

DANIEL DISPLAY IS SCENE OF BEAUTY

Crowds Throng Auditorium When Doors Open on Second Annual Show.

EXHIBITS COME FROM AFAR

New England Has Fine Entry and Splendid Specimens Are Sent From Seattle and Other Cities on Coast.

Gorgeous and varied was the great display of dahlias that greeted the eager crowd that thronged the sixth floor of the Meier & Frank building yesterday, when the second annual National Dahlia Show was thrown open.

Exhibitors are showing a specialty of the new, beautiful and freak varieties, many of which have been developed during the past year. Oregon has been active in the propagation of the dahlia, and the florists of this state are noticeably in advance.

Local Exhibit Most Notable. Perhaps the most notable exhibit is a whole is that of the Gill Bros., who have two long tables completely covered with new and well-known varieties.

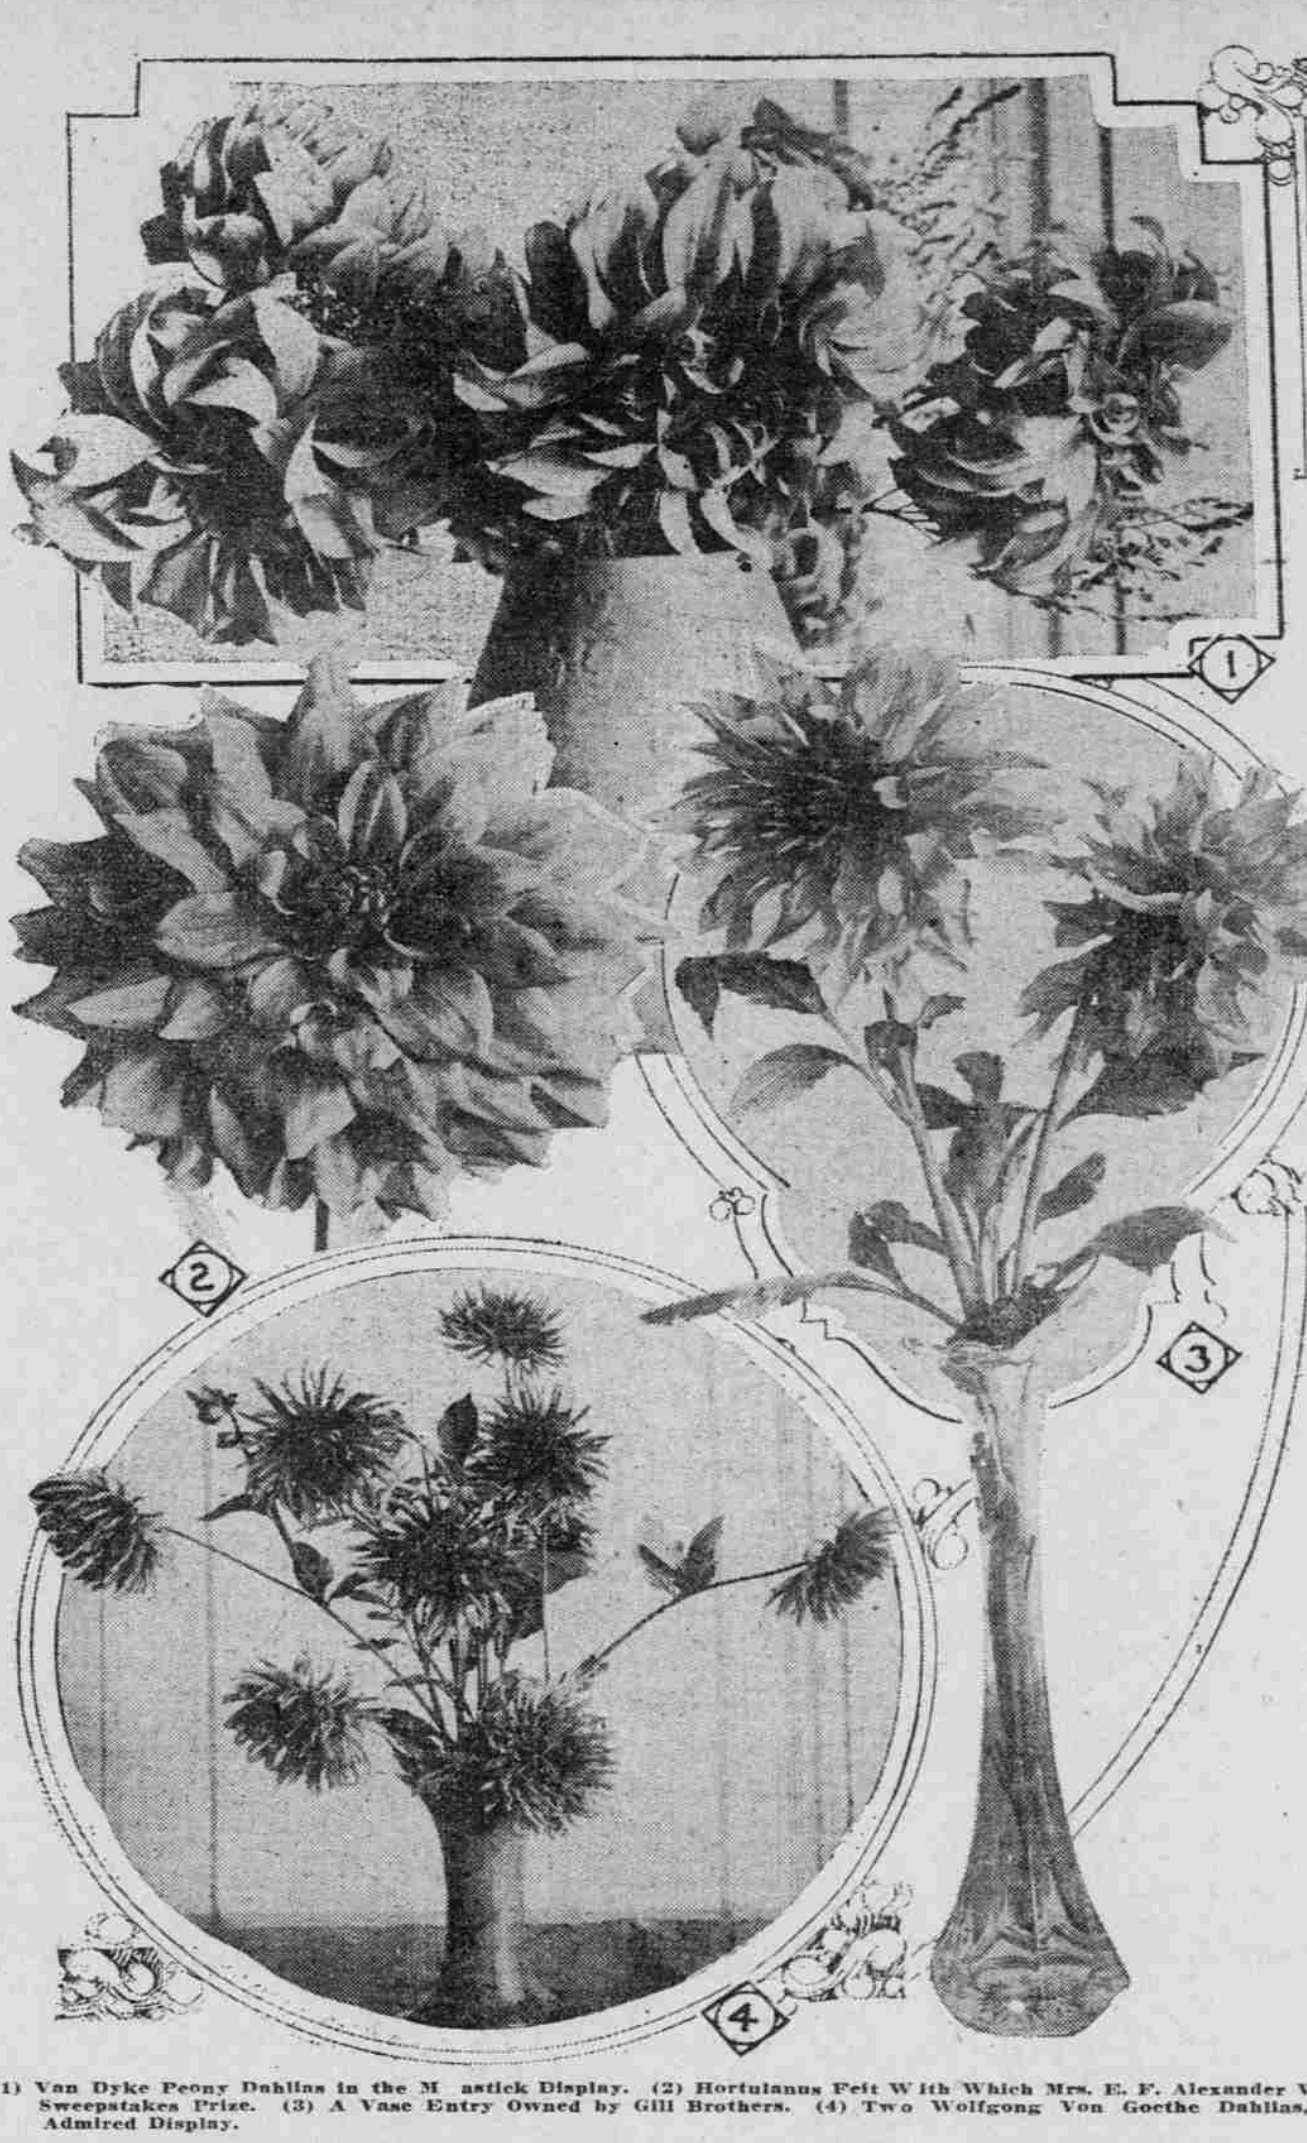

The Sunstar, a large yellow and crimson dahlia, is this year's product and is shown in the Spreadborough & Wagner exhibit, along with the yellow and salmon-pink Dr. Henry Sewell and the Dominant.

Amateur Exhibits Attractive. The amateur department was entered by a great number of amateurs and adults, who contributed to make an attractive part of the show.

On the sweepstakes table was a beautiful Geisha cactus dahlia, the largest flower in the whole show. This was raised by E. Watkins, Mrs. Helen Haddock, of Tacoma.

