The horse-racing proved interesting, there being an unusually large number of entries. Yesterday's heavy rain iaid the dust on the track, and it was fast. Hal Edo, owned by W. S. Abbott, of Portland, took two firsts and a second in the 2:18 pace.

If the weather is at all favorable this year, the association expects to break all records. Charles Irwin arrived this morning with 27 carloads of animals and performers, and his men are entered in the contests. "I've been trying for years to break into Walla Walla and I'm going to do it on my own expense," he told Secretary Johnson.

The electric wires in the building were at once ablaze. There was as much smoke, according to immates of the building, as if a two-story wooden house were burning. A fire alarm was turned in and econ every piece of fire-fighting apparatus in the city was on hand to fight the fire. A panic resulted among the inmates of both buildings. The elevators were put out of suited among the inmates of both build-ings. The elevators were put out of commission by the lightning stroke and occupants of the building rushed down the stairs and on to the street. The force of the bolt of lightning was shown by the hole it made in the concrete where it struck. A hole about two inches in diameter was forced through at least nine inches of concrete, and a heavy piece of galvanized tin was pierced. The brick wall against which the lightning struck was seared.

The Giants always have been a pretty talky growd with McGraw "ribting" the boys up to keep after the enemy, but we couldn't get a tumble out of the Braves when both clubs were driving down to the finish or the 1914 race.

Old Steadisess Found Lacking.

But here is the light race this season between Boston, Philadelphia and Brooklyn, and the Boston club is not showhing the same steadiness of last year. Johnny Evers kicked himself into a five days' suspension before the recent important series with the Giants, and we rode the Braves on Labor day until they didn't know whether they were playing busebail or in vaudevile. They fell for it hard. It surprised me, and convinced me that the strain has told.

I don't look to see Stallings come through again, and I pick the Brooklyn was wandering all over the bench when he was absorbing the second dose of detail in one day.
