

Men's Clothing Moved to Third Floor New Bldg.

Ready for You

-Bigger stocks and better stocks than ever beforeand THAT MEANS SOMETHING!

-But, consider! We have been preparing long and earnestly for the opening of this important department in its new, enlarged and permanent quarters. We want to make this an event worthy of our high reputation and your steadily increasing patronage. Come in-today if possible-and judge if we have succeeded. You know these famous

Hickey-Freeman Rogers-Peet "Society Brand" Adler-Rochester

-We have them in fullest assortments, every wanted model, advanced or conservative style; sizes for men of every build, long, short, stout, long stout and regular.

-But our readiness does not stop here. Our "Invincible" line at $16.50 is simply the last word in moderately-priced clothing. Hosts of others, built to please every taste and priced to suit every purse. -We won't detain you longer. Step in for a few minutes and look around. Handle the fabrics and take a close look at the styles, colors, workmanship and finish. That will please you better and prove mutually more satisfactory.

Wednesday Is

Homefurnishing Day

-the day when every home-furnishing department makes a supreme effort to show vou WHY Meier & Frank's is home-furnishing headquarters in Portland.

-Tuesday evening and Wednesday morning papers will bring you details of many timely offerings in rugs, curtains, furniture, linens and other needs for the home.

-And "Dollar Day" Comes Thursday

-of course Meier & Frank's will be the center of "Dollar Day" crowds. Every department manager has been planning for weeks to give you the most phenomenal dollar offerings.

-Need we say more than this? You may expect the most astonishing values at a dollar that Portland has ever known. Details will prove it!

The National Dahlia Show at Meier & Franks

-Never before has so much interest been manifested in dahlias! This great National Show will bring more than 1000 entries, with many parts of the country splendidly represented.

-The entire sixth floor, if necessary, will be given up to the gorgeous dahlia displays next Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

NIGHT SCHOOLS READY

MANY COURSES ARE OFFERED AT LINCOLN AND JEFERSON HIGH.

Classes Open to All, Irrespective of or Nativity-Scope of Study Is Broad.

The Council has directed me to notify you of its action of the 17th in accepting on behalf of the people of the City of Portland your generous gift of the property known as "Multinomah Falls," and to acknowledge that will begin their Winter activities October 4, a statement of the studies offered is urged by school authorities. In the Lincoln High, where the majority of the night students register, a full commercial course will be offered, in which bookkeeping, accounting, typewriting and business law will be given. Of the languages, French, Spanish, English, German and Latin will be given. Of the languages, French, Spanlish, English, German and Latin will be in the curriculum, and college entrance credits may be gained by taking the courses offered. Besides the languages and commercial course, most of the studies that are taught in the day high schools will be offered. Physics, chemistry and mathematics through trigonometry will be taught. Mechanical drawing, navigation and perhaps domestic science will complete the courses.

According to John C. Veatch, principal of Lincoln High night school. 1800 men and women were enrolled in night courses in that school tast year, most of them being clerks and business men. "An idea is prevalent that the courses are open only to those of high school age and to foreigners," said Mr. Veatch, "but age and nativity are not considerations. The schools are for the use of the general public."

Work will also be offered in the Jefferson High School, and the School of Trades for both the loys and the girls will reopen. A number of elementary schools will have night classes, beside Ladd, but no final decision has been reached as to what ones will be used. It is understood that Albina Homestead and probably Vernon and Kenton will be among those chosen. According to John C. Veatch, prin-

Second Strawberries Ripen.

HOOD RIVER, Or., Sept. 20.—(Special.)—Oscar Vanderbilt is harvesting his second crop of strawberries. The second bloom of the vines has been as profuse as that of early Spring, and Mr. Vanderbilt is now presenting to his friends and neighbors baskets of the big, fuscious herries. "I produce the fruit by a system of fertilizing," he says. "I had a second crop last year, but not so many as this season.

f Our Dress Goods Hadn't Been Ordered Before the War

-Curtailed shipments, it would be utterly impossible to sell at the prices we're now quoting. Wool is becoming scarcer every day-great quantities are being woven into blankets for the soldiers. Mills that formerly turned out novelty materials are now making blankets as fast as possible. -Dye stuffs, too, are complicating matters. Dyes that formerly came from France and Germany in quantities have almost disappearedso altogether good woolen materials become rarer and rarer—and prices are advancing almost every day. -We offer these exceptionally good materials-many of them ordered before the war-at "before-the-war" prices.
