NEARLY ALL STARS SEEK NEW HONORS

Ty Cobb, Though Yet Pitching Aspirant, Regrets Effects of Efforts on His Arm.

PLEASURE FOUND IN BOX

Brickley, Harvard Football Star, "Doesn't Like Game Much" but Play on Diamond Is His Favorite Despite Inability.

BY CHRISTY MATHEWSON.

NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—(Special.)—
The stars in every profession and position seem to want to be stars in another field. This tendency crops out strongest in sports. For instance, Ty Cobb has always longed to be a pitcher, and this simbition to a certain small extent has impaired his usefulness as an outfielder. It hurt his arm. I believe Ty would have the best "souper" among the outfielders today if it had not been for this lurking pitching ambition.

Three or four seasons back the regu-lar fan could see Cobb almost any day pefore the game warming up with an extra catcher and trying to throw curves. Once in a while in a practice content to the cont work in the box. This pleased him minimensely.

"I have always wanted to be a twirler," he confided in me once. "A man has so much better chance to use his head when he is the label better that the christy Mathewson ambitton, although he has cut out warming up in practice and attempting to bend them. In fact, he dropped a fly in the Yale-In fact, he dropped a fly in the Yale-Haryard game at the polo grounds with three on, but that is no reason for grave criticism. Brickley was play-ing the worst punfield in the league that day and wearing smoked glasses for the first time. He did not try to alibi himself afterwards for the error, either, which shows he would never be a big leaguer, Dressing in the club-house, he said:

every time the White Sex have played. You take the run of high-class players, and they have been trying harder in this race than I have ever seen ball-players try before. And it has been a year of hard work, too. Because a few of the lesser boys may have been inclined to lie down on account of their contracts is no reason why the charge should be made generally against all men in the game.

Ed Walsh is one man who gave miskey all he carried. Ty Cebb has not missed a game this season, and it is his ambition to finish with a clean record. As far as I know, "Eddie" Collins has been on the job knew; time the White Sox have played. Mrs. U. I.

This furnished evidence of the most incriminating character.

Wagner was fined $100 and costs and given a 20-day jull sentence. White with fear, he arose from his seat to explain the necessity of going on with the barebuilt team of which he is a member. It was finally agreed to suspend the jull sentence, and Chicago Chicago to the seat of the surphished to him that it was all a joke. He laughed and made a graceful speech. The best part of the story ites in the fact that Wanner was a game warden for five years at his home.

Lee weigns only 185 pounds, but is reputed to be fast as lightning. He was tried out with the second team, and, while new to the game, he appeared apt in learning and it is being predicted that he may break into the lineup before the end of the season.

Mordecal Brown did not fare so well. He could be a star in the big leagues yet if he had nursed his strength and had not spent it lavishly to put a fortune into the pocket of Charles Murphy.

Mith the game with Butte School of Mines coming up Saturday and the realization that the Gonzaga team of 1914 beat that institution 66 to 9 a year ago, a severe task is now confronting Coach Coyle. He must entirely reconstruct his backfield and he has only five days to do it. He will be lucky to make one-third the score of last year.

Mitchel and Jones, of the three-time Everett High School state champions, are expected to renroll tomorrow, which may greatly relieve Coyle's backfield problem.
