Sulphur Smoke Escapes From Fumi-gator, Disturbing Officials—Ital-ian Prisoner Knows Smell.

66 S THAT a cigar you're smoking, Deich?" queried Municipal Judge Stevenson about 5 o'clock yesterday "It is, and a good one," answered

Deputy District Attorney Delch. "Then what do I smell?" the magis trate asked of no one in particular. "Who's smoking doctored tobacco?" came from Public Defender Robinson as he bustled from his office at this functure. Municipal Court Clerk Crounse next appeared on the scene with a protest. Everyone was sniffing the pungent air and coughing.

On the third floor, in the Detective Bureau, a similar scene was enacted. "What is it?" asked Detective Sereant Joe Day, adding a few descripive adjectives to "it."

On the first floor, Captain Circle was sniffing about with a puzzled air, "We're in hell, Cap—I smell the sulphur." announced Deak Officer Niles. It was in jall, on the fifth floor of the Municipal building at Second and Oak that real transfer was expected.

The clothes of some of the prisoners taken to the city jail are often in a somewhat insanitary condition, and fumigation of the clothing is a daily occurrence. Yesterday afterneon the ventilator for the small room in which the pot of sulphur was burning became clogged up, and the odor soon seeped out into the corridors of the building. Don't Turn Your Back on Oregon

Oregon to Be Represented in Washington Encampment.

There is no greater absurdity than the practice of sending away for purchases. The next worse thing is to buy things that are not made in Oregon. The idea that there is nothing good enough in Oregon recalls that it is Oregon, the growth of Oregon, the dealers of Oregon, the enterprise of Oregon that give Oregonians their accumulations.

The practice of those who fail to give preference to the Oregon-made article, where all things are equal, is a monumental example of the ingratitude of those who turn their backs on the town and state that gave them their all.

Politz Right-Selling Plan

A New Business Policy That Means Much To Every Man and Young Man in Portland

- 1. All big end-season clearance sales will be discontinued.
- 2. All merchandise will be priced at marked reductions, which prices will prevail throughout the entire year.

These Points Brought About This Important Change

We believe that a man who buys a suit in March or September should receive just as much for his money as the man who buys in July or January. In other wordswhy should your friend come here one or two months after you buy a suit and get it for $5.00 or $10.00 less than you

It's not a fair deal for you—is it?

By discontinuing these unfair end-season clearance sales we can reduce the regular price of a suit materially. We can count on a small but certain amount of profit on each suit we sell, instead of having to add enough to make good our loss on suits sold during clearance sales.

This makes a fair deal for you and everyone.

This is the gist of the system we have adopted and we are sure it will be successful. The idea is right, and we know that every thinking man in Portland will think it's right. All prices will be marked in accordance with the new plan.

One level low price throughout the year.

We Will Be Glad to Show You Any Time That

A Message to Thin Weak Scrawny Folks

An Easy Way to Gain 10 to 30 Pounds of Thin, nervous, undeveloped men and wom-en everywhere are heard to say, "I can't understand why I do not get fat. I ent plenty of good nourishing food." The rea-son is just this. You cannot get fat, no mat-ter how much you eat, unless your digestive organs assimilate the fat-making elements of your food instead of passing them out through the body as waste.

What is needed is a means of gently urg-What is needed is a means of gently urging the assimilative functions of the stomach and intestines to absorb the oils and fats and hand them over to the blood, where they may reach the starved, shrunken, rundown tissues and build them up. The thin person's body is like a dry sponge—eager and hungry for the fatty materials of which it is being deprived by the failure of the alimentary canal to take them from the food. A splendid way of working to overcome this sinful waste of flesh building elements and to stop the leakage of fats is to come this sinful waste of flesh building elements and to stop the leakage of fats is to their wholesaler, and will refund your money

NOTE—Sargel is recommended only as a fiesh builder and while excellent results in cases of nervous indigestion, etc., have been reported, care should be taken about using it unless a gain of weight is desired,

Rheumatic

Surrenders to Anti-Kammia Tablets
In the treatment of Rheumatic Fever many physicians employ purgatives, but Dr. M. P. Creed thinks that a mildiagnative is better. When the patient is bilious he gives calomel in small doses, one-fifth of a grain every hour until a grain has been taken. Then after four hours he gives the patient a half ounce of citrate of magnesia, with syrup of lemon to disguise the taste, or he keeps the bowels open with the mild larative "Actoids." The diet should be light, and all animal food should be excluded as far as possible from the dictary. For the pain and fever he has found nothing equal to Anti-Kammia Tablets, giving two tablets every 2 to 3 hours as required. These tablets may be obtained from all druggists in any quantity desired.
