

PRUNE CROP LIGHT

Estimates of Northwestern Yield Are Reduced.

DRYING NEARLY COMPLETED

Output is Now Figured at Twenty to Twenty-Two Million Pounds.

Market is Firmer—Old Crop Scarce Gone.

The Northwestern prune crop is not turning out as well as it was thought it would, and as a consequence estimates are being reduced.

Many of the growers are now through with their drying operations. There is a little activity on the part of buyers, as a result of the reduced crop estimates, and the market is firmer, prices for prunes ranging from 10 to 12 cents higher than a month ago.

The surplus of old-crop prunes on this coast has been worked off, and according to advices from New York, spot stocks there have also been cleared up.

WHEAT MARKET IS WAITING ONE

Local Price Changes Are Irregular and Demand is Lacking.

The wheat market in the Northwest was quiet yesterday. It is centered in the trade is in a waiting attitude, pending the settlement of the Anglo-French credit negotiations.

Foreign crop conditions are summarized by Broomhall as follows: United Kingdom—Weather has been more favorable for harvesting, which is nearly finished.

Germany—There are no reports, but it is understood that the crop is good. Food supplies are liberal.

Russia—Rain, which is general, is hindering harvesting and quality is below average. Seedling wheat is being sown.

France—Wheat and rye are being sown. Bales and oat straw are being marketed.

Australia—Crop prospects are fully maintained.

Italy—Weather continues very wet and wheat prospects are lowered.

Portugal—Wheat and rye are being sown. Bales and oat straw are being marketed.

Exports from North America last week included 25,000 bushels of corn and 1,275,000 bushels of oats.
