

NIGHT SCHOOLS ARE READY FOR OPENING

Foreigners and Working People Are to Enroll for Studies Tonight.

CARE FOR ALIENS SHOWN

Course to Include Fundamentals of English and Teaching of Responsibilities of Citizenship; Business Is Feature, Too.

PORTLAND NIGHT SCHOOLS OPEN TONIGHT AT 7 O'CLOCK.

Instruction will be given in the following schools every Monday, Wednesday and Friday nights from 7 until 9 o'clock:

Lincoln High, Park and Market; Jefferson High, Emory and Kirby; Ladd, West Park and Jefferson; St. Johns; Shattuck, Park and College; Albina Home-wood, Beach and Mallory; Sellwood, East Fifteenth and Umattilla; Arleta, East Sixty-fourth street and Fifteenth avenue, South-east; Montclair, West Park and Sixth and East Pine; Benson Polytechnic, girls, Pouricent and Morrison; boys, Eleventh and Davis.

Two potent facts are noted in the outline of the proposed work that will be inaugurated in the Portland night schools tonight. They are the furnishing of a practical education that will meet the needs of the working classes that are unable to take advantage of the day schools, and the impressing upon the minds of foreigners who enroll that they have a distinct and responsible duty when they contemplate becoming American citizens.

J. W. Huff, principal of the Jefferson High Night School, is a practicing lawyer and has also had wide experience as an educator.

John C. Vetch, principal of the Lincoln High Night School, is an attorney and also an ex-member of the faculty of the Washington High School.

David Moesssohn, who will have charge of the Shattuck school, where the special instruction for foreigners will be centralized as far as practicable, is also practicing law and was last year the principal of the Arleta night school.

A distinct course of study has been designed by Mr. Moesssohn to care for the foreigners who enroll, and particular attention will be paid to individual help. Eight teachers will assist him. The course will include fundamentals of the English language, how to write and speak it, and be impressed with the responsibilities devolving on American citizens.

Phonetic Method to Be Used.

The first year reading, by the phonetic method, writing, spelling and arithmetic, if desired, will be offered, and this will be a distinct course on United States history and civics government.

The first year's work will be advanced during the second year, and in addition American history will be taught with the use of an elementary textbook. The construction of English grammar will be an additional subject.

A textbook will be used in the third year in civics and American history will be on the schedule.

A detailed study of American institutions, with stress laid on the Oregon system, will be offered.

Instruction to foreigners will be given in other schools and much the same schemes will be followed. In the St. Johns High School building foreigners will receive special instruction.

The St. Johns school also will be used as a center and on Tuesday and Thursday nights in the auditorium meetings will be held. Home economics, better law enforcement, and other things of interest to the public school system, better citizenship and many other social, industrial and political issues will be discussed at these meetings.

Business Course Offered.

A special business course has been designed especially for the department store clerks, and will be offered at the old Lincoln High School, near Morrison and Morrison streets. The course includes instruction in English, arithmetic and salesmanship.

Dillon and King are back in their famous characters of Mike and Ike, the Irishman and the Jew, and, with the other principals in their company, they have the 14 pretty "Ginger Girls" to add attraction to their productions. Dillon and King have always been known for good, clean character studies, and their return is welcomed.

PORK DECLARED UNFIT

ADVENTIST EVANGELIST ADVISES VEGETABLE DIET.

God Gave Man Fruit and Grains, Says Rev. Mr. Hayward—Characteristics Produced by Food.

Dropping into slang, Evangelist Hayward, of the Seventh Day Adventist church, last night exhorted his audience to a vegetable diet and total abstinence where meat is concerned, in his lecture at the Knights of Pythias Hall.

"Cut out the porkchops, the spareribs and oysters," he said, "as well as the snails, frogs, clams and fish without scales such as halibut and all other things which the Lord pronounced unfit for food."

The Seventh Day Adventists have for these many years preached that it was better to eat flesh food and that flesh food was not only unnecessary but a positive detriment to health. But created man and beast, ought to know what is good for them. He gave man the fruit and grains and only after the flood permitted him to eat flesh, but he was very particular to instruct him which was clean and which unclean. Some people think that this advice was for the Jews only, but they forget that the Lord made a distinction between clean and unclean foods long before He permitted him to eat flesh, but he was very particular to instruct him which was clean and which unclean. Some people think that this advice was for the Jews only, but they forget that the Lord made a distinction between clean and unclean foods long before He permitted him to eat flesh, but he was very particular to instruct him which was clean and which unclean.

OREGON DAIRYMAN EXCELS

Corvallis Graduate Takes First Place at Utah Fair.

According to an article in the Deseret Evening News of September 26, published at Salt Lake City, Roger W. Jessup, a former student at the Oregon Agricultural College, and a graduate of that institution in the class of 1913, won the first prize in the milk-scoring contest at the Utah State Fair in the market milk class.

Mr. Jessup is manager of the Jessup Dairy, of Salt Lake, and the prize that went with his high score of 97.55 was the state prize and a handsome silver trophy 25 inches in height, valued at $50, the gift of the Zion Savings Bank.

The scoring was done at the University of Utah, but under the State Fair programme.

WAR FILM AT HELIG DRAWS

Impressive Views of Battles and Burning of Cities Shown.

The return of the motion pictures of the great European war, which were shown here a short time ago, has aroused the same interest that was apparent when they first appeared and the patronage at the Helig, where they are being shown, was very liberal, especially at the night show.

"The films give not only the German side of the military operations, but also part of the French side, for some of the films used were captured from a French operator in Belgium and were incorporated into the general set of reels."
