BY ROSCOE FAWCETT. Vernon didn't have any more show yesterday than a burglar's hope of heaven. Stanley Coveleskie reversed Thursday's proceedings by holding the Bengals to four hits while the Beavers cannonaded Southpaw Roy Hitt off the mound in seven innings. Roy was just a natural bust—with the Mackmen doing the busting. The final score

As if it were not enough humiliation to hold his opponents to four scat-tered singles. Coveleskie trundled up to the home platter in the sixth inning with the bases full and calmly proeeded to swat out a two-bagger, scor ing two and starting a four-run riot Billy Southworth, the nifty little horticulturist, who is just getting acquainted with Portland scenery, also starred at the hat. Southworth obtained two singles and a two-bagger.

fast they looked like wheel spokes. Ordinarily there wouldn't have been a chance to make home safely and Harry Krause on the conching line tried everything except a flying tackle to stop the fleeing youngster. But there was no stopping. Billy turned third like a humming bird and slid into the plate yards ahead of the ball.
Other nubbins of the day were a heroic throw about 40 feet over Catcher Meek's head by Dickey Bayless, of the Vernons, and an amusing mistake by Don Rader, of the same ball club.

Collins' Attitude Expected.

"If there are two plays every infielder knows," said "Johnny" Evers to me, in discussing the White Sox "bone," "they are this one they pulled in Chicago, when the batter is out anyway if he fairs, and the one with a runner on first when an infield ball is hit. If you throw to first to get the man going there, then you have to touch the other runner coming into second, for the double. You have killed the force play. BOSTON, Sept. 17.—The tables were turned on the Tigers today, Boston defeating Detroit, 7 to 2. The Red Sox' victory again gave the local team a lead of more than two games, making it impossible for Detroit to displace them in the present series.

Leonard held the hard-hitting Tigers to one single in the first eight innings.

to one single in the first eight innings. In the ninth he hit Vitt and grooved a ball for Cobb. The latter sent it into the right-field stands and the visitors' only runs were scored. Although feeling between the teams ran high throughout the game, it wa not so much in evidence as was th case yesterday.

Gardner Passed Purposely. It was Boston who scored in the first inning today. James' passes put Hooper and Speaker on base and Hoblitzel's stinging hit to right sent Hooper home. Speaker was thrown out at the plate on Lewis' infield rap. Gardner was passed purposely, filling the bases, but Barry popped to James.
