fair business for the coast lines now and full cargoes are the rule. The Bear left here yesterday with 2550 tons, and she was to have taken on 90 tons at Astoria, giving her a total of 2640 tons, which is close to the cargo han-died by the Beaver on her last voy-age from here, which totaled 2700 tons and was the largest handled 2:00 tons and was the largest handled from Portland coastwise in a number of months. The Bear departed with 2:10 passengers. The Beaver, arriving at 1:50 o'clock yesterday afternoon, brought 180 passengers and 1000 tons of cargo. The freight movement from the south also the exhibiting greater life. Chief English freight movement from the south also is exhibiting greater life. Chief Engineer Townsend, of the Beaver, is on his annual leave in California, and Chief Engineer Hansen, whose regular berth is aboard the Bear as first assistant, is in charge of the engine-room, Captain Mason reported a smooth voyage with fine Ceather and nothing out of the ordinary happening.

Another San Francisco vessel to arrive was the Santa Clara, of the North Pacific fleet, which departs tonight for the Golden Gate, calling at Marshfield and Eureka. She will have a full passenger list and every pound of freight that can be accommodated. The vessel is one day late getting away because

That ships held at either end of the Panama Canal would start through October I was welcome news received yesterday by G. M. McDowell, Portland agent for W. R. Grace & Co., the information originating at Grace & Co. as agency in the Canal zone and was transmitted via the San Francisco office.

There are said to be a number of wessels held at the east entrance and some on the Paclific side of the big waterway. At first it is assumed that those with the least draft will be started past the slide, though as far as possible it is expected the Canal officials will order whips to move according to the time they arrived at the entrance. It was felt here that the plane will recomble might continue sufficiently long to detain seriously steamers coming here for grain cargoes, but if the ment.

Transportaion for Another Cargo to England Is Arranged.

Speculation by the marine fraternity a to the next vessel to be loaded at t. Helens with ties for the United Kingdom was set at rest yesterday by the charter of the British steam Prophet by the Pacific Export Lumber Company. The vessel is to load approximately 2,500,000 feet and is looked for soon after October 15, being at present held at the eastern entrance to the Panama Canal on her way from Halifax. There will be more railroad material moved from the river before January 1, as there is an active demand for it on the other side, the one drawback being the difficulty met with in obtaining tonnage.

The barkentine Puako was towed seaward from Westport yesterday by the tug Wallula, carrying about 1,490,-900 feet of lumber for Melbourne and the last of the week the barkentine with a full load for Sydney,

DOCK BUDGET IS ADOPTED

Commission Provides for Draftsman and Field Inspection.

Formal adoption of the budget for 1916, including an item of $2850 that was not decided Tuesday, took place at a meeting of the Commission of Public Docks at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The $2850 provides for the retention of a chief draftsman at $175 a month, which has been done since the engineering force of the commission was organized, and $750 was alion was organized, and $750 was al lowed for field inspection work during the year. Commissioner Ben Selling, who was absent Monday, said yesterday that he favored acting on the recommendation of Chief Engineer Hegardt and cast his vote for the item. Commissioners Burgard and Moores had voted for the $2850 being included Tuesday, but Com-missioners Mulkey and Kellaher were opposed. The total of the hudget is now $210,491.77 and will be filed with the Council Monday the Council Monday.

Dakotan Arrives After Being Delayed Week by Culebra Slide.

One American-Hawaiian liner having Portland cargo aboard is known to be held at the Panama Canal, the Iowan, which left New York September 18, but so far as other vessels of the line for Portland are concerned there has been information forwarded that The Dakotan, Captain Frank Curtis,

The Dakotan, Captain Frank Curtis, which is on her first trip to Portland began discharging at Albers dock yesterday. She had a total of 2318 tons of cargo. The vessel was delayed a week because of slide trouble at Culebra cut and a large fleet was held during that time. The Dakotan is to sail light this trip, there being no cargo ready here for Charleston, for which port she is to steam from Fuget Sound, calling at San Francisco to finish loading.

will have been covered of activity in that line. Dealers report that Californians are not buying heavily, and that only normal business is being done.

The steamer Bear, sailing yesterday morning, had aboard 1400 tons of the cereal, and on the Geo. W. Elder, dispatched last night, were several hundred tons, her entire cargo being 1400 tons, of which wheat, flour, millfeed and oats were the principal items. There is a concerted protest against the change and several of the Portland wholesale men have indicated they will go to the Railroad Commission with their troubles.

is being piled high with freight.

Among the latest advertising issued by the American-Hawalian line is a set of 15 colored views of liners going through the Panama Canal, they being on a perforated sheet with the back mucliaged.

It is reported from San Francisco that the Great Northern Pacific Steamship Company will have the support of hotel operators, promotion organizations and other interests for massenger business at Honolulu, if the turbiner Great Northern is placed in service between there and the Coast, but that no guarantees of freight were obtained.

In tow of the steamer Ocklahama, the French bark Dupleix, laden with barley and wheat, left down shortly before mon yearterday.

Bound for San Francisco, the Arrow line steamer Daley Gadeby got away last night, carrying grain and lumber.

James Coilis, in charge of barge No. 23, which was in tow of the steamer Daniel Kern the night of August 16, when the stamer Pronto is alleged to have run down two men in a small boat, testiffed before United States inspectors Edwards and Fuller yesterday regarding efforts made to locate the men. The case is to be finished Monday.

In ballast the steamer Yosemite was cleared yesterday for Hoquism. The steamer Clympic was cleared for San Pedro with a umber cargo measuring 750,000 feet. United States Steamboat Inspectors Ed-wards and Fuller have ordered the inspec-tion today of the propellers Cruiser and Liberty.