FACTS NEEDED

Montreal Harbor Official Advises Speedy Methods.

BIG FUTURE IS PREDICTED

Visitor Tells How Home Port, Farthest Inland of Any in World, Handled 10,000,000 Bushels of Cereal More Than New York.

Success attained in the development of Montreal as a port, though situated inland 200 miles from the sea, has been due only to the faith cherished that certain business could be obtained if facilities were provided, and that traffic would be attracted.

Last year was handled at Montreal 74,000,000 bushels of cereals, wheat and corn, and with only 64,000,000 bushels. Montreal did that much business in seven months, as the Lawrence and Blacklock canals are virtually months of the year.

Need of Facilities Is Shown. Mr. Ross recalled to his hearers the fact Montreal was the farthest inland seaport in the world and he said that while there was 20 feet of water available between there and the sea, dredging was being carried on to increase the depth to 25 feet.

At Montreal and vicinity he said $20,000,000 had been voted for improvements, $10,000,000 additional was to be spent by Halifax taxpayers and $5,000,000 by the province, and $5,000,000 by the city.

Referring to grain storage facilities at Montreal, he said 1,500,000 bushels could be stored and that a project now under way would increase the total by 1,000,000 bushels. He said that the possible economies were being practiced in handling shipping business there, rapid and satisfactory dispatch being insisted on so that in spite of the delay in the port from the ocean, the elimination of delays in the movement of vessels and cargo gave Montreal its prestige.

CHAMBER MEMBERSHIP IMPROVES

Mr. La Belle said he was impressed with the membership of the Chamber of Commerce and the revenue made available for its work and that a committee had been voted for and that an assembling such a personage under the banner of the Chamber of Commerce was certainly getting ready to do some things for the city.

BREAKWATER MAY LAY UP

Southern Pacific Has Not Decided Future of Coos Bay Liner. Reports that the steamer Breakwater is to be withdrawn from the Portland Coos Bay route, which are prevalent here, are not correct, according to officials of the Southern Pacific, who say that as far as they know no decision has been reached as to whether repairs will be completed to the vessel and she returned to service, or if she will remain idle.

DEATH OF FISHERMEN PROBED

Inspectors Hear Evidence From Crews of 3 Vessels on Accident. In an endeavor to fix responsibility for the drowning of two fishermen named Johnson and Lindgren, the night of August 18, near Caples, on the Columbia River, United States Steamboat Inspectors Edwards and Fuller held a session all of yesterday, and it will be continued at 1 o'clock this afternoon.
