Portland and Chicago over the lines of the O.-W. R. & N. Company and the Milwaukee system will be inaugurated soon after Occober 15.

At the same time, the service now in effect whereby the Milwaukee handles the O.-W. R. & N. Company's trains No. 4 and 5 between Omaha and Chicago will be discontinued. It is probable that those trains will be handled east of Omaha by the Chicago & Northwestern system, which also handles the O.-W. R. & N. Company's No. 17 and 18 between Omaha and Chicago.

Negotiations providing these changes Negotiations providing these changes have been in progress for the last few weeks and just have been carried to a successful conclusion by traffic offi-cials representing the two interested lines at Chicago.

In this connection, it is reported that negotiations now are in progress between officials of the Union Pacific system—of which system the O.-W. R. & N. the following morning.

The same equipment will be carried on the west bound "Columbian," connecting at Spokane with the O.-W. R. & N. Company's train arriving in Portland in the morning. Under the present schedules, the Milwaukee train arrives the Schwing from the Fest one hour the new route.

Ever since the Milwaukee system started its transcontinental service be tween Puget Sound and Chicago morthan four years ago, its traffic offi-cials have been eager to establish this through passenger service via Spokane The Union, in exercising its control over the O.-W. Company, de-effned to enter into such an agreement on the grounds that it would be shorthauling itself, by routing passengers between Portland and Spokane instead of between Portland and Omaha,
