. John Yates, of Olympia, Wash. Funeral services will be held Tuesday at 2 o'clock at the Sellwood Methodist Church, of which Mr. Hume was a member. The Rev. A. R. McDaniel, pastor of the church, will conduct the services, assisted by the Rev. T. E. Ferguson, of Oregon City, an old friend of the family.

Mr. Hume was for more than 30 years a member of the Brownsville Lodge of Masons, Linn Chapter, No. 19. Within a year after removing to Portland in 1907 he organized the present Sellwood Masonic Lodge. In honor of his labors on behalf of the lodge he was presented with a badge on which were inscribed the words, "Father of the Lodge." Mr. Hume took great pride in this badge.

The two lodges will unite in conducting the burial services in Brownsville Wednesday. A delegation of the Sellwood Lodge will escort the body from Portland to Brownsville. Mr. Hume was a staunch Republican from the time he was old enough to cast his first vote. He was for many years chairman of the Linn county Republican Central Committee. He was active in the affairs of the Sellwood Board of Trade and was one of the directors of the Sellwood Y. M. C. A., which he helped organize.

The meeting is the first of a number which Superintendent Miller plans to hold this year. The purpose is to develop public interest in what the schools are doing.

JAPANESE SEEKS DATA

TRAVELER TO TELL COUNTRYMEN OF INDUSTRIAL CONDITIONS.

5000 of $500-Mile Trip in Search of Information Made Afoot by Interpreter for Newspaper.

To gather detailed information concerning industrial and commercial conditions in the United States, information that will be incorporated in a book that he will present to his countrymen who contemplate visiting this country, J. Miya-Gawa, Japanese interpreter for the Nagasaki Press, is in Portland, having finished all but 700 miles of his $500-mile journey.

Starting from Vancouver, B. C., a year ago last March, Mr. Miya-Gawa walked the 3500 miles across the continent to New York. After visiting all the largest of the Eastern cities he left for the West and has been in the more important towns from the Atlantic to the Pacific in the northern part of the United States.

Mr. Miya-Gawa visits the Mayors and the Chambers of Commerce for the information that he wants. Besides making industrial and commercial inquiries he has made visits to many of the colleges and universities, and in Montana he visited the mines.

During his 18 months' trip Mr. Miya-Gawa has filled two books with newspaper clippings and autographs. Among other autographs he exhibits the one of Woodrow Wilson.

From Portland Mr. Miya-Gawa will walk to San Francisco, from where he will sail for his home in Japan. Of the $500 miles traveled, 5000 have been on foot.

Judge Stevenson Discovers "Near Twins". Professed "Brothers" Claim to Have Been Born in April and September of Same Year.

JACK WHITE and W. M. White were the names they gave before Municipal Judge Stevenson the other day. They said they were brothers.

Judge Stevenson still retains some love for human nature, rudely abused though that faith often is, but it could not quite induce belief in this case. Jack and W. M. did not look like brothers, the family resemblance was not there.

Like the wise man of history, the magistrate determined to test the accuracy of the statement of the brothers. He called on the police. While he sat on the bench he whispered a few words in that officer's ear. Hennessy took Jack White out of the courtroom. While his brother was outside, W. M. White remained and received a grilling at the hands of the judge.

"Your father's name? Her maiden name? Your father's name? The date of your birth?" were a few of the questions fired at W. M. Meanwhile, Jack was receiving the same bombardment outside. Then the judge and bailiff compared notes.

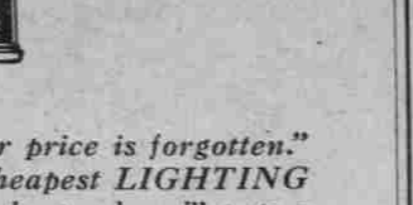

"Harry and Jessie," the names of father and mother, agreed. But there all agreement ended. The mother's maiden name was a thing upon which loved though that faith often is, but it could not quite induce belief in this case. Jack and W. M. did not look like brothers, the family resemblance was not there.

Culinary Triumphs. Dear Friends: Few of the world's popular hostleries ever condescend to discuss food. So all that the world today knows about the inner workings of most hotels is smothered in the mysterious word "Cuisine." In due time, while I am engaged in personally delivering to you these messages, the veil will be lifted and it will no doubt be a revelation to many. We shall trace the checkered career of a chicken from the roost to the roast, from the farm to the Multnomah. And unless Oregonians have entirely lost their taste for culinary triumphs, a treat awaits them in the Multnomah dining service.

Many of them long ago chose this strong state bank as their Northwestern representative to facilitate their interests and financially co-operate with them.
